Doctor Gives Testimony In 'Mercy Killing'

Dr. Sander Tells Jury He Believed Woman Was Dead

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

MANCHESTER, N. H., March 6.—Dr. Hermann N. Sander, testifying for his freedom and reputation, said today it was his opinion Mrs. Abbie C. Borroto was dead when he injected air into her veins.

The handsome 41year-old physician, standing quietly in the witness box at his trial for the alleged mercy-killing of the cancer sufferer, was led to the climatic point of his story by the patient questioning of Attorney Ralph E. Langdell.

No Intent To Kill

"I never had intent to kill Mrs. Borroto," Dr. Sander dramatically declared as he described the scene at Mrs. Borroto's bedside on the morning of December 4 last.

Asked what was his opinion of the condition of Mrs. Borroto when he was examining her prior to giving her the air injection, Dr. Sander said in a loud, clear voice:

"It was my opinion that she was dead."

Telling why he gave the air injection, Dr. Sander said:

"I can't explain. I looked at her face, and something came over me. Something snapped, something happened in me. Why I did it I can't tell. It didn't make sense."

"Did you intend to kill Mrs. Borroto?" asked Langdell.

Tells of Day

On December 4—the day of Mrs. Boroto's death—Sander said he arrived at the Hillsborough County General hospital "sometime after 10 a. m.

He had been at the hospital for hours the night before, with Reginald Borroto, the worried husband of the cancer victim. The doctor had given her drugs the night be-

Two-Year Pact Sends Miners Back To Work

Lewis And Operators Sign Agreement Late Sunday Afternoon

By JOHN BOOTH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The nation's soft coal miners started back to work today under a new two-year contract that gives them $1.30 more per day and will cost the coal industry an estimated $300,000,000 annually.

Some coal production will start immediately, but most of the 370,000 soft coal miners will not actually return to the mines until tomorrow, after they have received official notification of the new contract.

On Five-Day Week

The agreement covers the entire bituminous coal industry, and puts the miners back to work on a five-day week. In a surprise move yesterday southern operators joined northern and western coal interests in the bargaining and signed the new pact.

Peace came in the coal dispute just 50 hours after President Truman asked congress for power to seize and operate the coal mines. Mr. Truman withdrew his request when it became apparent settlement would be reached.

United Mine Workers President John L. Lewis immediately wired his lieutenants in the field that "a new contract has been approved by the policy committee and executed by the coal operators. All miners will resume work."

To Increase Coal Cost

An operators' spokesman estimated the new contract will increase the cost of coal about 25 cents a ton and said that this added cost will have to be passed along to the consumer. Another operators said the annual cost increase would be $300,000,000.

Plans immediately got underway to put the nation's 72,000 hard coal miners under a similar pact.

The anthracite negotiations, which have been underway for several weeks in New York City, will be moved to Washington.

King George Opens New Session Of Parliament

Only 'Limited Program Of Legislation' Is Proposed For Present Session Of Parliament

By CHARLES A. SMITH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, March 6.—King George VI formally opened Britain's new parliament today and proposed a mild "limited program of leigslation in behalf of the Labor government, which was returned to power by a paper-thin margin.

The king made no reference to nationalization of steel or other socialistic measures which would meet vigorous challenges from Winston Churchill and his conservative opposition.

The king declared, however, that the government does not intend to permit its slight majority to inhibit action if the national needs so dictate.

Key Portions of Speech

The speech, outlined by the Labor government, declared in key portions:

"In view of the restricted time available and the heavy volume of financial business to be transacted by my government, I propose only a limited program of legislation for the present session.

"Nevertheless, should other measures prove in their view to be immediately necessary for the maintenance of full employment

New Wave Of Strikes Grips France Today

Premier Announces That He Will Ask Vote Of Confidence

By JOHN E. LEE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, March 6.—A new wave of paralyzing strikes gripped France today and Premier Georges Bidault announced he will ask for a confidence vote on the anti-sabotage bill blocked in the National Assembly by fist-swinging and filibustering Communist deputies.

The problems of the French government, already threatened by a strike of some 400,000 automobile, metal, textile, building and airport workers, were further complicated by the walkout this morning of 15,000 Paris transit workers—a strike which spread to the provinces.

Premier Bidault risked the tenure of his government on the bill to safeguard delivery of U. S. mili-

Truman Will Go To Florida For Vacation

WASHINGTON, March 6—(INS)—The White House announced today that President Truman will leave Washington next Sunday aboard the yacht Williamsburg for a three-week vacation in Florida.

Mr. Truman, accompanied by members of his staff, will be at sea for four days. The Williamsburg is scheduled to arrive Thursday, March 16, at Key West where the President will spend his vacation.

To Leave Sunday

The President will leave aboard the Williamsburg from the naval gun factory Sunday morning around 10 o'clock. He is due in Key West at 8 a. m. the following Thursday.

No stops are contemplated en route. The President will sail down the Potomac and Chesapeake Bay, entering the ocean through the Virginia capes, and around the tip of Florida to bring him to the southernmost of the Florida Keys.

The President is expected to return to Washington by plane. His four-engine special transport, the Independence, will stand by at Key West later in the month for the return flight to Washington.

Unless conditions force his return earlier, he probably will be in Florida for three weeks.

Police Broadcasting Permit Is Issued

Federal communications system has granted a permit to the city to install a three-way broadcasting station in the police bureau.

His recommendation carried.

Youth Freed From Asylum; Slays Four; Wounds Three

By DAVID K. BOYNICK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, March 6.—A slim 19-year-old youth released only five days ago from a hospital for the criminally insane ranged three Brooklyn blocks with a stolen carving knife yesterday stabbed four men to death and wounded three others.

The killer, William Jones, a five-foot, seven-inch negro, was finally subdued in a battle with two radio policemen who pounded him into submission with their gun butts.

Jones was charged with homicide at police headquarters and taken in a straitjacket to the prison ward of Kings County hospital.

He refused to answer questions and gave no sign of recognizing his mother, Rose, who was summoned to the police station during his examination.

He walked quietly along two blocks on Fourth avenue and one on Warren street in Brooklyn in dark trousers and a blue shirt,

Yvette Madsen Goes On Trial

FRANKFURT, March 6—(INS)—Beautiful Brooklyn-born Yvette Madsen pleaded innocent today on grounds of temporary insanity when she went on trial for the murder of her air force officer husband. She has admitted shooting Lt. Andrew Madsen because "he laughed at me."

The plea of not guilty was entered by the attorney for the 22-year-old housewife. She stared apathetically at a window and crossed her legs as Prosecutor Fred W. Johnson described the circumstances which led to the death of Madsen.

Wears Green Velvet Suit

Mrs. Hadsen, a dark-haired sculptress, wore a green velvet suit and black high-heeled sandals when she entered the court with Attorney Elmo Gower of Cumberland, Md.

She is being tried in U.S.S. District Court under German law which does not provide for the death penalty.

Mrs. Madsen, whose two children, Nancy, one and Dana, 4, were returned to the United States after her arrest, admitted to authorities she shot Madsen, 32, of Oakland, Calif., following a quarrel last October.

Former President Of France Is Dead

PARIS, March 6.—(INS)—Former French President Albert Lebrun died today at the age of 79. He had been ill with pneumonia for a month.

Born in the Moselle region of France and educated to be an engineer, Lebrun entered politics at an early age. He served as member of the chamber of deputies for several terms and then as senator and as minister in several cabinets.

Lebrun was elected president of the republic on May 10, 1932 and was re-elected in 1939. He served until France was invaded, defeated and occupied by the Germans.

Populist Party Leads In Greece

ATHENS, March 6—(INS)—Deputy Premier Constantine Tsaldaris' Populist party took the lead today in Greece's parliamentary election with more than half the votes counted.

Some million and a half of the two million eligible male voters participated in the quiet balloting yesterday despite bad weather.

The Populist party had 230,000 votes and the second-running Moderate Liberal Progressive party of Nicholas Plastiras rolled up 213,000 ballots.

The Liberal party of Sophocles Venizelos and the left-wing Democratic front ran third and fourth.

Noted Author Taken By Death

Sid Grauman Taken By Death

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., March 6.—(INS)—The film industry mourned today the passing of Sid Grauman, the little impresario who, perhaps more than any other man, made Hollywood and the movies gay, glamorous and sensational.

Grauman, the super-showman who created the famed Chinese and Egyptian theaters, died yesterday of coronary occlusion at the age of 70 in the Cedars of Lebanon hospital where he appeared to be recovering from a heart attack suffered last Feb. 22.

The white-haired veteran of the entertainment world was the originator of the custom of immortalizing movie stars with their hand and foot-prints in concrete in the forecourt of the Chinese theater.

At his bedside were his friend and physician, Dr. Myron Prinzmetal; his secretary, Gertrude Skall, and movie press agent Harry Brand.

Grauman suffered a relapse Saturday, and his condition steadily declined until the end.

Back to the mines this morning, back to get out the coal, and the miners claim that they won the strike, and again have achieved their goal. And maybe they reached their objective, it may well be that they won, but it seems to use as we view the scene, the win was a costly one. Workers in other lines furloughed, millions were lost to the mass, and a lot of folks won't get caught again, they're turning to oil or to gas. But it's back to the mine pits this morning, with coal car agains on their way, and furnaces brighten, and homes will be warm, it's bright 36 today.

Wears Green Velvet Suit

Mrs. Hadsen, a dark-haired sculptress, wore a green velvet suit and black high-heeled sandals when she entered the court with Attorney Elmo Gower of Cumberland, Md.

She is being tried in U.S.S. District Court under German law which does not provide for the death penalty.

Mrs. Madsen, whose two children, Nancy, one and Dana, 4, were returned to the United States after her arrest, admitted to authorities she shot Madsen, 32, of Oakland, Calif., following a quarrel last October.

Sid Grauman Taken By Death

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., March 6.—(INS)—The film industry mourned today the passing of Sid Grauman, the little impresario who, perhaps more than any other man, made Hollywood and the movies gay, glamorous and sensational.

Grauman, the super-showman who created the famed Chinese and Egyptian theaters, died yesterday of coronary occlusion at the age of 70 in the Cedars of Lebanon hospital where he appeared to be recovering from a heart attack suffered last Feb. 22.

The white-haired veteran of the entertainment world was the originator of the custom of immortalizing movie stars with their hand and foot-prints in concrete in the forecourt of the Chinese theater.

At his bedside were his friend and physician, Dr. Myron Prinzmetal; his secretary, Gertrude Skall, and movie press agent Harry Brand.

Fireman Killed And Conductor Injured In Freight Wreck

PLYMOUTH, Ind., March 6.—(INS)—A railroad fireman was killed today and a conductor was injured when a west-bound freight of the Pennsylvania Railroad rammed into a standing freight about one mile east of Plymouth.

Railroad officials identified the dead fireman as J. H. Hartman of Fort Wayne, Ind. The name of the injured conductor was not announced. Hartman and the conductor were crew members of the speeding freight.

Wrecking crews were rushed to the scene and used acetylene torches in an effort to extricate Hartman's body which was pinned under the wreckage.

The right-of-way was strewn with wreckage, and passenger trains from the east to Chicago were expected to be one to three hours late.

GRASS FIRE

Neshannock Township Volunteer Fire Department was called to the Pulaski road district, Sunday afternoon at one o'clock, to fight a grass fire, which threatened quite an area.

Populist Party Leads In Greece

ATHENS, March 6—(INS)—Deputy Premier Constantine Tsaldaris' Populist party took the lead today in Greece's parliamentary election with more than half the votes counted.

Some million and a half of the two million eligible male voters participated in the quiet balloting yesterday despite bad weather.

The Populist party had 230,000 votes and the second-running Moderate Liberal Progressive party of Nicholas Plastiras rolled up 213,000 ballots.

The Liberal party of Sophocles Venizelos and the left-wing Democratic front ran third and fourth.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Mild weather that developed over the weekend ended the period of skating that had been enjoyed for several days, and may mark the end of such winter sport for the season. Temperature on Sunday got as high as the lower fifties.

Location of the new parsonage to be erected by the First United Presbyterian congregation, near the church on Clenmore boulevard, has been staked out, indicating that work of construction will shortly be under way.

New Wilmington to Mercer highway south to the New Castle-Sharon road intersection, is also badly in need of resurfacing.

* * *

Numerous auto drivers of this area are using a new route to Pittsburgh since the Butler route from Dixie Inn has been opened. They drive to Butler over the new highway and then into Pittsburgh over a three-lane highway from Butler. The route is a little longer but traffic conditions are not so complicated as other routes, Pa Newc is told.

Pa Newc notes that some caretakers are already a work putting lawns in condition for spring.

The winter weather has apparently been hard on city street surfaces and considerable repair work will be needed this spring, it is noted.

It will be located on Scotland Lane.

Firemen Launch Fund Campaign

Union Township Will Seek Building Funds

Union Township volunteer firemen opened their $30,000 building fund campaign with a "kickoff" dinner Saturday evening in the Union Township high school.

The firemen displayed an architects' model of the new fire hall and civic center which is to be erected at Scotland Lane. Scale for the model was drawn by W. G. Eckles Architect company, while Gerald Allison and James Forsythe, Jr., of the Pennsylvania Power company constructed the model fire hall and center.

Jones Is M. C.

Jack Jones served as master of ceremonies for the event which attracted county and city officials. L. F. Hemenway, president of the fire company, explained the plans of the department as the funds are received by the fire company.

He announced that $10 blocks would be sold to residents of the township. Canvassers were named and equipment passed out. The men will "work" the entire township in the next few weeks seeking for building funds, cash and

Back to the mines this morning, back to get out the coal, and the miners claim that they won the strike, and again have achieved their goal. And maybe they reached their objective, it may well be that they won, but it seems to use as we view the scene, the win was a costly one. Workers in other lines furloughed, millions were lost to the mass, and a lot of folks won't get caught again, they're turning to oil or to gas. But it's back to the mine pits this morning, with coal car agains on their way, and furnaces brighten, and homes will be warm, it's bright 36 today.

Asks Council About Public Housing For Colored People

Speaking for a committee, Dr. James A. Gillespie today inquired of council at a meeting in city hall the possibility of obtaining public housing for colored people.

He termed conditions among the lower paid class, as deplorable. He said that a survey showed 1,420 persons living in 1,430 rooms and many of the homes do not have inside lavatories, or furnaces.

He told council he had noted that some other cities of the same size as New Castle had houses erected by public authority.

Mayor John F. Haven told Dr. Gillespie that a project for 50 or more houses is soon to be started in the city.

The doctor replied that these homes will be for persons in the $2,200-$2,400 pay group.

Plan To Make Life Easier For New Mothers

WASHINGTON, March 6—(INS)—The District of Columbia Red Cross has started classes that will really make life easier for new mothers.

The Red Cross is following up its highly successful classes in baby care for expectant mothers with a similar course for expectant grandmothers.

This should make the care of the baby by mothers' mothers like the mothers' care, not like the care that the mothers' mothers gave the mothers.

First Warning

The first warning his victims had was the flash of the 14-inch knife which he had stolen earlier from a restaurant. As his victims dropped, Jones continued sauntering without giving them a second glance.

At Fourth avenue John Bondolato, 25, was waiting for a bus. Jones approache casually and slashed him across the back with the knife.

"Hey," the first victim call to an eyewitness, "did you see what that fellow did. He stabbed me in the back."

A bus came along and Bondolato got on. He went to Jewish hospital where his wound, not serious, was treated. The eyewitness, Gregory Marra, called police.

A short distance away James Culhane, 28, and Matthew Kennedy, 21, were wheeling babies in perambulators and talking.

Jones slouched up to them and demanded, "Do you know me. Do you recognize me?"

Attacks Continue

Culhane gave him an unrecognizing stare and turned to his companion. A second later the big knife was plunged twice into Kennedy's body and he slumped to the pavement. Culhane fled, pushing both carriages ahead of him. Kennedy was taken in critical condition to Methodist hospital.

Anjello Duso, 61, was the next victim. As they came to a meeting from opposite directions Jones drew the bloody knife and slashed him across the throat and abdomen. Duso died early today in Samaritan hospital.

Jones crossed the street where Frank St. George, 46, was staring incredulously at the fallen Duso on the opposite pavement. He whipped the knife across St. George's body and when an ambulance arrived he was dead.

Next Jones met James Yearns, 20, a neighbor. But the killer, giving no sign of recognition, slashed at him in a glancing blow. Yearns was attended at Holy Family hospital.

Slays Another

On Third avenue the slouching killer met John Gordon, 51. As they came abreast Jones swung his knife savagely and Gordon collapsed with a gaping wound in the chest. He died a few minutes later.

By this time a police radio car was following Jones' trial. The area was filled with tumult as people gathered around the dead and wounded and mothers herded their children indoors.

Almost at the moment that the radio car was rounding Third avenue Jones encountered his last victim, Jerome Sullivan, 51-year-old porter, who fell slashed in the throat and abdomen. Sullivan later died at Holy Family hospital.

Jones was released last Wednesday from the Matteawan State Hospital for Criminally Insane as cured.

Dr. John F. McNeill, superintendent of the upstate New York institution, expressed shock at the killings, saying, "I can't understand it. He was bright and happy when I told him goodbye last week. Something must have been bothering him but he gave no indication of it."

Jones was transferred to Matteawan from Coxsackie Reformatory on Dec. 23, 1948, after he went on a hunger strike when a parole board refused his freedom. He had been sentenced for purse snatching.

He was released from Matteawan in the custody of his mother.

TO STUDY TRAFFIC

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., March 6.—(INS)—Post war traffic problems posed by the ever-increasing number of trucks and automobiles will be discussed at Pennsylvania State college March 29-31.

Mrs. Byers Funeral

Funeral services for Mrs. James F. Byers, North Beaver township, were conducted Sunday at 2:30 p. m. from the W. S. Caskey funeral home with Rev. Homer Becker officiating. Rev. Willard George assisted in the services.

Two favorite selections of the deceased were sung by a quartet composed of Mrs. Harold Wallace, Miss Helen Hope, Verlyn Stearns and Paul Harriger, with Mrs. Willis Gwin as accompanist.

Robert, Raymond and James Byers, Lyle and Donald Felger, William Rowe and Delmer and Glenn Clark, grandsons of Mrs. Byers, served as pallbearers.

Thompson Funeral

Funeral services for George Lee Thompson, 915 Warren avenue, were conducted Sunday at 2:30 p. m., from the Howard L. Reynolds funeral home with Dr. J. Paul Graham officiating.

Carl, Ernest and Raymond Thompson and George, James and Hugh Huston served as pallbearers.

Burial took place in Oak Park cemetery.

In 1920, Mr. Thompson lost his left arm in saving the life of a fellow employe in the Carnegie steel mill. He had returned from overseas service with the AEF the year before and had returned to his work in the mill. A former Austrian soldier had come to this country and was working the mill also.

Unaccustomed to heavy machinery the Austrian became confused one afternoon and was caught in some moving parts. Seeing the man's danger Thompson rushed in, saved him, but in doing so had his left arm caught in some rolls.

For his heroism Thompson was awarded the Carnegie hero medal.

Mrs. Van Meter Funeral

Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret Moore Van Meter, of New Bedford, were conducted from the Hopewell Presbyterian church, New Bedford, Sunday at 2:30 p.m.

Rev. Oscar Whitacre was in charge of the services.

Pallbearers were: Claire Brown, Henry Chill, O. H. Rodgers, Leonard Dittmer, William Taylor and Clarence Neal.

Mrs. Mary Krasovec

Mrs. Mary Krasovec, aged 73 years, of R. D. 1, West Sunbury, Pa., died this morning at 6:10 o'clock, in the New Castle Hospital. She had been confined to the hospital for one week.

The body was returned to her home for burial.

Black Funeral

Funeral services for John Elmer Black, New Middletown, O., R.D. 1, were conducted Sunday at 2 p.m., from the Cunningham funeral home with Rev. C. A. Lang officiating.

John Sipe, Richard Wolfgang, Robert Bowman, Ralph and Clayton Black and Ellis Ramsey, grandchildren of the deceased, served as pallbearers.

Burial took place in Zion cemetery, New Middletown.

Mrs. Erace Funeral

Funeral services for Mrs. James Erace, of Culbertson Way, were conducted from the DeCarbo funeral home, Rev. Joseph Leichliter in charge. He also conducted services at the Greenwood cemetery.

Pallbearers were: Henry Rugh, Frank Osborne, Edward Yerage, Charles Yerage, Norman Sargent, and Ronald Sargent.

During services, Mary Lou Kildoo sang several selections.

Young Funeral

Funeral services for Clifford H. Young, St. Petersburg, Fla., were conducted Sunday at 2 p. m. from the R. L. Boyd funeral home with Rev. Robert H. Mayo, of First U.P. church, officiating.

Harry C. Dinsmore, J. Gerald Book, Albert H. Owens, Fred C. Duff, Fred Scheppele and Terry Carson served as pallbearers.

Interment took place in Forest Lawn cemetery, Youngstown.

McIntyre Funeral

Funeral services for Winfield Scott McIntyre were conducted privately at the graveside in Graceland cemetery Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Rev. T. C. Henderson was in charge of the services.

lard F. Rockwell, an industrialist whose interests are spread across the United States. Three of the industries in which he is interested, United Engineering, Standard Steel Spring and Bossert company, have plants here, and the dinner is an appreciation of New Castle for those plants being located in New Castle.

No Protracted Program

There will be no protracted speaking program at the dinner. Some remarks will precede Col. Rockwell's address, but his address will have the bulk of the program time.

There will be some entertainment features at the dinner, and the dinner itself will be good.

This is an opportunity for New Castle people to see and hear Col. Rockwell in his first public visit to the city.

The dinner is sponsored by the Greater New Castle association and the Economic and Business Foundation of New Wilmington. Service clubs of New Castle are co-operating.

At Fourth avenue John Bondolato, 25, was waiting for a bus. Jones approache casually and slashed him across the back with the knife.

"Hey," the first victim call to an eyewitness, "did you see what that fellow did. He stabbed me in the back."

A bus came along and Bondolato got on. He went to Jewish hospital where his wound, not serious, was treated. The eyewitness, Gregory Marra, called police.

A short distance away James Culhane, 28, and Matthew Kennedy, 21, were wheeling babies in perambulators and talking.

Jones slouched up to them and demanded, "Do you know me. Do you recognize me?"

Attacks Continue

Culhane gave him an unrecognizing stare and turned to his companion. A second later the big knife was plunged twice into Kennedy's body and he slumped to the pavement. Culhane fled, pushing both carriages ahead of him. Kennedy was taken in critical condition to Methodist hospital.

Anjello Duso, 61, was the next victim. As they came to a meeting from opposite directions Jones drew the bloody knife and slashed him across the throat and abdomen. Duso died early today in Samaritan hospital.

Jones crossed the street where Frank St. George, 46, was staring incredulously at the fallen Duso on the opposite pavement. He whipped the knife across St. George's body and when an ambulance arrived he was dead.

Next Jones met James Yearns, 20, a neighbor. But the killer, giving no sign of recognition, slashed at him in a glancing blow. Yearns was attended at Holy Family hospital.

Slays Another

On Third avenue the slouching killer met John Gordon, 51. As they came abreast Jones swung his knife savagely and Gordon collapsed with a gaping wound in the chest. He died a few minutes later.

By this time a police radio car was following Jones' trial. The area was filled with tumult as people gathered around the dead and wounded and mothers herded their children indoors.

Almost at the moment that the radio car was rounding Third avenue Jones encountered his last victim, Jerome Sullivan, 51-year-old porter, who fell slashed in the throat and abdomen. Sullivan later died at Holy Family hospital.

Jones was released last Wednesday from the Matteawan State Hospital for Criminally Insane as cured.

Dr. John F. McNeill, superintendent of the upstate New York institution, expressed shock at the killings, saying, "I can't understand it. He was bright and happy when I told him goodbye last week. Something must have been bothering him but he gave no indication of it."

Jones was transferred to Matteawan from Coxsackie Reformatory on Dec. 23, 1948, after he went on a hunger strike when a parole board refused his freedom. He had been sentenced for purse snatching.

He was released from Matteawan in the custody of his mother.

Louis Domenick

Louis Domenick, aged 74 years, of 230 South Liberty street, died at his home this morning at 9:55 o'clock, following a heart attack.

Mr. Domenick was born in Italy, July 12, 1875, son of Pasquale and Teresa Augustine Domenick. For 55 years he lived in America, residing in Mahoningtown, where he was a crossing watchman. He retired nine years ago. On March 15, 1950 he would have observed his 50th wedding anniversary. The deceased was a member of St. Lucy's church and Christopher Columbus Society.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Teresa Domenick and children: Mrs. Mary Castaldi, John, Joseph, Mrs. Eva Moran, William and Mrs. Margaret Yakopovich.

Surviving are a brother, Ralph Domenick; and sisters: Mrs. Philomena Russo, and Rose Naples; 10 grandchildren, and 10 great grandchildren.

Requiem mass will be offered Thursday at 9 a. m., in St. Lucy's church, Rev. Fr. Sebastian Ippolito in charge. Burial will be in St. Lucy's cemetery.

The body is at the DeCarbo funeral home, and will be taken to the residence Tuesday afternoon, where friends may call.

Harry Wimer

Harry Wimer, aged 69, Worth township, Butler county, R. D. 2, Slippery Rock, died at 10:15 p. m. Sunday following a long illness of a heart condition.

Born in Worth township, Butler county, February 13, 1881, he was a son of the late Peter and Ellen Fisher Wimer. He had resided his lifetime in Worth township and was a member of the Lower Zion Baptist church.

In addition to his wife, Fannie Leise Wimer, he is survived by one son, Ted Wimer, of Greensburg; a daughter, Margaret, at home; two brothers, Charles, of R. D. 2, Portersville and Ford of Wampum. One grandchild also survives.

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday at 1 p. m., from the Lower Zion Baptist church with Rev. Carl Jones officiating with burial in the church cemetery. The body will be taken to the church at noon Wednesday where it will lie in state until the hour of the funeral.

Friends will be received at the McClelland funeral home in Harlansburg Tuesday 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Mrs. Lolla McBride

Mrs. Lolla McBride, aged 80 years, died today at 3 a. m. in the Stunkard Nursing home, 703 West Washington street. She was in her usual health until two weeks ago. She was preceded in death in 1912 by her husband, William H. McBride.

Born in Pittsburgh, March 28, 1869, Mrs. McBride was a daughter of Jacob and Sara Herbel. Most of her married life was lived in New Castle. She formerly lived on Boyles avenue, residing there for 50 years.

Mrs. McBride was a member of Highland U. P. church and the Balph Bible class of that church. She was a charter member of the Wimodausis club, serving as financial secretary of that organization for 26 years.

Survivors are two children, Herb McBride, Detroit, Mich., and Mrs. Harold Boak, New Castle; two sisters, Mrs. Elda Doyle, Indianapolis, Ind., and Mrs. Lillian Ross, Detroit, and a nephew.

Two children, Thisbe and Leroy McBride, preceded her in death.

Dr. Jennings B. Reid, of Highland U. P. church, will conduct funeral services Wednesday at 2 p. m., from the R. L. Boyd funeral home, North Jefferson street, where friends may call today from 7 to 9 p. m. and the same hours Tuesday. Burial will take place in Oak Park cemetery.

Mrs. Byers Funeral

Funeral services for Mrs. James F. Byers, North Beaver township, were conducted Sunday at 2:30 p. m. from the W. S. Caskey funeral home with Rev. Homer Becker officiating. Rev. Willard George assisted in the services.

Two favorite selections of the deceased were sung by a quartet composed of Mrs. Harold Wallace, Miss Helen Hope, Verlyn Stearns and Paul Harriger, with Mrs. Willis Gwin as accompanist.

Robert, Raymond and James Byers, Lyle and Donald Felger, William Rowe and Delmer and Glenn Clark, grandsons of Mrs. Byers, served as pallbearers.

Thompson Funeral

Funeral services for George Lee Thompson, 915 Warren avenue, were conducted Sunday at 2:30 p. m., from the Howard L. Reynolds funeral home with Dr. J. Paul Graham officiating.

Carl, Ernest and Raymond Thompson and George, James and Hugh Huston served as pallbearers.

Burial took place in Oak Park cemetery.

In 1920, Mr. Thompson lost his left arm in saving the life of a fellow employe in the Carnegie steel mill. He had returned from overseas service with the AEF the year before and had returned to his work in the mill. A former Austrian soldier had come to this country and was working the mill also.

Unaccustomed to heavy machinery the Austrian became confused one afternoon and was caught in some moving parts. Seeing the man's danger Thompson rushed in, saved him, but in doing so had his left arm caught in some rolls.

For his heroism Thompson was awarded the Carnegie hero medal.

Mrs. Van Meter Funeral

Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret Moore Van Meter, of New Bedford, were conducted from the Hopewell Presbyterian church, New Bedford, Sunday at 2:30 p.m.

Rev. Oscar Whitacre was in charge of the services.

Pallbearers were: Claire Brown, Henry Chill, O. H. Rodgers, Leonard Dittmer, William Taylor and Clarence Neal.

Burial was in Hopewell cemetery.

Mrs. Mary Krasovec

Mrs. Mary Krasovec, aged 73 years, of R. D. 1, West Sunbury, Pa., died this morning at 6:10 o'clock, in the New Castle Hospital. She had been confined to the hospital for one week.

The body was returned to her home for burial.

Black Funeral

Funeral services for John Elmer Black, New Middletown, O., R.D. 1, were conducted Sunday at 2 p.m., from the Cunningham funeral home with Rev. C. A. Lang officiating.

John Sipe, Richard Wolfgang, Robert Bowman, Ralph and Clayton Black and Ellis Ramsey, grandchildren of the deceased, served as pallbearers.

Burial took place in Zion cemetery, New Middletown.

Mrs. Erace Funeral

Funeral services for Mrs. James Erace, of Culbertson Way, were conducted from the DeCarbo funeral home, Rev. Joseph Leichliter in charge. He also conducted services at the Greenwood cemetery.

Pallbearers were: Henry Rugh, Frank Osborne, Edward Yerage, Charles Yerage, Norman Sargent, and Ronald Sargent.

During services, Mary Lou Kildoo sang several selections.

Young Funeral

Funeral services for Clifford H. Young, St. Petersburg, Fla., were conducted Sunday at 2 p. m. from the R. L. Boyd funeral home with Rev. Robert H. Mayo, of First U.P. church, officiating.

Harry C. Dinsmore, J. Gerald Book, Albert H. Owens, Fred C. Duff, Fred Scheppele and Terry Carson served as pallbearers.

Interment took place in Forest Lawn cemetery, Youngstown.

McIntyre Funeral

Funeral services for Winfield Scott McIntyre were conducted privately at the graveside in Graceland cemetery Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Rev. T. C. Henderson was in charge of the services.

Mrs. A. Hartman Expires At Chicago

Mrs. Andy Hartman, 600 East 50th Place, Chicago, Ill., died Sunday morning after a long illness while en route to a Chicago hospital, according to a message received by local relatives. Mrs. Hartman, nee Edith Bender, was a former resident of New Castle.

Before moving to Chicago, she was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran church and the Eintracht club.

Survivors besides her husband are: one son, Richard Hartman, Chicago; two sisters, Mrs. Samuel Dawson and Mrs. Herman Steinbrink, both of this city, and three brothers, John Bender, Chicago; F. O. Bender, Cleveland, O., and George Bender, McAllen, Texas.

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday at 2 p. m. from the Front Areunddt funeral home, 1649 West 51st street, Chicago. Burial will take place in that city.

W. C. B. CLASS TO MEET

W. C. B. class of the Wesley Methodist church will meet with Mrs. Clara Matthews of 512 West Park way on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

DEADLINE ON DINNER TICKETS IS MIDNIGHT

lard F. Rockwell, an industrialist whose interests are spread across the United States. Three of the industries in which he is interested, United Engineering, Standard Steel Spring and Bossert company, have plants here, and the dinner is an appreciation of New Castle for those plants being located in New Castle.

No Protracted Program

There will be no protracted speaking program at the dinner. Some remarks will precede Col. Rockwell's address, but his address will have the bulk of the program time.

There will be some entertainment features at the dinner, and the dinner itself will be good.

This is an opportunity for New Castle people to see and hear Col. Rockwell in his first public visit to the city.

The dinner is sponsored by the Greater New Castle association and the Economic and Business Foundation of New Wilmington. Service clubs of New Castle are co-operating.

D.A.R. MEMBERS HEAR COLLEGE GROUP

A beautiful winter day added pleasure to the March meeting, of Lawrence Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution, held Saturday afternoon in the ball room of the Castleton Hotel. Regent, Mrs. H. E. Golder presided, and the customary ritual was followed. During the business meeting, several projects were listed for action at a future date.

Interest in Saturday's meeting centered in the production of the playlet, entitled "The Silver Cord", by Sidney Howard, enacted by a group of students of the senior class of Westminster college. Seats for the audience were arranged in a circle to emphasize the centralized staging, illustrating the trend of modern theatres to stress acting without the aid of scenery.

The portrayal of a neurotic widow, whose selfish affection for her two sons supercedes all their desires for a normal life and imposes unbearable conditions on her daughter-in-law, developed a remarkable display of histrionic ability by all those taking part. The three-act play provided a thoroughly enjoyable entertainment.

The players were Barbara Downie, June Graham, Dodie Snyder, William Mullen, and Frank Ruth. They were ably assisted by Marian Bartlett.

Forsythia blossoms centered the tea-table from which delectable refreshments were served. Hostesses were: Mrs. James Moorehead, Mrs. John Bigler, Miss Katharine Foulke, Mrs. James R. Mead, Miss Garnet M. Rhodes, Mrs. S. A. Weinschenk, Mrs. Thomas Allen, Mrs. Fred Clemens, Mrs. J. O. Huston, Miss Belle Offutt and Mrs. F. E. Sowersby.

Ki-Nu Club To Meet

Mrs. George Kennedy of Edison avenue, will receive members of the 1926 Ki-Nu club at her home on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

ANCLA MEMBERS ENJOY DINNER

Members of the Ancla class of Croton Methodist Bible school enjoyed a progressive party recently. Armed with baskets, the girls gathered at the church, going first to the home of Marjorie Russell, Highland avenue, where each was served one item of lunch from a prepared menu. Taking this item in their bakets, they journeyed to the home of Lois Tinstman, Pearson street, where they were each given something different. During the evening each girl's home was visitd, a certain kind of food being served at each place.

The party ended at the home of Jeanne Wilson, Dewey avenue, where each one spread the contents of her basket on the table prior to eating.

Even though the weather was bad, the party was voted a great success. Friends and husbands will be guests at a gathering in the church early in April.

FRIDAY HYMN SING AT MRS. A. HARRIS HOME

At the home of Mrs. Anna Harris of East Washington street, a group of ladies gathered for hymn singing.

There was a period of choruses, duets and solos sung during the evening. Readings were given by Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Mary Kerr and Mrs. Elizabeth Jones.

Mrs. Anna Martin's 78th birthday anniversary was celebrated, all joining to sing "Happy Birthday."

A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Harris, assisted by Mrs. Catherine Earl.

Dames Of Malta

Members of the Dames of Malta will meet on Wednesday evening at 7:45 o'clock in the I. O. O. F. hall.

BAIRD-ZIMMERMAN EXCHANGE OF VOWS

A quiet but impressive ceremony united in marriage Miss Ruth Baird, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Baird of R.D. 2, Lowellville, O., and Delbert Zimmerman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zimmerman of Coshocton, O. Vows were exchanged on Saturday, March 4 at the Mahoning United Presbyterian church Lowellville, O. Rev. E. F. Munn performed the double ring service at 2:30 o'clock.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the youthful bride was lovely in a white satin brocade gown. Attractive features were its net yoke edged with a dainty ruffle, and long sleeves tapering to points at the wrists. The fitted bodice buttoned to the waist in back. Her fingertip veil of illusion cascaded from a tiara of orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of calla lilies.

Miss Ruth Hanna of New Castle, attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore with charm a pink net gown fashioned like that of the gride. Long mitts complimented its cap sleeves. A matching hat of net and a bouquet of yellow carnations completed the costume.

Burton Zimmerman served his brother as best man. Ushers were Wayne Zimmerman, brother of the groom, and James Mumaw of Youngstown, O.

Mrs. George Allen played traditional music at the piano. Soloist was Arthur Stanley of New Concord, O., who sang "Because," "Through the Years," and "The Lord's Prayer."

A reception was held at the bride's home following the ceremony. The couple then departed for a wedding trip to Florida. Upon their return they will reside at R.D. 1, Lowellville, O.

Mrs. Zimmerman is a graduate of the January 1950 class of Muskingum college. Mr. Zimmerman, who served in the Navy for two and a half years in the Pacific theater, is engaged in the farming business.

WILLIAM PRITCHARD BIRTHDAY HONOREE

At the age of 93 one should be entitled to a birthday party, and that's what happened to William Pritchard of East Washington street Friday night.

The party was in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Lawton, a daughter and son-in-law, where Mr. Pritchard makes his home. Present were members of his family and a few friends who gathered to wish the young man many happy returns.

Games featured the evening. From out of town came the following children and their families, Mr. and Mrs. William Pritchard, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stevens, of Youngstown, and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Rex, of Dayton, O.

JAMESON SOCIETY WILL SEW WEDNESDAY

Members of the Jameson Hospital Aide Society will meet at the Nurses' home, corner of Lincoln avenue and Jefferson street, on Wednesday at 9 a. m.

The weekly sewing period will be held, with the group assisted by the ladies of the Dental Auxiliary.

B.P.W. CLUB PLANS SPRING STYLE SHOW

Members of the New Castle Business and Professional Women's club have completed plans for their spring style show that will take place Thursday evening, March 9, at 8 o'clock in Strouss-Hirshberg's store, North Mill street. The finance committee, of which Miss Helen Keder is chairman, is responsible for arrangements.

Miss Lucille Emery will serve as commentator. The show will be informal with the models promenading through the aisles so that members of the audience may examine the materials closely and inquire about the style, make and prices. The latest in fashions will be shown, including those developed as recently as last week. A bridal scene will climax the show.

A special representative of a New York make-up house will be here for that evening to professionally make up the models.

EVANS-JOHNSON VOWS EXCHANGED

Mr. and Mrs. David T. Evans of North Cedar street announce the marriage of their daughter, Mary Kathryn S/N, to Galen Joynson SK/3, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Joynson of Bergholz, O.

Vows were exchanged on March 3 in the chapel of Great Lakes Naval Base. Chaplain DeWitt Wright of New Castle performed the ceremony.

Rose Bodnar S/N of Perth Amboy, New Jersey and Gerald G. Channel SK/2 of Eugene, Ore., were the couple's only attendants. Mr. and Mrs. Joynson will reside at a newly furnished apartment in Waukegan, Ill.

LUNCHEON PLANNED BY WIMODAUSIS

Members of the Wimodausis will hold a one o'clock luncheon at the Cathedral on Wednesday.

Hostesses for the occasion are to be Mrs. H. H. Riley and Mrs. Kenneth Black. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Harry Davies of 516 East Garfield avenue, and Mrs. Kenneth Black of the Wilmington road.

An Airline film will be shown by Mrs. Howard Duff, with Mrs. Dale Gardener in charge of the program for the afternoon.

A board meeting will precede the luncheon at 12:30 o'clock.

FARBER-GROSSMAN TROTH REVEALED

Of interest to friends in New Castle is the engagement announcement of Miss Shirley Farber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myer Farber of Greensburg, Pa., and Lawrence M. Grossman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Grossman of 604 Fourth street, Butler, Pa.

An early fall wedding is planned by the couple. Mr. Grossman is associated with his father in business in Butler.

DAUGHTERS OF 1812 TO MEET SATURDAY

New Castle Perry chapter of the Daughters of 1812 will meet Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. John Waddington, Albert street.

Mrs. W. H. Luikart will be in charge of the program for the day.

OHIO WEDDING OF INTEREST HERE

The wedding of Mrs. Amelia Tedescko Kardos, Cleveland, O., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tedescko, of 1203 Pollock avenue, this city, to Gerald Chambon, of Cleveland, O., and formerly of Butler, Pa., took place on Saturday, February 5.

The ceremony was performed in St. John's Cathedral, Rev. A. Hieman officiating.

Attending the wedding from New Castle, were the bride's brothers and sisters; Mr. and Mrs. Pete Tedescko, 708 Junior High street, and Mrs. Felix Cardella, Sr., of 1201 Pollock avenue.

The New Castle group has returned home after spending the week end in Cleveland, O.

WOLVES AUXILIARY WILL MEET TONIGHT

Members of the Wolves club auxiliary will meet in the recreation room of the Johnson Bronze company at 8 o'clock tonight for a business meeting.

At 9:30 p. m. the group will be joined by members of the Wolves club for a guided tour through the Johnson Bronze plant. Following this, the auxiliary will serve a buffet lunch.

(Additional Society on Pag 14)

A.B.D. SOCIETY TO HAVE PROGRAM

A.B.D. society will gather in First Presbyterian church Tuesday evening, March 7, at 8 o'clock, when Mrs. L. P. Hauschild will lead devotions.

Music will be offered by Miss Lena Mae McConnell, while Miss Frances Haydon will have charge of the program, the subject for discussion being "Poetry in the Bible."

Mrs. Clinton Keagy, Mrs. Anna Wagner, Mrs. Robert Garland and Mrs. Harold Heck will serve as hostesses.

S. I. L. Club Party

Members of the S.I.L. club met recently at the home of Mrs. James Fuleno, South Mercer street.

Cards were the evening's diversion, with the high score prize awarded to Mrs. Marion D'Augustine. Mrs. Albert DeAugustine was presented with a lovely gift in honor of her birthday. The group showered Mrs. Frank DeAugustine with an array of hankies in honor of her anniversary.

Delicious refreshments were later served by the hostess, aided by her daughter, Phyllis, and sister, Joan D'Augustine. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Marion D'Augustine, 820 Lathrope street, March 15.

D.A.R. MEMBERS HEAR COLLEGE GROUP

A beautiful winter day added pleasure to the March meeting, of Lawrence Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution, held Saturday afternoon in the ball room of the Castleton Hotel. Regent, Mrs. H. E. Golder presided, and the customary ritual was followed. During the business meeting, several projects were listed for action at a future date.

Interest in Saturday's meeting centered in the production of the playlet, entitled "The Silver Cord", by Sidney Howard, enacted by a group of students of the senior class of Westminster college. Seats for the audience were arranged in a circle to emphasize the centralized staging, illustrating the trend of modern theatres to stress acting without the aid of scenery.

The portrayal of a neurotic widow, whose selfish affection for her two sons supercedes all their desires for a normal life and imposes unbearable conditions on her daughter-in-law, developed a remarkable display of histrionic ability by all those taking part. The three-act play provided a thoroughly enjoyable entertainment.

The players were Barbara Downie, June Graham, Dodie Snyder, William Mullen, and Frank Ruth. They were ably assisted by Marian Bartlett.

Forsythia blossoms centered the tea-table from which delectable refreshments were served. Hostesses were: Mrs. James Moorehead, Mrs. John Bigler, Miss Katharine Foulke, Mrs. James R. Mead, Miss Garnet M. Rhodes, Mrs. S. A. Weinschenk, Mrs. Thomas Allen, Mrs. Fred Clemens, Mrs. J. O. Huston, Miss Belle Offutt and Mrs. F. E. Sowersby.

Ki-Nu Club To Meet

Mrs. George Kennedy of Edison avenue, will receive members of the 1926 Ki-Nu club at her home on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

ANCLA MEMBERS ENJOY DINNER

Members of the Ancla class of Croton Methodist Bible school enjoyed a progressive party recently. Armed with baskets, the girls gathered at the church, going first to the home of Marjorie Russell, Highland avenue, where each was served one item of lunch from a prepared menu. Taking this item in their bakets, they journeyed to the home of Lois Tinstman, Pearson street, where they were each given something different. During the evening each girl's home was visitd, a certain kind of food being served at each place.

The party ended at the home of Jeanne Wilson, Dewey avenue, where each one spread the contents of her basket on the table prior to eating.

Even though the weather was bad, the party was voted a great success. Friends and husbands will be guests at a gathering in the church early in April.

FRIDAY HYMN SING AT MRS. A. HARRIS HOME

At the home of Mrs. Anna Harris of East Washington street, a group of ladies gathered for hymn singing.

There was a period of choruses, duets and solos sung during the evening. Readings were given by Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Mary Kerr and Mrs. Elizabeth Jones.

Mrs. Anna Martin's 78th birthday anniversary was celebrated, all joining to sing "Happy Birthday."

A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Harris, assisted by Mrs. Catherine Earl.

Dames Of Malta

Members of the Dames of Malta will meet on Wednesday evening at 7:45 o'clock in the I. O. O. F. hall.

BAIRD-ZIMMERMAN EXCHANGE OF VOWS

A quiet but impressive ceremony united in marriage Miss Ruth Baird, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Baird of R.D. 2, Lowellville, O., and Delbert Zimmerman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zimmerman of Coshocton, O. Vows were exchanged on Saturday, March 4 at the Mahoning United Presbyterian church Lowellville, O. Rev. E. F. Munn performed the double ring service at 2:30 o'clock.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the youthful bride was lovely in a white satin brocade gown. Attractive features were its net yoke edged with a dainty ruffle, and long sleeves tapering to points at the wrists. The fitted bodice buttoned to the waist in back. Her fingertip veil of illusion cascaded from a tiara of orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of calla lilies.

Miss Ruth Hanna of New Castle, attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore with charm a pink net gown fashioned like that of the gride. Long mitts complimented its cap sleeves. A matching hat of net and a bouquet of yellow carnations completed the costume.

Burton Zimmerman served his brother as best man. Ushers were Wayne Zimmerman, brother of the groom, and James Mumaw of Youngstown, O.

Mrs. George Allen played traditional music at the piano. Soloist was Arthur Stanley of New Concord, O., who sang "Because," "Through the Years," and "The Lord's Prayer."

A reception was held at the bride's home following the ceremony. The couple then departed for a wedding trip to Florida. Upon their return they will reside at R.D. 1, Lowellville, O.

Mrs. Zimmerman is a graduate of the January 1950 class of Muskingum college. Mr. Zimmerman, who served in the Navy for two and a half years in the Pacific theater, is engaged in the farming business.

WILLIAM PRITCHARD BIRTHDAY HONOREE

At the age of 93 one should be entitled to a birthday party, and that's what happened to William Pritchard of East Washington street Friday night.

The party was in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Lawton, a daughter and son-in-law, where Mr. Pritchard makes his home. Present were members of his family and a few friends who gathered to wish the young man many happy returns.

Games featured the evening. From out of town came the following children and their families, Mr. and Mrs. William Pritchard, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stevens, of Youngstown, and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Rex, of Dayton, O.

JAMESON SOCIETY WILL SEW WEDNESDAY

Members of the Jameson Hospital Aide Society will meet at the Nurses' home, corner of Lincoln avenue and Jefferson street, on Wednesday at 9 a. m.

The weekly sewing period will be held, with the group assisted by the ladies of the Dental Auxiliary.

B.P.W. CLUB PLANS SPRING STYLE SHOW

Members of the New Castle Business and Professional Women's club have completed plans for their spring style show that will take place Thursday evening, March 9, at 8 o'clock in Strouss-Hirshberg's store, North Mill street. The finance committee, of which Miss Helen Keder is chairman, is responsible for arrangements.

Miss Lucille Emery will serve as commentator. The show will be informal with the models promenading through the aisles so that members of the audience may examine the materials closely and inquire about the style, make and prices. The latest in fashions will be shown, including those developed as recently as last week. A bridal scene will climax the show.

A special representative of a New York make-up house will be here for that evening to professionally make up the models.

EVANS-JOHNSON VOWS EXCHANGED

Mr. and Mrs. David T. Evans of North Cedar street announce the marriage of their daughter, Mary Kathryn S/N, to Galen Joynson SK/3, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Joynson of Bergholz, O.

Vows were exchanged on March 3 in the chapel of Great Lakes Naval Base. Chaplain DeWitt Wright of New Castle performed the ceremony.

Rose Bodnar S/N of Perth Amboy, New Jersey and Gerald G. Channel SK/2 of Eugene, Ore., were the couple's only attendants. Mr. and Mrs. Joynson will reside at a newly furnished apartment in Waukegan, Ill.

LUNCHEON PLANNED BY WIMODAUSIS

Members of the Wimodausis will hold a one o'clock luncheon at the Cathedral on Wednesday.

Hostesses for the occasion are to be Mrs. H. H. Riley and Mrs. Kenneth Black. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Harry Davies of 516 East Garfield avenue, and Mrs. Kenneth Black of the Wilmington road.

An Airline film will be shown by Mrs. Howard Duff, with Mrs. Dale Gardener in charge of the program for the afternoon.

A board meeting will precede the luncheon at 12:30 o'clock.

FARBER-GROSSMAN TROTH REVEALED

Of interest to friends in New Castle is the engagement announcement of Miss Shirley Farber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myer Farber of Greensburg, Pa., and Lawrence M. Grossman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Grossman of 604 Fourth street, Butler, Pa.

An early fall wedding is planned by the couple. Mr. Grossman is associated with his father in business in Butler.

DAUGHTERS OF 1812 TO MEET SATURDAY

New Castle Perry chapter of the Daughters of 1812 will meet Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. John Waddington, Albert street.

Mrs. W. H. Luikart will be in charge of the program for the day.

OHIO WEDDING OF INTEREST HERE

The wedding of Mrs. Amelia Tedescko Kardos, Cleveland, O., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tedescko, of 1203 Pollock avenue, this city, to Gerald Chambon, of Cleveland, O., and formerly of Butler, Pa., took place on Saturday, February 5.

The ceremony was performed in St. John's Cathedral, Rev. A. Hieman officiating.

Attending the wedding from New Castle, were the bride's brothers and sisters; Mr. and Mrs. Pete Tedescko, 708 Junior High street, and Mrs. Felix Cardella, Sr., of 1201 Pollock avenue.

The New Castle group has returned home after spending the week end in Cleveland, O.

WOLVES AUXILIARY WILL MEET TONIGHT

Members of the Wolves club auxiliary will meet in the recreation room of the Johnson Bronze company at 8 o'clock tonight for a business meeting.

At 9:30 p. m. the group will be joined by members of the Wolves club for a guided tour through the Johnson Bronze plant. Following this, the auxiliary will serve a buffet lunch.

(Additional Society on Pag 14)

A.B.D. SOCIETY TO HAVE PROGRAM

A.B.D. society will gather in First Presbyterian church Tuesday evening, March 7, at 8 o'clock, when Mrs. L. P. Hauschild will lead devotions.

Music will be offered by Miss Lena Mae McConnell, while Miss Frances Haydon will have charge of the program, the subject for discussion being "Poetry in the Bible."

Mrs. Clinton Keagy, Mrs. Anna Wagner, Mrs. Robert Garland and Mrs. Harold Heck will serve as hostesses.

S. I. L. Club Party

Members of the S.I.L. club met recently at the home of Mrs. James Fuleno, South Mercer street.

Cards were the evening's diversion, with the high score prize awarded to Mrs. Marion D'Augustine. Mrs. Albert DeAugustine was presented with a lovely gift in honor of her birthday. The group showered Mrs. Frank DeAugustine with an array of hankies in honor of her anniversary.

Delicious refreshments were later served by the hostess, aided by her daughter, Phyllis, and sister, Joan D'Augustine. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Marion D'Augustine, 820 Lathrope street, March 15.

CHIANG STEPS BACK IN

Chiang Kai-shek is again president of China. There is some question whether he is legally the chief executive of the Nationalist government, since acting President Li Tsung-jen has not resigned and says he won't, but there is no doubt that Chiang is once more in power. The way he managed it proves that he is boss.

It was perfectly simple. At Taipei, Formosa, Chiang went down to the huge brick structure that houses the Nationalist government's main offices. In the presence of 200 high officials or former officials he mounted a platform and read a prepared statement. It said that he could not shirk his duty in this crisis and he had therefore decided to take the presidency back. There were cheers, the premier and cabinet resigned in due form, and that was that.

There are several conclusions to be drawn when a man can and does vote himself into office as head of state, no matter where it happens. It shows his strength, of course, and it shows what kind of regime exists in the country.

Chiang now says he will "recover the mainland" of China. It is devoutly to be wished that he could. But there is little hope that he will succeed at this late date.

CROP CONTROL TROUBLES

It is not surprising that in a congressional campaign year Congress should be thinking along the line of loosening crop acreage restrictions, as the Senate has just done in respect to cotton and wheat. This is accepted congressional practice.

Producers of both crops will be given larger acreages because they are complaining about their present curtailment, and complaints may mean loss of farm votes. Congress also has a tender regard for potato producers who have been placed in a ridiculous position by government policy.

In the long run there is no way, of course, to keep crop prices at high support levels except by the most stringent controls of both acreage and markets. The signs of a crash are abundant. Europe is steadily fading out as a market for American farm surpluses. There is no hope of developing important markets elsewhere.

When the new wheat harvest begins the nation will have a surplus of 410,000,000 bushels. Storage facilities for the new grain will be inadequate. By July, 1951, there may be a two-years' supply, which is a desirable situation only if a nation is going to war.

Aside from votes, there is another explanation for the tendency of Congress to liberalize acreage curtailments. There is wide expectation, based upon weather cycles, that the country is about to enter on a new drouth era. The Department of Agriculture is also gloomy about insects. The latter, it is believed, have multiplied during the mild winter in certain crop areas and will inflict double the normal damage.

All of which suggests that management of farm crops by Washington lacks much of being an exact science. The planners are allowing for insect and drouth damage, but what will happen if American acres continue to be as productive as for the past 10 years?

STALIN'S SLAVES

An announcement just issued in Moscow for propaganda purposes is designed to lead the world to think that the people in Russia will be able to eat better in the near future. "Price reductions" range from 10 cents on potatoes to 49 per cent on dessert wines. But, of course, actual prices are not stated. That would facilitate comparison with prices in the free world—which still are far lower in terms of the number of hours work required to earn a bushel of potatoes or a quart of wine.

Sidelight on how this economic "improvement" was achieved is provided by testimony in the United Nations Economic and Social Council. Miss Toni Sender of the American Federation of Labor charged that at least 10 per cent of the Russian people work without pay at slave labor under direction of the secret police.

The secret data she showed the UN council were reportedly obtaining from a high Soviet official who escaped from Russia. The secret police, according to her data, have a quota of 10 per cent of the output of the furniture and kitchenware industries, 12½ per cent of the timber industry, 40 per cent of chrome production, 75 per cent of gold production.

Anyone displeasing to the government can be arrested, convicted, and forced to work without pay as a "criminal." Food and other comforts are doled out to individual prisoners according to how hard they work. There must be many Russians who are displeasing to the government if the secret police are to meet their quotas.

Proposals for an investigation of Russian slave labor by the UN will get nowhere because Russia will refuse to cooperate. Such modesty about what communism has done for the working class contrasts strangely with Russian boasts about preeminence and priority in the fields of art, science and invention.

Spring can't be too far away. Some political leaders are already talking about "victory in the state."

Oklahoma City's now defunct leopard was easy to handle compared with the critter the rest of the United States must rassle—the lion that's known as March.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

France's Challenge And Opportunity

The French government is making ready for what observers view both as a grave challenge and a magnificent opportunity.

It is the announced intention of Communist-led workers' federations to prevent the unloading in France of arms and munitions from the United States—shipments that soon will get under way in constantly increasing flow to build up defense of continental Europe.

The program of interference will have an ostensibly legal basis.

General strikes have been called at all ports in France and in North Africa in protest against alleged western imperialism.

Sabotage Is Expected

Illegal aspects may well enter the picture, however. Sabotage is expected and possibly serious violence if the government mobilizes troops or naval forces to unship the crates of arms, ammunition and other vital defense weapons for which democratic Europe pleaded when it seemed that the east-west "cold war" might flare into hostilities.

Premier Georges Bidault has announced that the government will deal strenuously with any attempts to sabotage the shipments.

He maintains that the people's will—despite Communist protests to the contrary—is that France is made strong enough militarily to ensure its own defense in the event of sudden emergency.

Arrival of the first major shipments from the United States is expected to provoke a definite showdown between the government and its Communist opponents.

Extraordinary Measures Taken

Bidault is reported to have taken extraordinary measures to ensure that they are landed properly.

It is believed that ports of arrival will be kept secret until the last minute and that local harbor workers not too sympathetic toward their Communist leaders will proceed with the unloading before Red flying squads can swing into action.

Communist Leader Maurice Thorez appears equally determined to upset the program.

He has never retracted his contention that in event of east-west war, French workers owe and should display their allegiance to Moscow rather than to the French government.

It was thought from the beginning that this deliberate belittlement of inherent French patriotism would sit poorly with the workers.

It is a fact that numerous projected strikes and walkouts during the last few months have failed to develop into the full-scale, crippling demonstrations that the Communists hoped for.

But it is equally true that the Communists have not lost their power to throw industry and legislative processes out of gear.

End Of Parliament

Communist filibuster in the French National Assembly that followed a savage outbreak of violence caused President Edouard Herriot to ask with sad resignation:

"I wonder if this isn't the end of parliamentary rule in France?"

The assembly demonstration was time, of course, to publicize Communist efforts to disrupt the arms shipment program. It is quite clear that French Communists are trying to show that they have been overrun and exploited by "warmongers and imperialists" acting at the beck and call of Wall Street.

The value of the assembly demonstration is evident. The Communist press in France—strangely unrestricted despite its unsavory record of subversion and disloyalty—circulates over all of France.

The chamber incident will be perverted in presentation by the Communists in an effort to show that the Communist deputies were willing to risk their physical well-being in a strange attempt at "martyrdom"—the ostensible purpose being to maintain peace in France, in Europe and the world.

Observers see in the present situation the seeds of another real crisis. Much depends upon the determination and strength of the government in the face of potential violence and bloodshed. Bidault has made his pledges and voiced his threats against troublemakers. Thus far, he never has failed in his given word.

DIVERTICULA

"The X-rays show," the doctors said,
"The reason you were pained.
Now you must spend two weeks in bed,
And eat your carrots strained.
We'll run your peaches through a sieve,
If fond of them you are.
We're going to teach you how to live
With diverticula.

"From time to time the nurse will come
To give, asleep or not,
For every diverticulum
A penicillin shot.
We'll feed you sulphur for awhile,
Infection's course to bar.
We're going to teach you how to smile
With diverticula.

"A pretty nurse will bring you in
Your meals from day to day.
A cup of broth, if it be thin,
You'll find upon your tray.
Some ground-up stuff you'll look upon—
That's food molecular—
And all we serve to anyone
With diverticula."

Oh, endless nights and endless days
With hunger's pangs beset!
That daily round of empty trays
I never shall forget.
Oh, ladies of the needle crew,
And every pin point scar,
You taught me all that men go through
With diverticula.

They Say

NEW YORK. Defense Secretary Louis Johnson: "There is no human gain in developing hydrogen bombs or stockpiling the atomic variety for destruction . . . unfortunately we have no alternative at the moment but to be prepared."

PARIS—French National Assembly President Edouard Herriot, after outbreak of Communist-led violence in the Chamber of Deputies: "I wonder if this is not the end of Parliament."

NEW YORK.—Mayor William O'Dwyer, addressing the New York City Traffic commission: "If the traffic rules you have are not strong enough, it should not take more than a week to pass some that are."

LONDON.—British War Minister John Strachey, answering charges of the London Evening Standard: "This statement is not true. Not only have I never been a member of the Communist party, but it is also public knowledge that I repudiated Communist policies in 1940."

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

READ POETRY TO CHILDREN

A mother writes of her daughter 5½, "She loves poetry, even my books which I read to her when I haven't anything else. She calls it 'music that you talk.'"

Its the music of nursery rhymes that have made babies and little children love to hear them from time immemorial. The wise mother repeats nursery rhymes to her infant as she bathes and dresses him, even during his early months. She keeps on saying these rhymes, and she makes them jingle. Early in his second year he may beg her to repeat some of them. Those he has so often heard as "music that you talk" he is most eager to hear while he looks at beautiful pictures in a book which illustrates them ,he is prepared to enjoy being read to. He also may soon be saying some of these rhymes or making up some rhymes of nonsense syllables himself. His mother should not, however, urge him to do so.

Musical Poetry

Before this child is two or three years old he may enjoy hearing some of the poems of Robert Louis Stevenson, A. A. Milne, James Whitcomb Riley, Eugene Field or even such musical poetry as Poe's "Bells." Before he enters school he may begin to like some "music that you talk" from Scott, Burns, Shelley, or Longfellow, even if he doesn't understand them. So also he enjoys prose, from the Bible.

Let us keep on reading poetry to the child long after he enters school and encourage him when he can read to read poetry aloud. If we are good listeners then we can further his enjoyment of poetry. It is grand when our children read poetry with us for enjoyment. Perhaps very few persons greatly enjoy poetry, who have not heard many poems read or who rarely or never read poetry aloud themselves.

Saying Poems

Thus enjoying poetry with the child we and he may have great fun saying some poems together from memory. We wish that teachers in the early elementary grades would more often inspire children to memorize many lovely short poems. When such poems are read aloud in the classroom, sometimes in concert, many children learn some of these poems incidentally, and many others will choose to memorize them. Fortunately some concert reading and reciting of poetry is coming back to school under the guise of "choral reading." In this practice there is emphasis on rhythm, and children come to think of poetry more and more as "music that you talk."

From Me To You

By MESEEALL

Friendliness in New Castle goes away back . . . in a letter from C. M. Kaufman of New Wilmington we are told that when the Clendenin store was in operation back in 1850 . . . Mr. R. W. Clendenin always was on hand at the store entrance to welcome the customer . . . the type of man that made a customer feel at home . . . He always wore a tall stiff collar and when out on the street his head gear was a stove pipe hat. Included in his large stock was a complete line of material used by the Amish for making of their own clothes . . . According to the record . . . the Amish people settled this part of the country in the spring of 1846 . . . coming here from Mifflen County . . . Abraham Zook was the first, followed by Sherm King and family the following year . . . Their farms were located in Hickory Township a short distance north of East Brook.

It is stated by old timers who can remember back . . . either from actual experience, or the stories from their parents . . . the Clendenin store was the center of activity . . . a trip by the country folks to New Castle was not complete unless a visit was paid to this famous store . . . mostly because of the friendly attitude of the owner and his handshake at the door for all customers . . . and of course such friendship was backed up with a very large supply of stock . . . The friendship part is interesting . . . we are known today by the friendship expressed by our people . . . Strangers in town today say they like the place . . . because the people are friendly . . . That brings us to a point of interest . . . We can further our hand of friendship this coming Thursday evening when New Castle entertains in the Cathedral . . . We people of New Castle can extend our hand to a man of the industrial world . . . Col. Willard F. Rockwell . . . By so doing he will remember this community as a friendly community . . . a good place to get things done.

Why are we pushing this meeting of Thursday . . . because we like New Castle, the people that make the community . . . we want them to meet this gentleman Rockwell . . . we want Mr. Rockwell to like our people . . . We want the people of New Castle to meet and hear about Free enterprise . . . jobs make payrolls, payrolls make a community.

'MIGHTIER THAN THE SWORD'

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

The Governor Of Georgia

ATLANTA, Ga., March 6—Talking with Governor Herman Talmadge, you have the feeling of watching an extremely plausible actor. Yet it is a performance that, for the outsider at least, does not quite achieve credibility.

The lines that he speaks are all about the solid virtues of the folk who till the soil and earn their bread by the sweat of their brow. They're the backbone of the nation and not the restless, shifting crowds in the cities.

The words are those of his father, Ole Gene, who built up the political oligarchy that young Hummon inherited and directs with great skill. The words come out of the radical, populist past in which Ole Gene had his roots.

But this is the mid-20th century and populism has long since become something for the history books. Young Hummon wears a well-tailored suit and his gallus,s are gray and not red like his father's.

He looks a little like Ole Gene; a rather heavy, well-fed version of Ole Gene's lean, fierce intensity.

"Why, hello there, Charley," he says into the phone in his booming stump-speakink voice. "Sure good to hear that, Charley. Sure good, because I want to carry Bibb county next time."

Primary In June

The primary is coming some time in June. So far as the outsider can tell, there is no real focus of opposition to young Hummon. M. E. Thompson, whom young Hummon roundly defeated two years ago, has announced his candidacy, but no one expects much to come of it. Former Gov. Ellis Arnall, at one time the rallying point for progressive elements in the state, announced that he would keep entirely out of the contest.

What makes young Hummon's talk about the evils of the city and the virtues of the country especially ironic is a little drama that is said to have occurred here some time ago. This little drama can't be very well documented, but those who know most about politics in Georgia vouch for the substance of it.

Young Hummon got the idea he wanted to run for the senate. There wasn't, he allowed, any future for a young man in the governor's office.

When the word of young Hummon's ambition got out, it caused considerable consternation. This meant he would be running against Georgia's elder statesman, Senator Walter George, who is 72 years old. A lot of influential businessmen and bankers in Atlanta didn't like that at all.

Chairman of Committee

George is chairman of the senate finance committee and in the post he is considered as safe as the rock of Gibraltar. Especially with that blankety-blank wild man in the White House it was supremely important to keep Georgia's elder statesman in this key committee chairmanship. So the calls began to go out from the bankers in Atlanta and the bankers in New York. Young Hummon must be persuaded not to run.

Young Hummon was persuaded. At 37 he is the youngest governor in America, a fact of which he is proud. If it were not for the provision in Georgia's constitution that a governor may not succeed himself for the four-year term, young Hummon could go on being govenor as long as he lived. The present two-year term resulted from his father's death four years ago, young Hummon's seizure of power in the best Central American tradition, his later surrender of that power to Thompson, the elected lieutenant governor, and finally a special election.

Court Action Sought

The supreme court of the United States will soon be asked to pass upon Georgia's county-unit system under which the rural counties wield power over those that contain the larger cities. A threeman federal tribunal has heard a suit brought by two residents of Atlanta whose attorneys pointed out that a vote in Chattanoochee county is 122 times as powerful as a vote in Fulton county in which metropolitan Atlanta is situated. The hope of the city voters is for a quick decision which may be appealed to the court in Washington and perhaps passed upon before the primary election in June.

Both Ole Gene and young Hummon, in their exploitation of country against city, have used the race issue to the fullest extent. It is effective in the rural counties where the Negro population is often in excess of the white population. Young Hummon has exploited President Truman's civil rights program to frighten rural voters with the threat of an end to segregation.

There have been changes, and major changes here. Today about 100,000 Negroes vote in the Democratic primary. That was undreamed of only a few years ago. But this is still a one-party state, and in a one-party state the choice of the voter is always pretty limited.

The British Labor Party regrets it will not be able to carry out its campaign promises . . . If the nation is to get into any further difficulties it will have to be without the assistance of the government.

Next they were going to nationalize meat . . . Later they were going to try to find some.

Many here believed we would have to nationalize coal, when it appeared all attempts to rationalize it had failed.

But it was kind of interesting to hear the UMW officers eagerly protesting they don't have any control over the miners . . . Now if they will just step aside we'll see if we can get some coal mined.

I always like the idea of running the seizure flag up over a coal tipple . . . It's not as dramatic as Iwo Jima but it makes a nice picture of futility.

Takes you right back to the days when Biddle was gallantly leading his forces through the aisles of Montgomery-Ward . . . What a victory that was!

How could the Russians ever hope to beat a government that can capture a coal mine or a department store any old day in the week?

Great Game Of Politics

Washington, March 6.

THE same professional "liberals" who, in 1948, were solidly certain that "poor Mr. Truman," as they then used to call him, would be overwhelmingly beaten, are now just as unitedly prophesying that the Republican party as now constituted cannot win an election in the foreseeable future. The journalistic trumpeters of the New Deal, the Fair Deal and the Welfare State are particularly insistent that the "Grand Old Party" is in a pitable state, "all washed up," gone beyond recall.

—o—

EVERY effort of Republican leaders, such as the recent one to equip tre party with a "set of principles" and provide it with a "modern program" is met with jeers, sneers and further prediction of party disaster from the somewhat pompous disciples of the "Liberal Cause," who are preponderant both in the press and on the air. Despite the fact that these prophets have no record upon which to stand there undoubtedly is a certain amount of truth at the moment in their indictment of Republican conditions. Certainly, the party is factionally split, without an inspiring leader and lacking a true sense of direction. In addition, it is undernourished financially, with none of the patronage upon which political organizations depend and greatly depressed by a series of defeats covering almost twenty years.

ADMITTEDLY, the prospects are not bright. However, there are several reasons why the present attempt of the "liberal" columnists to sweep the Republican party up in a corner and apply a match to it seems absurd. One, of course, is the extraordinary rapidity with which the whole political scenery in this country can shift. Another is the fact that though defeated in the last three presidential elections not one of those defeats was of a kind to convince any unprejudiced student of poltics that a majority of the people of the United States favored either the Democratic candidates or the Democratic policies. Extremely few will dispute that in 1940 and 1944 the Democratic victories were due to the war. In 1948 a majority of the people entitled to vote simply did not vote and Mr. Truman owed his success partly to the almost solid South, where he was—and is—extremely unpopular, and partly to the failure of Republicans to go to the polls. The result was a Truman election by a total vote so small as to make the subsequent talk of a "mandate" from the American people completely ridiculous.

—o—

A THIRD reason is the internal dissension in the Democratic party, which, while not so loudly publicized (and never mentioned by the "liberal columnists"), is actually deeper and more bitter than the factional feuds of the Republicans. The combination upon which the Democrats have relied for sixteen years—union labor, Negroes in the Northern cities, the radical splinter parties and the big-city machines—is not only getting increasingly harder to hold together but steadily engenders more and more antagonism. There is no doubt at all that the resentment is growing among Democrats all over the country at the degrading subserviency of their party to the labor bosses. Their domination of once-independent Democratic party is no longer an accusation—it has become an established fact which no one denies or even bothers to disguise. Look, for example, at the Democratic "pep rally" in Raleigh last January, where Administration leaders gathered to talk the doctrine of party regularity as an antidote for the revolting southerners. Who were the leading speakers? No one other than Jack Kroll, CIO's political director; Joe Keenan, AFL's political expert, and Ben Anderson, who directs the political activity of the railroad brotherhoods.

NOW, even some of the pro-labor publicists of the Fair Deal are beginning to feel that the openness with which the Democratic party has become labor ridden creates a certain reaction. This notion has been greatly strengthened by developments in Ohio, where the labor bosses of all factions have combined to drive Senator Taft out of public life this fall. Accepting the challenge, Senator Taft went directly to the Ohio people and already has had a response which even his enemies concede pretty well insures his election. Ohio is supposed to be politically the most significant State in the country but the distaste of the people for a labor-bossed party has also been shown in New York, where Governor Dewey has twice been elected against almost united labor-boss opposition. It is a simple fact that today no Democrat can be nominated in New York for a State-wide office who hasn't been cleared through Labor Leader Dubinsky, boss of the so-called American Liberal party.

CONSIDERING all these facts, it does seem a little far-fetched to talk of the Republicans as the only party with internal trouble. Or, to assert that they have no chance to win either this year or in 1952. Perhaps, they may again go down to defeat, but right now there isn't the slightest foundation for the sort of propaganda to that effect with which we are being flooded. And it is getting pretty tiresome to. The fact is that with a first-class candidate and any luck at all the Republicans ought to win in 1952—no matter what happens this year. They are long overdue.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Well, the ghost is back again!

He not only is back, but he has brought a playmate along.

You've read about that ghost, haven't you?

The one at 13 Highworth Road, Bristol, England, who had been keeping Mr. and Mrs. William Baber awake of nights and who finally disappeared on January 24 after he had been exorcised by the Vicar.

But apparently it wasn't the exorcism at all that drove the ghost away.

It must have been just England's bad winter weather.

Maybe the ghost went to Florida or the Riviera for a vacation.

Maybe he found his playmate there.

Maybe it wasn't a "He" ghost at all. It might have been a "She" ghost.

Maybe in a few months from now will be tiny ghost feet pitter-pattering up and down the stairs at No. 13 Highworth Road.

As a matter of fact, the Babers think it IS a she-ghost—the ghost of the woman who died in that house eighteen years ago.

They named the ghost "Mrs. It," having no doubt that it is a REAL ghost.

And when they called in the Vicar to exorcise it, or him or her, they believed that exorcism as mentioned both in St. Matthew and in The Acts could still be effective.

Apparently the good Vicar shared their belief, although for a long time now both ghosts and exorcism have been repudiated by Christians and Jews alike.

It may be that the Babers became doubtful when the ghost returned and brought along a companion.

This time they did not call the Vicar but consulted a spiritualist instead.

With bated breath they assembled around a ouija board and asked whether he/she had any message.

The ghost accommodated with an answer. But then it developed that either ghosts dont' speak English or that this particular one is a Foreigner.

Because this is what he/she told them:

"EEHFMEV."

And to this moment no one has been able to have the meseage translated into any living language.

All this may sound ridiculous.

But is it?

Don't we all beleive in ghosts?

We may not call them by that name.

But how about our superstitions? How about many of our foolish bigotries, intolerances and hypocrisies?

How about our doubts and fears and useless worries?

Aren't they all ghosts that come clattering down the stairs, mostly at night, and keep us awake?

As a matter of fact, the whole world seems obsessed by ghosts right now. Aren't we EVER going to find anything more effective than exorcism or ouija boards to deal with them?

CHIANG STEPS BACK IN

Chiang Kai-shek is again president of China. There is some question whether he is legally the chief executive of the Nationalist government, since acting President Li Tsung-jen has not resigned and says he won't, but there is no doubt that Chiang is once more in power. The way he managed it proves that he is boss.

It was perfectly simple. At Taipei, Formosa, Chiang went down to the huge brick structure that houses the Nationalist government's main offices. In the presence of 200 high officials or former officials he mounted a platform and read a prepared statement. It said that he could not shirk his duty in this crisis and he had therefore decided to take the presidency back. There were cheers, the premier and cabinet resigned in due form, and that was that.

There are several conclusions to be drawn when a man can and does vote himself into office as head of state, no matter where it happens. It shows his strength, of course, and it shows what kind of regime exists in the country.

Chiang now says he will "recover the mainland" of China. It is devoutly to be wished that he could. But there is little hope that he will succeed at this late date.

CROP CONTROL TROUBLES

It is not surprising that in a congressional campaign year Congress should be thinking along the line of loosening crop acreage restrictions, as the Senate has just done in respect to cotton and wheat. This is accepted congressional practice.

Producers of both crops will be given larger acreages because they are complaining about their present curtailment, and complaints may mean loss of farm votes. Congress also has a tender regard for potato producers who have been placed in a ridiculous position by government policy.

In the long run there is no way, of course, to keep crop prices at high support levels except by the most stringent controls of both acreage and markets. The signs of a crash are abundant. Europe is steadily fading out as a market for American farm surpluses. There is no hope of developing important markets elsewhere.

When the new wheat harvest begins the nation will have a surplus of 410,000,000 bushels. Storage facilities for the new grain will be inadequate. By July, 1951, there may be a two-years' supply, which is a desirable situation only if a nation is going to war.

Aside from votes, there is another explanation for the tendency of Congress to liberalize acreage curtailments. There is wide expectation, based upon weather cycles, that the country is about to enter on a new drouth era. The Department of Agriculture is also gloomy about insects. The latter, it is believed, have multiplied during the mild winter in certain crop areas and will inflict double the normal damage.

All of which suggests that management of farm crops by Washington lacks much of being an exact science. The planners are allowing for insect and drouth damage, but what will happen if American acres continue to be as productive as for the past 10 years?

STALIN'S SLAVES

An announcement just issued in Moscow for propaganda purposes is designed to lead the world to think that the people in Russia will be able to eat better in the near future. "Price reductions" range from 10 cents on potatoes to 49 per cent on dessert wines. But, of course, actual prices are not stated. That would facilitate comparison with prices in the free world—which still are far lower in terms of the number of hours work required to earn a bushel of potatoes or a quart of wine.

Sidelight on how this economic "improvement" was achieved is provided by testimony in the United Nations Economic and Social Council. Miss Toni Sender of the American Federation of Labor charged that at least 10 per cent of the Russian people work without pay at slave labor under direction of the secret police.

The secret data she showed the UN council were reportedly obtaining from a high Soviet official who escaped from Russia. The secret police, according to her data, have a quota of 10 per cent of the output of the furniture and kitchenware industries, 12½ per cent of the timber industry, 40 per cent of chrome production, 75 per cent of gold production.

Anyone displeasing to the government can be arrested, convicted, and forced to work without pay as a "criminal." Food and other comforts are doled out to individual prisoners according to how hard they work. There must be many Russians who are displeasing to the government if the secret police are to meet their quotas.

Proposals for an investigation of Russian slave labor by the UN will get nowhere because Russia will refuse to cooperate. Such modesty about what communism has done for the working class contrasts strangely with Russian boasts about preeminence and priority in the fields of art, science and invention.

Spring can't be too far away. Some political leaders are already talking about "victory in the state."

Oklahoma City's now defunt leopard was easy to handle compared with the critter the rest of the United States must rassle—the lion that's known as March.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

France's Challenge And Opportunity

The French government is making ready for what observers view both as a grave challenge and a magnificent opportunity.

It is the announced intention of Communist-led workers' federations to prevent the unloading in France of arms and munitions from the United States—shipments that soon will get under way in constantly increasing flow to build up defense of continental Europe.

The program of interference will have an ostensibly legal basis.

General strikes have been called at all ports in France and in North Africa in protest against alleged western imperialism.

Sabotage Is Expected

Illegal aspects may well enter the picture, however. Sabotage is expected and possibly serious violence if the government mobilizes troops or naval forces to unship the crates of arms, ammunition and other vital defense weapons for which democratic Europe pleaded when it seemed that the east-west "cold war" might flare into hostilities.

Premier Georges Bidault has announced that the government will deal strenuously with any attempts to sabotage the shipments.

He maintains that the people's will—despite Communist protests to the contrary—is that France is made strong enough militarily to ensure its own defense in the event of sudden emergency.

Arrival of the first major shipments from the United States is expected to provoke a definite showdown between the government and its Communist opponents.

Extraordinary Measures Taken

Bidault is reported to have taken extraordinary measures to ensure that they are landed properly.

It is believed that ports of arrival will be kept secret until the last minute and that local harbor workers not too sympathetic toward their Communist leaders will proceed with the unloading before Red flying squads can swing into action.

Communist Leader Maurice Thorez appears equally determined to upset the program.

He has never retracted his contention that in event of east-west war, French workers owe and should display their allegiance to Moscow rather than to the French government.

It was thought from the beginning that this deliberate belittlement of inherent French patriotism would sit poorly with the workers.

It is a fact that numerous projected strikes and walkouts during the last few months have failed to develop into the full-scale, crippling demonstrations that the Communists hoped for.

But it is equally true that the Communists have not lost their power to throw industry and legislative processes out of gear.

End Of Parliament

Communist filibuster in the French National Assembly that followed a savage outbreak of violence caused President Edouard Herriot to ask with sad resignation:

"I wonder if this isn't the end of parliamentary rule in France?"

The assembly demonstration was time, of course, to publicize Communist efforts to disrupt the arms shipment program. It is quite clear that French Communists are trying to show that they have been overrun and exploited by "warmongers and imperialists" acting at the beck and call of Wall Street.

The value of the assembly demonstration is evident. The Communist press in France—strangely unrestricted despite its unsavory record of subversion and disloyalty—circulates over all of France.

The chamber incident will be perverted in presentation by the Communists in an effort to show that the Communist deputies were willing to risk their physical well-being in a strange attempt at "martyrdom"—the ostensible purpose being to maintain peace in France, in Europe and the world.

Observers see in the present situation the seeds of another real crisis. Much depends upon the determination and strength of the government in the face of potential violence and bloodshed. Bidault has made his pledges and voiced his threats against troublemakers. Thus far, he never has failed in his given word.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

READ POETRY TO CHILDREN

A mother writes of her daughter 5½, "She loves poetry, even my books which I read to her when I haven't anything else. She calls it 'music that you talk.'"

Its the music of nursery rhymes that have made babies and little children love to hear them from time immemorial. The wise mother repeats nursery rhymes to her infant as she bathes and dresses him, even during his early months. She keeps on saying these rhymes, and she makes them jingle. Early in his second year he may beg her to repeat some of them. Those he has so often heard as "music that you talk" he is most eager to hear while he looks at beautiful pictures in a book which illustrates them ,he is prepared to enjoy being read to. He also may soon be saying some of these rhymes or making up some rhymes of nonsense syllables himself. His mother should not, however, urge him to do so.

Musical Poetry

Before this child is two or three years old he may enjoy hearing some of the poems of Robert Louis Stevenson, A. A. Milne, James Whitcomb Riley, Eugene Field or even such musical poetry as Poe's "Bells." Before he enters school he may begin to like some "music that you talk" from Scott, Burns, Shelley, or Longfellow, even if he doesn't understand them. So also he enjoys prose, from the Bible.

Let us keep on reading poetry to the child long after he enters school and encourage him when he can read to read poetry aloud. If we are good listeners then we can further his enjoyment of poetry. It is grand when our children read poetry with us for enjoyment. Perhaps very few persons greatly enjoy poetry, who have not heard many poems read or who rarely or never read poetry aloud themselves.

Saying Poems

Thus enjoying poetry with the child we and he may have great fun saying some poems together from memory. We wish that teachers in the early elementary grades would more often inspire children to memorize many lovely short poems. When such poems are read aloud in the classroom, sometimes in concert, many children learn some of these poems incidentally, and many others will choose to memorize them. Fortunately some concert reading and reciting of poetry is coming back to school under the guise of "choral reading." In this practice there is emphasis on rhythm, and children come to think of poetry more and more as "music that you talk."

When the word of young Hummon's ambition got out, it caused considerable consternation. This meant he would be running against Georgia's elder statesman, Senator Walter George, who is 72 years old. A lot of influential businessmen and bankers in Atlanta didn't like that at all.

Chairman of Committee

George is chairman of the senate finance committee and in the post he is considered as safe as the rock of Gibraltar. Especially with that blankety-blank wild man in the White House it was supremely important to keep Georgia's elder statesman in this key committee chairmanship. So the calls began to go out from the bankers in Atlanta and the bankers in New York. Young Hummon must be persuaded not to run.

Young Hummon was persuaded. At 37 he is the youngest governor in America, a fact of which he is proud. If it were not for the provision in Georgia's constitution that a governor may not succeed himself for the four-year term, young Hummon could go on being govenor as long as he lived. The present two-year term resulted from his father's death four years ago, young Hummon's seizure of power in the best Central American tradition, his later surrender of that power to Thompson, the elected lieutenant governor, and finally a special election.

Court Action Sought

The supreme court of the United States will soon be asked to pass upon Georgia's county-unit system under which the rural counties wield power over those that contain the larger cities. A three-man federal tribunal has heard a suit brought by two residents of Atlanta whose attorneys pointed out that a vote in Chattanoochee county is 122 times as powerful as a vote in Fulton county in which metropolitan Atlanta is situated. The hope of the city voters is for a quick decision which may be appealed to the court in Washington and perhaps passed upon before the primary election in June.

Both Ole Gene and young Hummon, in their exploitation of country against city, have used the race issue to the fullest extent. It is effective in the rural counties where the Negro population is often in excess of the white population. Young Hummon has exploited President Truman's civil rights program to frighten rural voters with the threat of an end to segregation.

There have been changes, and major changes, here. Today about 100,000 Negroes vote in the Democratic primary. That was undreamed of only a few years ago. But this is still a one-party state, and in a one-party state the choice of the voter is always pretty limited.

Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT

(Copyright 1949, By The Baltimore Sun)

Washington, March 6.

THE same professional "liberals" who, in 1948, were solidly certain that "poor Mr. Truman," as they then used to call him, would be overwhelmingly beaten, are now just as unitedly prophesying that the Republican party as now constituted cannot win an election in the foreseeable future. The journalistic trumpeters of the New Deal, the Fair Deal and the Welfare State are particularly insistent that the "Grand Old Party" is in a pitable state, "all washed up," gone beyond recall.

—o—

EVERY effort of Republican leaders, such as the recent one to equip tre party with a "set of principles" and provide it with a "modern program" is met with jeers, sneers and further prediction of party disaster from the somewhat pompous disciples of the "Liberal Cause," who are preponderant both in the press and on the air. Despite the fact that these prophets have no record upon which to stand there undoubtedly is a certain amount of truth at the moment in their indictment of Republican conditions. Certainly, the party is factionally split, without an inspiring leader and lacking a true sense of direction. In addition, it is undernourished financially, with none of the patronage upon which political organizations depend and greatly depressed by a series of defeats covering almost twenty years.

ADMITTEDLY, the prospects are not bright. However, there are several reasons why the present attempt of the "liberal" columnists to sweep the Republican party up in a corner and apply a match to it seems absurd. One, of course, is the extraordinary rapidity with which the whole political scenery in this country can shift. Another is the fact that though defeated in the last three presidential elections not one of those defeats was of a kind to convince any unprejudiced student of poltics that a majority of the people of the United States favored either the Democratic candidates or the Democratic policies. Extremely few will dispute that in 1940 and 1944 the Democratic victories were due to the war. In 1948 a majority of the people entitled to vote simply did not vote and Mr. Truman owed his success partly to the almost solid South, where he was—and is—extremely unpopular, and partly to the failure of Republicans to go to the polls. The result was a Truman election by a total vote so small as to make the subsequent talk of a "mandate" from the American people completely ridiculous.

—o—

A THIRD reason is the internal dissension in the Democratic party, which, while not so loudly publicized (and never mentioned by the "liberal columnists"), is actually deeper and more bitter than the factional feuds of the Republicans. The combination upon which the Democrats have relied for sixteen years—union labor, Negroes in the Northern cities, the radical splinter parties and the big-city machines—is not only getting increasingly harder to hold together but steadily engenders more and more antagonism. There is no doubt at all that the resentment is growing among Democrats all over the country at the degrading subserviency of their party to the labor bosses. Their domination of once-independent Democratic party is no longer an accusation—it has become an established fact which no one denies or even bothers to disguise. Look, for example, at the Democratic "pep rally" in Raleigh last January, where Administration leaders gathered to talk the doctrine of party regularity as an antidote for the revolting southerners. Who were the leading speakers? No one other than Jack Kroll, CIO's political director; Joe Keenan, AFL's political expert, and Ben Anderson, who directs the political activity of the railroad brotherhoods.

NOW, even some of the pro-labor publicists of the Fair Deal are beginning to feel that the openness with which the Democratic party has become labor ridden creates a certain reaction. This notion has been greatly strengthened by developments in Ohio, where the labor bosses of all factions have combined to drive Senator Taft out of public life this fall. Accepting the challenge, Senator Taft went directly to the Ohio people and already has had a response which even his enemies concede pretty well insures his election. Ohio is supposed to be politically the most significant State in the country but the distaste of the people for a labor-bossed party has also been shown in New York, where Governor Dewey has twice been elected against almost united labor-boss opposition. It is a simple fact that today no Democrat can be nominated in New York for a State-wide office who hasn't been cleared through Labor Leader Dubinsky, boss of the so-called American Liberal party.

CONSIDERING all these facts, it does seem a little far-fetched to talk of the Republicans as the only party with internal trouble. Or, to assert that they have no chance to win either this year or in 1952. Perhaps, they may again go down to defeat, but right now there isn't the slightest foundation for the sort of propaganda to that effect with which we are being flooded. And it is getting pretty tiresome to. The fact is that with a first-class candidate and any luck at all the Republicans ought to win in 1952—no matter what happens this year. They are long overdue.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Well, the ghost is back again!

He not only is back, but he has brought a playmate along.

You've read about that ghost, haven't you?

The one at 13 Highworth Road, Bristol, England, who had been keeping Mr. and Mrs. William Baber awake of nights and who finally disappeared on January 24 after he had been exorcised by the Vicar.

But apparently it wasn't the exorcism at all that drove the ghost away.

It must have been just England's bad winter weather.

Maybe the ghost went to Florida or the Riviera for a vacation.

Maybe he found his playmate there.

Maybe it wasn't a "He" ghost at all. It might have been a "She" ghost.

Maybe in a few months from now will be tiny ghost feet pitter-pattering up and down the stairs at No. 13 Highworth Road.

As a matter of fact, the Babers think it IS a she-ghost—the ghost of the woman who died in that house eighteen years ago.

They named the ghost "Mrs. It," having no doubt that it is a REAL ghost.

And when they called in the Vicar to exorcise it, or him or her, they believed that exorcism as mentioned both in St. Matthew and in The Acts could still be effective.

Apparently the good Vicar shared their belief, although for a long time now both ghosts and exorcism have been repudiated by Christians and Jews alike.

It may be that the Babers became doubtful when the ghost returned and brought along a companion.

This time they did not call the Vicar but consulted a spiritualist instead.

With baited breath they assembled around a ouija board and asked whether he/she had any message.

The ghost accommodated with an answer. But then it developed that either ghosts dont' speak English or that this particular one is a Foreigner.

Because this is what he/she told them:

"EEHFMEV."

And to this moment no one has been able to have the message translated into any living language.

All this may sound ridiculous.

But is it?

Don't we all beleive in ghosts?

We may not call them by that name.

But how about our superstitions? How about many of our foolish bigotries, intolerances and hypocrisies?

How about our doubts and fears and useless worries?

Aren't they all ghosts that come clattering down the stairs, mostly at night, and keep us awake?

As a matter of fact, the whole world seems obsessed by ghosts right now. Aren't we EVER going to find anything more effective than exorcism or ouija boards to deal with them?

Says King Cole On Shaky Throne

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., March 6.—(INS)—Take it from an economics professor at Pennsylvania State College—King Coal is on a pretty shaky throne.

Dr. R. Hadley Waters, after a survey of the uses of hard and soft coals by industries, has arrived at the conclusion that the decline in coal consumption will never be offset.

"The current drop in demand is not a temporary phenomenon which will cure itself but is permanent and must be adjusted to", he reports.

Something Can Be Done

He lists them as (1) reduced costs through mechanization, minehead generation or underground burning (2) increased exports through subsidization (3) permanently shortened work weeks (4) closing marginal high cost mines and (5) development of non-fuel uses for coal in the chemical or gasoline industry.

Emphasizing the impact in the soft coal fields, Waters said that between 1948 and 1949—with practically no decline in production—the demand for bituminous coal fell 20 million tons.

In anthracite, according to Waters, the 1949 output was 57 per cent under the 100 million tons turned out in 1916 and 33 per cent below 1944 production.

Another big factor, he points out, is the fact that railroads are turning more and more to Diesel motive power while 30 years ago railroads depended on coal for 90 per cent of their fuel. By 1948, he adds, the demand fell to 70 per cent.

The Pennsylvania railroad uses Diesels to move 24 per cent of its freight and is exceeded only by the Santa Fe and Union Pacific railroads.

In addition, railroads have effected a 32 per cent fuel consumption regardless of the type used, according to Waters.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Family "At Homes"

In the "good old days" families used to play games together in front of the fireplace or stay at home for other family-centered activities. There seems to be little of this today. We're all too busy belonging to organizations that take us out of the home.

Naturally, we can't go back 50 or 100 years ago nor would we want to. But some families have found that spending a few evenings together every month is a lot of fun.

Perhaps 10-year-old Billy has just discovered a scientific experiment that he wants to show the rest of the family. Lucille is anxious to put on a puppet show. Dad's got some new shots with his color camera that all the family will want to see. These are the kinds of things that can be a part of an evening at home.

Some families have set aside certain evenings when the informal program is designed especially for the younger children. Then, everyone pitches in and makes it fun for the small fry. Other evenings are beamed at the interests of the older children. The younger ones may stay for a while and then go off to bed.

Dad and Mother have their evenings, too. Perhaps Mother reads some short stories she likes particularly. Dad may have the rest of the family help him with his stamp collection. Yes, there can be many exciting things to do together in these "at home" evenings if one keeps on the look-out for them.

Two Small Boys Fall Out Third Floor Window

BRISTOL, Pa., March 6.—(INS)—Two small brothers, one of whom is blind, suffered little or no effects today from falling out of a three-story window in their Bristol home.

Four-year-old Ronald Lampe, Blinded three years ago by spinal meningitis, received only multiple bruises. His two-year-old brother, was uninjured because his father, Gottfried, who had been working in the yard, managed to catch him and break the fall.

Ronald landed on a railroad tie, but physicians at Aabington Memorial hospital said X-rays showed no broken bones, and probably the fact that he was blind may have allowed him to fall somewhat relaxed.

St. Michael's Group Planning Banquet

The Sodality of St. Michael's church received holy communion in a group and held their monthly meeting Sunday, March 5, with Prefect Mary Solomon in charge.

Many of the members attended the Lenten passion play, "Veronica's Veil", Saturday in Pittsburgh.

Catherine Melichar of the apostolic committee gave a very interesting talk on the sacrament of baptism. Bernadine Mizak, also on the apostolic committee, read the parliamentary procedure of the Sodality.

Plans were discussed for a mother-daughter banquet to be held on Mother's Day. Further arrangements will be made at the next meeting, on April 2.

Eat More Eggs Is Government Plea

HARRISBURG, March 6.—(INS)—Sunnyside up? Scrambled? Boiled? Shirred?

Whichever way you like eggs, the government wants you to pitch in and help reduce a large surplus.

If the surplus is not minimized, the government must move in as required by law and use taxpayers' money to maintain the price of eggs at parity.

The U. S. production and marketing and restaurant and hotel associations are pushing another campaign to boost egg demand among patrons.

Congress Plans For Eleven-Day Recess

WASHINGTON, March 6—(INS)—House leaders plan an 11-day Easter recess next month.

The schedule called for a cessation of work from April 6 to April 17.

The holiday, the first of this session, would begin the Thursday before Easter Sunday.

NOTED THROAT SPECIALISTS REPORT ON 30-DAY TEST OF CAMEL SMOKERS...

Not one single case of throat irritation due to smoking CAMELS

Yes, these were the findings of noted throat specialists after a total of 2,470 weekly examinations of the throats of hundreds of men and women who smoked Camels — and only Camels — for 30 consecutive days.

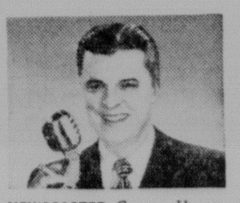

CROWNED the "Queen of Song" by the American Academy of Entertainment, pretty Fran Warren has rocketed to the top among the nation's most popular female vocalists. Her velvety voice has put over many of the best-selling records of the year.

MAKE A NOTE... REMEMBER YOUR THROAT!

SECRETARY Agnes Doyle: "Cigarette mildness is important to me. I made the 30-Day Test and found that Camels agree with my throat!"

NEWSCASTER George Hayes: "I can't take chances on throat irritation. I pick my cigarette for mildness—Camel! And Camel has the flavor!"

INFORMATION CLERK Jean Gammon: "My job is answering questions all day. I smoke Camels. The 30-Day Test proved how mild Camels are!"

THE TEST! Smoke only Camels for 30 days. Compare them in your "T-Zone." See if you don't agree Camels are the mildest, best-tasting cigarette!

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Family "At Homes"

In the "good old days" families used to play games together in front of the fireplace or stay at home for other family-centered activities. There seems to be little of this today. We're all too busy belonging to organizations that take us out of the home.

Naturally, we can't go back 50 or 100 years ago nor would we want to. But some families have found that spending a few evenings together every month is a lot of fun.

Perhaps 10-year-old Billy has just discovered a scientific experiment that he wants to show the rest of the family. Lucille is anxious to put on a puppet show. Dad's got some new shots with his color camera that all the family will want to see. These are the kinds of things that can be a part of an evening at home.

Some families have set aside certain evenings when the informal program is designed especially for the younger children. Then, everyone pitches in and makes it fun for the small fry. Other evenings are beamed at the interests of the older children. The younger ones may stay for a while and then go off to bed.

Dad and Mother have their evenings, too. Perhaps Mother reads some short stories she likes particularly. Dad may have the rest of the family help him with his stamp collection. Yes, there can be many exciting things to do together in these "at home" evenings if one keeps on the look-out for them.

Two Small Boys Fall Out Third Floor Window

BRISTOL, Pa., March 6.—(INS)—Two small brothers, one of whom is blind, suffered little or no effects today from falling out of a three-story window in their Bristol home.

Four-year-old Ronald Lampe, Blinded three years ago by spinal meningitis, received only multiple bruises. His two-year-old brother, was uninjured because his father, Gottfried, who had been working in the yard, managed to catch him and break the fall.

Ronald landed on a railroad tie, but physicians at Aabington Memorial hospital said X-rays showed no broken bones, and probably the fact that he was blind may have allowed him to fall somewhat relaxed.

St. Michael's Group Planning Banquet

The Sodality of St. Michael's church received holy communion in a group and held their monthly meeting Sunday, March 5, with Prefect Mary Solomon in charge.

Many of the members attended the Lenten passion play, "Veronica's Veil", Saturday in Pittsburgh.

Catherine Melichar of the apostolic committee gave a very interesting talk on the sacrament of baptism. Bernadine Mizak, also on the apostolic committee, read the parliamentary procedure of the Sodality.

Plans were discussed for a mother-daughter banquet to be held on Mother's Day. Further arrangements will be made at the next meeting, on April 2.

Eat More Eggs Is Government Plea

HARRISBURG, March 6.—(INS)—Sunnyside up? Scrambled? Boiled? Shirred?

Whichever way you like eggs, the government wants you to pitch in and help reduce a large surplus.

If the surplus is not minimized, the government must move in as required by law and use taxpayers' money to maintain the price of eggs at parity.

The U. S. production and marketing and restaurant and hotel associations are pushing another campaign to boost egg demand among patrons.

Congress Plans For Eleven-Day Recess

WASHINGTON, March 6—(INS)—House leaders plan an 11-day Easter recess next month.

The schedule called for a cessation of work from April 6 to April 17.

The holiday, the first of this session, would begin the Thursday before Easter Sunday.

NOTED THROAT SPECIALISTS REPORT ON 30-DAY TEST OF CAMEL SMOKERS...
Not one single case of throat irritation due to smoking CAMELS
Yes, these were the findings of noted throat specialists after a total of 2,470 weekly examinations of the throats of hundreds of men and women who smoked Camels — and only Camels — for 30 consecutive days.

CROWNED the "Queen of Song" by the American Academy of Entertainment, pretty Fran Warren has rocketed to the top among the nation's most popular female vocalists. Her velvety voice has put over many of the best-selling records of the year.

MAKE A NOTE... REMEMBER YOUR THROAT!

SECRETARY Agnes Doyle: "Cigarette mildness is important to me. I made the 30-Day Test and found that Camels agree with my throat!"

NEWSCASTER George Hayes: "I can't take chances on throat irritation. I pick my cigarette for mildness—Camel! And Camel has the flavor!"

INFORMATION CLERK Jean Gammon: "My job is answering questions all day. I smoke Camels. The 30-Day Test proved how mild Camels are!"

THE TEST! Smoke only Camels for 30 days. Compare them in your "T-Zone." See if you don't agree Camels are the mildest, best-tasting cigarette!

Miners Return To Coal Mines In State Area

By CLAIR E. GETTY JR.
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LIBRARY, Pa., March 6.—House lights went on before dawn today in Library as miners' wives packed their husband's lunches and saw the men off to work for the first time since January 23.

Foremen arrived at the big Montour No. Ten mine of the Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Co. early last night to prepare for the arrival of the first shift of pitmen at 7 a. m. today.

It was a happy trip for most of the miners because they knew the contract signed yesterday between their union boss, John L. Lewis, and the operators runs for two years. One miner said:

"Some of the fellows that I know are so much in debt that they'll just be back on their feet by the time it's up for renewal."

The miners would not comment on their return to work last night until Thomas Evans, president of UMW Local 73, gave official notification to the company about 9:30 p. m.

Somewhat Surprised

One union official, Frank Podlesnik, reported he received more than 30 telephone calls in a four-hour period last night from miners wanting to know whether to return to work.

Several miners on the main street in Library expressed surprise that the contract was signed and they were actually going back to work. One said:

"I thought we would have another injunction on our heads before going back to work. John L. did it again."

The streets were deserted much earlier than usual last night. A Library businessman said:

"The ones that are going to work were getting ready for bed. The ones on the other shifts just don't have the money to do much. Some of the fellows won't get more than two checks before Easter and they owe big bills at the stores."

One of the miners said that officials were given authority to send the men back to work without the formality of a local union meeting if a contract was signed.

Do Something About 'Bankruptcy' Urges Gen. D. D. Eisenhower

NEW YORK, March 6.—(INS)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower urged the nation last night to forget about atomic warfare and "think about eventual bankruptcy"—which we "can do something about".

The president of Columbia University and wartime supreme Allied commander in Europe declared:

"Despite all the dramatic talk about the A-bomb and H-bomb, we should not be too much concerned about such matters. We can think about eventual bankruptcy and can do something about it".

"We can make certain nothing can stop our forward march toward the objective of civilization—greater happiness for all people and not a dictatorial government for a few".

Eisenhower spoke at the mid-season gambol of the Lambs in New York given in his honor as an honorary life member of the Theatrical Club. He had been elected last month.

Folks Of Fame

John Eliot was known as the "Apostle to the Indians." He was born, probably at Widford, England, in 1604. There is nothing definitely known of him until 1629-30. He became a Puritan and emigrated to America in the autumn of 1631, inspired to teach the Indians. He first made himself acquainted with Indian dialects. With the aid of an Indian lad he translated the Ten Commandments and the Lord's Prayer. He is said to have been the first to preach to the Indians in their own language. He translated the Old and New Testaments into Indian. He founded a Christian Indian town, where he lived and preached until his death in Roxbury, Mass., May 21, 1690.

Robert Benchley was born at Worcester, Mass., September 15, 1889. He started his business life in the advertising department of a publishing company in Philadelphia. He did personnel work, then was associate editor of the Sunday magazine section of a New York newspaper. He was consecutively editor, columnist and dramatic editor. He made several movie "shorts," and later did radio work. He was the author of many humorous books, among them, Of All Things, Love Conquers All, The Early Worm, The Treasurer's Report, From Bed to Worse, My Ten Years in a Quandary. Gen. Marshall At Youngstown Tuesday

YOUNGSTOWN, O., March 6.—Youngstown Red Cross leaders, city officials and other civic leaders today applied finishing touches to a busy program which will mark the visit here Tuesday of General George C. Marshall, former chief of staff and secretary of state.

General Marshall comes to Youngstown as head of the American Red Cross and in that capacity will officially open the city's annual Red Cross campaign for $132,000.

Uniting in plans for General Marshall's welcome are public officials, police, representatives of veterans' units and others.

CHILD BITTEN

Little Norris Thomas, aged three years, of 848 Arlington avenue, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital, Saturday, for a laceration of the upper lip, received when bitten by the family's pet dog. The child was playing with the dog, when it turned on him.

State Police Say:

"Nothing to get excited about," is the way the National Safety Council qualified the possibility that 1949's traffic death toll may be 700 less than in 1948. That may seem like a heartless statement but 700 subtracted from 32,000 still leaves a horrifyingly large death statistic. On the basis of unofficial reports, Pennsylvania's death toll for 1949 will probably be 5% less than in 1948. Percentagewise that seems like a very small reduction, but when translated into terms of human lives it means that between 75 and 80 people are alive today who would not have been had not the reduction been effected.

CANDLES AT HOME WEDDING

"I am planning a home wedding at 11 o'clock in the morning. Is it correct to use candles at this time of day and if so, should they be lighted?"

Answer: If you mean candles for your improvised altar, by all means use them—lighted. Altar candles are lighted during any service, regardless of the time. Candles should not appear on the luncheon table unless the dining room is without daylight. They may be used during formal afternoon tea when the shades are drawn.

Question: My favorite nephew's engagement has been announced to a young lady in another city. I have met her only once. Since I am unable to call on her, should I write to her?

Answer: Yes. Write a letter extending your good wishes and welcoming her to the family.

Question: When I remain overnight at a friend's house and at his suggestion park my car in his (public) garage, should I pay for my storage, or is it the host's duty to take care of this?

Answer: You should pay since the garage will charge him for this extra service. If the garage manager tells you it has been put on your friend's bill, offer to pay your share. If you host refuses to accept your money, then let him assume the charge but you will feel more comfortable having made the offer.

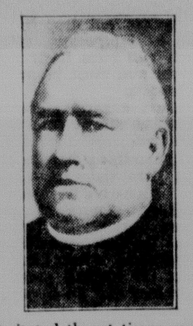

Question: Are place cards proper at a luncheon?

Answer: At a formal luncheon, yes. At an informal luncheon the hostess usually tells guests where to sit, unless the party is sufficiently large to necessitate place cards.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

The first execution in the American Army took place in 1776, when a guard, Thomas Hickey, was hanged for conspiring against his officers.

LIBRARY, Pa., March 6.—House lights went on before dawn today in Library as miners' wives packed their husband's lunches and saw the men off to work for the first time since January 23.

Foremen arrived at the big Montour No. Ten mine of the Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Co. early last night to prepare for the arrival of the first shift of pitmen at 7 a. m. today.

It was a happy trip for most of the miners because they knew the contract signed yesterday between their union boss, John L. Lewis, and the operators runs for two years. One miner said:

"Some of the fellows that I know are so much in debt that they'll just be back on their feet by the time it's up for renewal."

The miners would not comment on their return to work last night until Thomas Evans, president of UMW Local 73, gave official notification to the company about 9:30 p. m.

Somewhat Surprised

One union official, Frank Podlesnik, reported he received more than 30 telephone calls in a four-hour period last night from miners wanting to know whether to return to work.

Several miners on the main street in Library expressed surprise that the contract was signed and they were actually going back to work. One said:

"I thought we would have another injunction on our heads before going back to work. John L. did it again."

The streets were deserted much earlier than usual last night. A Library businessman said:

"The ones that are going to work were getting ready for bed. The ones on the other shifts just don't have the money to do much. Some of the fellows won't get more than two checks before Easter and they owe big bills at the stores."

One of the miners said that officials were given authority to send the men back to work without the formality of a local union meeting if a contract was signed.

Do Something About 'Bankrupicy' Urges Gen. D. D. Eisenhower

NEW YORK, March 6.—(INS)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower urged the nation last night to forget about atomic warfare and "think about eventual bankruptcy"—which we "can do something about".

The president of Columbia University and wartime supreme Allied commander in Europe declared:

"Despite all the dramatic talk about the A-bomb and H-bomb, we should not be too much concerned about such matters. We can think about eventual bankruptcy and can do something about it".

"We can make certain nothing can stop our forward march toward the objective of civilization—greater happiness for all people and not a dictatorial government for a few".

Eisenhower spoke at the mid-season gambol of the Lambs in New York given in his honor as an honorary life member of the Theatrical Club. He had been elected last month.

CANDLES AT HOME WEDDING

"I am planning a home wedding at 11 o'clock in the morning. Is it correct to use candles at this time of day and if so, should they be lighted?"

Answer: If you mean candles for your improvised altar, by all means use them—lighted. Altar candles are lighted during any service, regardless of the time. Candles should not appear on the luncheon table unless the dining room is without daylight. They may be used during formal afternoon tea when the shades are drawn.

Question: My favorite nephew's engagement has been announced to a young lady in another city. I have met her only once. Since I am unable to call on her, should I write to her?

Answer: Yes. Write a letter extending your good wishes and welcoming her to the family.

Question: When I remain overnight at a friend's house and at his suggestion park my car in his (public) garage, should I pay for my storage, or is it the host's duty to take care of this?

Answer: You should pay since the garage will charge him for this extra service. If the garage manager tells you it has been put on your friend's bill, offer to pay your share. If you host refuses to accept your money, then let him assume the charge but you will feel more comfortable having made the offer.

Question: Are place cards proper at a luncheon?

Answer: At a formal luncheon, yes. At an informal luncheon the hostess usually tells guests where to sit, unless the party is sufficiently large to necessitate place cards.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

Folks Of Fame

John Eliot was known as the "Apostle to the Indians." He was born, probably at Widford, England, in 1604. There is nothing definitely known of him until 1629-30. He became a Puritan and emigrated to America in the autumn of 1631, inspired to teach the Indians. He first made himself acquainted with Indian dialects. With the aid of an Indian lad he translated the Ten Commandments and the Lord's Prayer. He is said to have been the first to preach to the Indians in their own language. He translated the Old and New Testaments into Indian. He founded a Christian Indian town, where he lived and preached until his death in Roxbury, Mass., May 21, 1690.

Robert Benchley was born at Worcester, Mass, September 15, 1889. He started his business life in the advertising department of a publishing company in Philadelphia. He did personnel work, then was associate editor of the Sunday magazine section of a New York newspaper. He was consecutively editor, columnist and dramatic editor. He made several movie "shorts," and later did radio work. He was the author of many humorous books, among them, Of All Things, Love Conquers All, The Early Worm, The Treasurer's Report, From Bed to Worse, My Ten Years in a Quandary. Gen. Marshall At Youngstown Tuesday

YOUNGSTOWN, O., March 6.—Youngstown Red Cross leaders, city officials and other civic leaders today applied finishing touches to a busy program which will mark the visit here Tuesday of General George C. Marshall, former chief of staff and secretary of state.

General Marshall comes to Youngstown as head of the American Red Cross and in that capacity will officially open the city's annual Red Cross campaign for $132,000.

Uniting in plans for General Marshall's welcome are public officials, police, representatives of veterans' units and others.

CHILD BITTEN

Little Norris Thomas, aged three years, of 848 Arlington avenue, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital, Saturday, for a laceration of the upper lip, received when bitten by the family's pet dog. The child was playing with the dog, when it turned on him.

State Police Say:

"Nothing to get excited about," is the way the National Safety Council qualified the possibility that 1949's traffic death toll may be 700 less than in 1948. That may seem like a heartless statement but 700 subtracted from 32,000 still leaves a horrifyingly large death statistic. On the basis of unofficial reports, Pennsylvania's death toll for 1949 will probably be 5% less than in 1948. Percentagewise that seems like a very small reduction, but when translated into terms of human lives it means that between 75 and 80 people are alive today who would not have been had not the reduction been effected.

Fantastic Dangers Block Rocket Trip To Moon

By FREEMAN FULBRIGHT
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, March 6. — U. S. rocketeers are getting closer to making a try for the moon but several fantastic dangers must be overcome before human interplanetary flight becomes a reality.

Leading scientists studying the subject reported that consensus of thinking when they gathered in Chicago for a symposium on space medicine at the University of Illinois Medical school.

Three of the experts also addressed a meeting of the City Executives club and told the business and industrial leaders that space flights in our time are not as preposterous as they may sound.

The dangers to be encountered in space flight are hitherto unknown to man, the scientists said at the symposium. Listed first were the probability of a rocket ship being hit by meteors traveling at a speed of 25,000 miles an hour and burns from the unfiltered rays of the sun.

Dr. Heinz Haber of the air force aeromedical laboratory at Randolph Field, Tex., said:

May Be Attempted

"We have to expect that manned rocket flights will be attempted soon. The canned air problem in pressurized cabins of space ships can be solved the same as in submarines. The temperature problem is now understood. Only our knowledge of the outside atmosphere—space—is not understood, not conclusive.

"(But) everything we have examined up to this time indicates that collision with a meteorite is virtually a certainty. Any such collision will cause an 'explosion' of the ship and passengers resulting from the release of pressure which must be maintained . . . a solution would be the deveolpment of self-sealing walls to absorb such missiles without fracture."

The next most important problem according to the experts, several of them former German scientists, would be conditioning men to exist where there is no gravity.

Must Be Equipped

Space flyers also must be equipped to react quickly enough to control a ship traveling 125 miles a second. Normal human nervous reaction is so slow that a rocket plane would travel 25 miles while its pilot was perceiving its flight.

Other speakers included Maj. Gen. Harry G. Armstrong, surgeon general of the air force and founder of the space medicine department; Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, vice president of the University of Illinois and member of the committee on aviation medicine of the Na[illegible]cil; Dr. Wernher Van Braun, a leader in German development of the V-2 rocket; Drs. Konrad Buettner and Hubertus Strugheld, German scientists working at Randolph Field; and Drs. Otto Gauer and Walter Dornberger of the aeromedical laboratory at Wright Field, Dayton, O.

Eight Butler Men Agree To Stay Sober

BUTLER, Pa., March 6.—(INS)—Eight Butler men who pleaded guilty to being public nuisances accepted a judge's offer to take an institutional cure for alcoholism and then remain sober for six months or receive six-month jail terms.

A ninth, who pleaded not guilty, refused the "cure" offer. But he will have to observe Judge William B. Purvis' edict or go to jail.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, March 4.—Wendell Corey will tell you that a movie star, in addition to knocking down a juicy paycheck each and every week—when he is working—also soaks up a liberal education in a variety of subjects.

Corey, burly son of a retired New England minister, admitted today:

"Of course, an actor can't put much of the technical info he acquires to practical use after the new picture is finished. But it's surprising how it all really savvys a guy up.

"In one of my flickers I learned how to stalk tigers. I wanted to volunteer for that leopard hunt in Oklahoma City the other day. While I don't expect to go on any African safari very soon, I sure learned, through a screen role, how to stalk big cats."

Knows How

Corey, whose profile looks like he ran into too many swing doors, does not particularly hanker to take up the practice of law at the stage of his affairs. But he knows how a barrister should conduct himself.

During the filming of "Thelma Jordan" Wendell learned how to address a hard hearted jury. He spent a dozen days learning rules and procedures of law from one of Paramount studios' attorneys.

Corey recalled:

"When I made 'No Sad Songs for Me' I was instructed in the rudiments of surveying for a couple of weeks, so I could give a reasonable imitation of a surveyor."

Took to Theater

Corey's first ambition, as a kid, was to be a detective, but Wendell wound up on the stages of sundry little theaters around and about New England.

Eventually he bounced onto Broadway and tallied his first footlight hit as a cynical newspaperman in "Dream Girl."

He finally found his chance to make like a high powered investigator after going to Hollywood where his initial picture was "The Accused," with Loretta Young and Robert Cummings.

"Then," said Corey, "for 'Man-Eaters of Kumaon' they had me taking instructions from a former big game hunter. He drilled me on the way tigers are hunted and killed On second thought, maybe it's just as well that I didn't help hunt that Oklahoma leopard."

Learned Card Tricks

The big guy reckons that more directly useful will be tutoring he received recently from Harry Mendoza, a card expert and magician. Wendell learned how to handle the pasteboards like a pro for his role in "The Furies," in which he portrays a gambler of the early west.

"But it has ruined canasta games with my pals," he said. "They're all afraid of me now."

RECORD SQUASHER

CARBONDALE, Ill. — (INS)—Pupils who didn't study for midterm examinations at Southern Illinois University will fare just as well in grades as those who did. Fire which swept an administration building destroyed all the mid-term papers, results of intelligence tests and personnel records dating back 25 years.

WOULD MOUNT LEOPARD

CLEARFIELD, Pa., March 6.—(INS)—Officials of the Clearfield Taxidermy company have offered to Mount Oklahoma City's famous leopard free of charge and they guaranteed to do the "finest work."

In a telegram to the mayor of Oklahoma City, the Clearfield concern asked him to ship the leopard air express, collect.

Bonus Checks Are Now Being Written

HARRISBURG, March 6.—(INS)(INS)—Bonus checks by the thousands are being written today in the veterans compensation bureau.

Mailing cannot start until March 17 so the checks will be stored away to await the go-ahead date.

The first block of checks to be processed totals 30,000, representing roughtly, $10,500,000 in funds for Keystone state ex-servicemen. A potential 1,215,000 checks are on the way, to be paid for by an original bond issue of $375,000,000.

Check number one for $285 will be payable to York veteran Robert W. Bowman, Jr., whose application was drawn at random from a mail bag by Gov. James H. Duff to signal the start of processing.

A goal of 300,000 claims processed for check-writing by the first day of payment is being aimed at by the bureau.

The checks, to be written at the rate of 35 to 40 a minute, will reach a production of 10,000 a day, the bureau predicts.

Dr. Heinz Haber of the air force aeromedical laboratory at Randoph Field, Tex., said:

May Be Attempted

"We have to expect that manned rocket flights will be attempted soon. The canned air problem in pressurized cabins of space ships can be solved the same as in submarines. The temperature problem is now understood. Only our knowledge of the outside atmosphere—space—is not understood, not conclusive.

"(But) everything we have examined up to this time indicates that collision with a meteorite is virtually a certainty. Any such collision will cause an 'explosion' of the ship and passengers resulting from the release of pressure which must be maintained . . . a solution would be the development of self-sealing walls to absorb such missiles without fracture."

The next most important problem according to the experts, several of them former German scientists, would be conditioning men to exist where there is no gravity.

Must Be Equipped

Space flyers also must be equipped to react quickly enough to control a ship traveling 125 miles a second. Normal human nervous reaction is so slow that a rocket plane would travel 25 miles while its pilot was perceiving its flight.

Other speakers included Maj. Gen. Harry G. Armstrong, surgeon general of the air force and founder of the space medicine department; Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, vice president of the University of Illinois and member of the committee on aviation medicine of the National Research Council; Dr. Wernher Van Braun, a leader in German development of the V-2 rocket; Drs. Konrad Buettner and Hubertus Strugheld, German scientists working at Randolph Field; and Drs. Otto Gauer and Walter Dornberger of the aeromedical laboratory at Wright Field, Dayton, O.

Eight Butler Men Agree To Stay Sober

BUTLER, Pa., March 6.—(INS)—Eight Butler men who pleaded guilty to being public nuisances accepted a judge's offer to take an institutional cure for alcoholism and then remain sober for six months or receive six-month jail terms.

A ninth, who pleaded not guilty, refused the "cure" offer. But he will have to observe Judge William B. Purvis' edict or go to jail.

Around Hollywood

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, March 4.—Wendell Corey will tell you that a movie star, in addition to knocking down a juicy paycheck each and every week—when he is working—also soaks up a liberal education in a variety of subjects.

Corey, burly son of a retired New England minister, admitted today:

"Of course, an actor can't put much of the technical info he acquires to practical use after the new picture is finished. But it's surprising how it all really savvys a guy up.

"In one of my flickers I learned how to stalk tigers. I wanted to volunteer for that leopard hunt in Oklahoma City the other day. While I don't expect to go on any African safari very soon, I sure learned, through a screen role, how to stalk big cats."

Knows How

Corey, whose profile looks like he ran into too many swing doors, does not particularly hanker to take up the practice of law at the stage of his affairs. But he knows how a barrister should conduct himself.

During the filming of "Thelma Jordan" Wendell learned how to address a hard hearted jury. He spent a dozen days learning rules and procedures of law from one of Paramount studios' attorneys.

Corey recalled:

"When I made 'No Sad Songs for Me' I was instructed in the rudiments of surveying for a couple of weeks, so I could give a reasonable imitation of a surveyor."

Took to Theater

Corey's first ambition, as a kid, was to be a detective, but Wendell wound up on the stages of sundry little theaters around and about New England.

Eventually he bounced onto Broadway and tallied his first footlight hit as a cynical newspaperman in "Dream Girl."

He finally found his chance to make like a high powered investigator after going to Hollywood where his initial picture was "The Accused," with Loretta Young and Robert Cummings.

"Then," said Corey, "for 'Man-Eaters of Kumaon' they had me taking instructions from a former big game hunter. He drilled me on the way tigers are hunted and killed On second thought, maybe it's just as well that I didn't help hunt that Oklahoma leopard."

Learned Card Tricks

The big guy reckons that more directly useful will be tutoring he received recently from Harry Mendoza, a card expert and magician. Wendell learned how to handle the pasteboards like a pro for his role in "The Furies," in which he portrays a gambler of the early west.

"But it has ruined canasta games with my pals," he said. "They're all afraid of me now."

CLEARFIELD, Pa., March 6.—(INS)—Officials of the Clearfield Taxidermy company have offered to Mount Oklahoma City's famous leopard free of charge and they guaranteed to do the "finest work."

In a telegram to the mayor of Oklahoma City, the Clearfield concern asked him to ship the leopard air express, collect.

Bonus Checks Are Now Being Written

HARRISBURG, March 6.—(INS) (INS)—Bonus checks by the thousands are being written today in the veterans compensation bureau.

Mailing cannot start until March 17 so the checks will be stored away to await the go-ahead date.

The first block of checks to be processed totals 30,000, representing roughtly, $10,500,000 in funds for Keystone state ex-servicemen. A potential 1,215,000 checks are on the way, to be paid for by an original bond issue of $375,000,000.

Check number one for $285 will be payable to York veteran Robert W. Bowman, Jr., whose application was drawn at random from a mail bag by Gov. James H. Duff to signal the start of processing.

A goal of 300,000 claims processed for check-writing by the first day of payment is being aimed at by the bureau.

The checks, to be written at the rate of 35 to 40 a minute, will reach a production of 10,000 a day, the bureau predicts.

Bomb Attacks On U.S. Certainty In New War

WASHINGTON, March 6.—(INS)—America's top defense planners are agreed today that atomic bomb attacks on the U. S. homeland are a certainty in any new war, with the surest countermeasure an "instant and devastating" retaliation through the air.

Defense Secretary Johnson declared that the American people must reconcile themselves to the fact that a new war may bring the havoc of atomic destruction to their homeland. Warning that the military leaders cannot guarantee complete immunity from the bombs, he asserted:

"Some atomic raids may penetrate our cordon of defense no matter how strong we make it."

Johnson's warning, issued before the Overseas Press club in New York, backed up Air Secretary Symington's summation of America's atomic defense problem before a congressional committee. Symington, also sounding the grave possibility of an atomic Pearl Harbor, declared:

Best Defense

"In my opinion, the best defense we can have is the strength of an instant and devastating retaliatory attack, regardless of the year."

Both leaders, citing the formidable size of Russia's air force, said the fact that the Soviets have at present no plane comparable in range to the U. S. B-36 does not eliminate the extreme probability of atomic attacks anywhere in this country.

"One-way planes," according to Symington, could deliver their bombs and then be ditched by their crews, who would find shelter with U. S. communists and fifth columnists.

Johnson said it is possible that the bomber pilots would be "kamikaze" zealots whose fiery patriotism would be climaxed by suicide bomb drops.

Million Persons Take Red Cross Safety Courses

More [illegible] persons completed Red Cross courses in first aid, accident prevention, swimmin, and life saving last year, chapter officials here announced yesterday in reporting on national Red Cross safety service programs. Additional millions were reached with information and training in these safety skills through other means.

Primary purpose of the safety program, chapter officials said, is prevention of accidents—now a leading cause of deat' among children and fourth ranking cause of death among persons of all ages. First aid training has proved to be one of the mot effective means of preventing accidents, it was pointed out.

Aimed specifically at reducing accidents among children was a Red Cross program of accident prevention courses for junior high school students and wide dissemination of teaching guides for use in the primary and elementary grades. Approximately 2,000,000 children were reached with this program last year. A recently published Red Cross first aid textbook for juniors is being widely used in schools and among youth groups throughout the nation.

In other safety fields the Red Cross issued a record 677,368 water safety certificates; qualified nearly 3,500 students as instructors in first aid and water safety at 38 national aquatic schools; and maintained more than 2,000 volunteer highway first aid stations and almost 11,000 mobile units.

Seek Legislation To Provide Safety

PITTSBURGH, March 6.—(INS)—An AFL official said in Pittsburgh that his union would seek state legislation to govern elevator operators and compel the use of all attendants in apartment buildings six stories and higher.

He is Charles G. Levey, international union vice president, who said a resolution by AFL Building Service Employes, local 29, will be presented to the AFL Pennsylvania Federation of Labor convention at Harrisburg in May.

Levey defined the proposal as a safety move for tenants whom he claims are not protected at night from prowlers. He contended that having attendants on duty will guarantee assistance if self-service elevators break down.

The union's proposal would compel installation of either self-service or manual elevators in six-floor multiple dwellings. Eight-floor and higher buildings would have manual elevators.

Suggest Renewal Of Driver's License Once In Three Years

HARRISBURG, March 6.—(INS)—Pennsylvania motorists could be relieved of "annual and unnecessary inconvenience" if their operators' licenses were renewed only once every three years, Motor Club officials asserted today.

Officers of 57 AAA automobile clubs in the state, attending the annual Pennsylvania Motor Federation Secretaries-Managers conference at Harrisburg, unanimously adopted a resolution proposing that the PMF's executive committee investigate the three-year license renewal plan.

If a thorough study should prove the plan feasible, the resolution said, it should be adopted as part of the federation's 1951 legislative program.

The officials said other states successfully are using a system whereby operators' licenses are effective for three years from the date of issue, renewable every third year on the birth date of the applicant.

"The present system results in annual and unnecessary inconvenience to the motorists of Pennsylvania and imposes on the Pennsylvania Department of Revenue tremendous peak loads of work annually," the resolution stated.

In 1631 an edition of the Bible was printed which was called "The Wicked Bible." It was because the printer carelessly omitted the negative from the Seventh Commandment. He was fined 300 pounds.

Poetry Group Irish Program

New Castle Poetry club held their appreciation meeting Friday evening at the residence of Miss Betty Gray, Taylor street, and a surprise "Irish" program was presented.

Mrs. Josephine Alexander and Miss Garnet Rhodes read from a selection of Irish poems. Mrs. George Henderson read, "Guinvere," by Sara Teasdale, and as essay, "Tea and Friendship," by Lin-Yutan.

The poem-writing contest for students of New Castle high school was discussed. There will be a first prize of $5 to the winner, a second prize of $2 and third, fourth and fifth prizes of $1 each.

Poems are to be submitted, and Ben Rosenbaum is the chairman of this contest, which is now in progress.

President Miss Frances Haydon presided during the brief discussion period. An informal period ensued with a quotation quiz being enjoyed. Quotations of poems were read and members had to identify both the poem and author. Miss Frances Haydon was the winner who identified the poems and authors.

A delicious lunch was later served, and in keeping with the Irish theme, the St. Patrick's color scheme of green and white predominated at the nicely arranged table. A crystal and green tree centered the table.

Mary Etta Daugherty, special guest, assisted Miss Gray in serving lunch.

On Friday, March 17, the poetry group will have their workshop meeting.

CELEBRATING FIFTEENTH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

"I shall be married 15 years next April and should like to give a party to celebrate my anniversary. Is it proper to do so? Whom should I invite? What is the best time—afternoon or evening? What should I serve? If I serve punch, what will be suitable to go with it? When should gifts be opened and by whom?"

Answer. It is certainly quite proper to celebrate your 15th wedding anniversary and your party may be in the afternoon or the evening according to your wishes. You may invite as few or as many guests as you desire.

You may serve punch and tea sandwiches in the afternoon and a buffet supper in the evening. A friend or relative might serve at the punch bowl.

Gifts should be opened by you, the recipient, as they are received, and the donors thanked as soon as they are received.

Question: Is it necessary to wear black when attending the funeral of a friend or is this necessary for only those members of the family at the head of the procession?

Answer: Friends who attend the funeral need not dress in mourning. They should, however, avoid bright colors.

Question: For how many vegetables should I place saucers at the side of each table?

Answer: Never place on your table any saucers or small separate plates for vegetables. The only extra plates which are permissible (for anything but a family dinner) are bread and butter plates.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal relpies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

NEW YORK.—(INS)—Cocktails as we know them today are a comparatively recent innovation, but one of the first mixed drink's in the country dates back to early colonial times in Virginia, where planters started their day with a "julap" of rum, water and sugar. Poetry Group Irish Program

New Castle Poetry club held their appreciation meeting Friday evening at the residence of Miss Betty Gray, Taylor street, and a surprise "Irish" program was presented.

Mrs. Josephine Alexander and Miss Garnet Rhodes read from a selection of Irish poems. Mrs. George Henderson read, "Guinevere," by Sara Teasdale, and as essay, "Tea and Friendship," by Lin-Yutan.

The poem-writing contest for students of New Castle high school was discussed. There will be a first prize of $5 to the winner, a second prize of $2 and third, fourth and fifth prizes of $1 each.

Poems are to be submitted, and Ben Rosenbaum is the chairman of this contest, which is now in progress.

President Miss Frances Haydon presided during the brief discussion period. An informal period ensued with a quotation quiz being enjoyed. Quotations of poems were read and members had to identify both the poem and author. Miss Frances Haydon was the winner who identified the poems and authors.

A delicious lunch was later served, and in keeping with the Irish theme, the St. Patrick's color scheme of green and white predominated at the nicely arranged table. A crystal and green tree centered the table.

Mary Etta Daugherty, special guest, assisted Miss Gray in serving lunch.

On Friday, March 17, the poetry group will have their workshop meeting.

CELEBRATING FIFTEENTH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

"I shall be married 15 years next April and should like to give a party to celebrate my anniversary. Is it proper to do so? Whom should I invite? What is the best time—afternoon or evening? What should I serve? If I serve punch, what will be suitable to go with it? When should gifts be opened and by whom?"

Answer. It is certainly quite proper to celebrate your 15th wedding anniversary and your party may be in the afternoon or the evening according to your wishes. You may invite as few or as many guests as you desire.

You may serve punch and tea sandwiches in the afternoon and a buffet supper in the evening. A friend or relative might serve at the punch bowl.

Gifts should be opened by you, the recipient, as they are received, and the donors thanked as soon as they are received.

Question: Is it necessary to wear black when attending the funeral of a friend or is this necessary for only those members of the family at the head of the procession?

Answer: Friends who attend the funeral need not dress in mourning. They should, however, avoid bright colors.

Question: For how many vegetables should I place saucers at the side of each table?

Answer: Never place on your table any saucers or small separate plates for vegetables. The only extra plates which are permissible (for anything but a family dinner) are bread and butter plates.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal relpies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

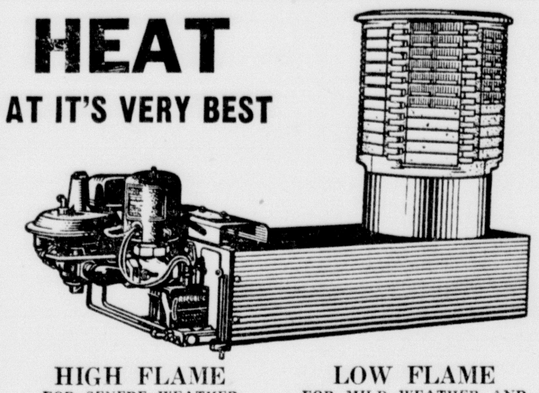

NEW YORK.—(INS)—Cocktails as we know them today are a comparatively recent innovation, but one of the first mixed drink's in the country dates back to early colonial times in Virginia, where planters started their day with a "julap" of rum, water and sugar. It was the grand-daddy of the present-day julep.

FORE AND AFT — a Beauty and a Buy

It's lithe, long and lovely—and it calls not just for one look, but for two.

See how this sleek Sedan looks coming down the road—bold grillwork shining, broad bonnet purring with power, and the wide, curving, unbroken sweep of a one-piece windshield giving you horizon-wide outlook.

The broad, wrap-around rear window and topside styling in the Buick Riviera manner.

The graceful, spacious trunk, the "double bubble" taillights, the sense of high-fashion fleetness in everything from rear fender lines to the curve of the roof.

Yes, that's beauty—beauty in the unmistakable Buick manner. But observe also:

Interiors are extra roomy in all dimensions. The biggest you can buy for the money, we believe—and bigger than many higher-priced cars.

And, since this is a Buick SUPER, there's sensational new power under the hood—Buick's own F-263 Fireball straight-eight, this year's big news in valve-in-head power.

Yes, when you go stepping in this one, you'll really step—with roominess and top-drawer styling and the level going of all-coil springing—yes, and Dynaflow Drive* too, if you choose—making your pleasure complete.

The price? Well, drop in on your Buick dealer, ask about the SUPER 126 and be prepared for happy listening. Here's a buy—so grand a buy you'll lose no time getting behind a Buick wheel.

Royalties On Book Donated

NEW YORK, March 6.—(INS)—Columbia university announced that John Gunther, author and foreign correspondent, has turned over to the university $4,937 royalties on his book, "Death Be Not Proud".

The money was given for research in neurological surgery for children, according to Dr. Willard C. Rappleye, dean of the faculty of medicine. Dr. Rappleye also announced that Harper and Brothers, the publishers, have contributed $825 in earnings toward the project.

The Gunther fund, to be known as "The John Gunther, Jr. Memorial Gift", has been established in the department of neurological surgery at Columbia. Gunther's son died of a brain tumor at the age of 17 and he was the subject of the book. John, Jr., was treated at the neurological institute at the Columbia-Presbyterian medical center before his death in June, 1947.

In making his contribution Gunther told the university he believes further research in the field of neurological surgery for children would do much to provide medical science with the weapons it urgently needs to combat brain tumors and allied diseases. He said he hopes his gift will spur other parents to contribute to the Columbia project.

Hope For Contract Between Hard Coal Miners And Operators

SCRANTON, Pa., March 6.—Spokesmen for card coal operators and miners looked to signing of a contract in the bituminous fields as a major step toward settlement of the wage dispute in the anthracite industry.

Spokesmen for both sides, who declined to be quoted, expressed the belief that anthracite mines probably will return to full production this week. They are now running on a three-day weekly basis.

The next move in anthracite negotiations, underway now for 13 weeks, will come Monday afternoon in New York when operators and United Mine Workers negotiators meet after a weekend recess.

Ralph Taggart ,anthracite operators' negotiating committee chairman, said in Scranton that he does not look for any change in time of the meeting.

NEW RATES ON FILE

HARRISBURG, March 6.—(INS)—New rates of the Shenango Valley Water Co., of Sharon, on file today with the Public Utility commission, call for a 26 per cent increase in metered rates May 1 and 25 per cent increase in flat rates.

The increased rates would add $96,350 annually to the earnings of the company, which serves 11,600 customers in Sharon, Farrell, Wheatland, and Hickory township, Mercer county.

More Communities Given Orders On Sewage Treatment

HARRISBURG, March 6.—(INS) The sanitary water board has issued orders to 20 more communities along the Susquehanna and Juniata rivers to construct sewage treatment works for operation by June 1, 1952.

Tyrone, Lewistown and Huntingdon on the Juniata were notified by the board to take action in line with the state's stream purification program.

The board also sent orders to the following communities along the Susquehanna: Wormleysburg, Columbia, Marysville, Dauphin, Duncannon, Millersburg, Orthampton, Danville, Catawissa, Berwick, Necospec, West Pittston, Watsontown, Jersey Shore, Lock Haven, Holtwood and Lo alsock.

Earlier, orders went to Harrisburg, Sunbury, Williamsport and South Williamsport, all on the Susquehanna.

The board said it intends for all communities along the two rivers and the Juniata's tributaries to build treament plans as part of the clean streams program.

Suggests Free Spuds For All Tax-Supported Institutions In U.S.

WASHINGTON, March 6—(INS)—Majority Leader Lucas (D. Ill., proposed that the 50 million bushels of surplus potatoes be given free to all "tax-supported institutions" with the government paying the freight and handling charges.

Lucas made his proposal to the senate-house conferees attempting to iron out differences in legislation to revise cotton and wheat acreage upwards. The bill would remove price supports from potatoes in 1951 unless they are under tight marketing quota controls.

Lucas told reporters that, under his suggestion, the surplus potatoes would go free to tax-supported institutions at all levels, federal, tate and municipal.

At present, the agriculture department can give potatoes to charitable organizations, but these institutions must pay freight costs.

An additional 3,101 schools provide classroom instruction only. More than 400,000 students are now enrolled in these courses.

Estimate Striking Miners Lost $1,873 Awaiting Contract

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 6.—(INS)—A coal operator spokesman Saturday said the average West Virginia miner has lost $1,873 in strikes, mourning periods and limited work weeks in the last 14 months.

Jesse V. Sullivan, secretary of the West Virginia Coal Operators Association, said that under the new contract resulting from the strike just ending, it will take 13.4 years at an average of 200 working days annually for the state's miners to recoup the loss of wages.

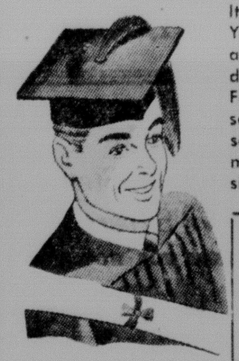

"The miner is the biggest loser," Sullivan stated.

Collectively, the 110,000 United Mine Workers in West Virginia have lost 222 million dollars in wages since Jan. 1, 1949, because of work stoppages, he said. Sullivan added:

"The loss of coal markets to oil and gas during the strikes will also tend to decrease the earnings of the miners by reducing the number of work days."

First Aid Class Being Offered By Red Cross Chapter

In response to numerous requests for the presentation of a first aid class, Mrs. Plummer Gibson, first aid chairman, Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, announced that a new class in Standard First Aid will be offered.

This class will meet Tuesday March 7, at 7:30 p. m. in the Red Cross Chapter House, 39 North Beaver street. Harry Culliford, well-known first aid instructor will be the instructor for this class.

The class comprises 18 hours of instruction and practical application. It covers practical emergency treatment for burns, cuts, fractures, shock, and the mulitude of injuries to which the average person is exposed many times in a day.

In speaking of the course, Mr. Culliford stated that he feels that it should be mandatory for all motorists, and that it cannot be too strongly urged upon all homemakers. Many of our daily emergencies, particularly affecting children, are met in the home, and the knowledge of first aid should be a part of every mother's equipment for her job.

Registrations for the class are still open. There is no charge for the course. Anyone who is interested in enrolling may do so by calling the Red Cross.

P. L. Kerr's Brother Is Dead At Mars

T. Kerr, aged 79 years, died Sunday at 2:25 p. m. at his home in Mars after a long illness, according to a message received by his brother, Perry L. Kerr, 1908 Highland avenue.

Survivors besides his brother are: his widow, nee Ollie Campbell; one son, T. Kerr, Evans City; a sister, Mrs. Margaret Kerr, Cooperstown, and two grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday at 2 p. m. from the McDonald funeral home, Mars. Burial will take place in that city.

Purchasers Will Meet Wednesday

Members of the newly organized Purchasing Agents Association of Western Pennsylvania will have their next meeting at the office of the Johnson Bronze company Wednesday evening, March 8, at 8 o'clock.

At this meeting seven directors will be elected and the first reading of the constitution and by-laws will be had, so it is expected that there will be a large attendence of the membership.

It is planned to join the National Association of Purchasing Agents at the June meeting of the executive board of the parent organization.

Officers who have been elected to serve the local chapter during the coming year are: President, E. Frank Strizzi, United Engineering and Foundry Co., New Castle plant; vice president, R. Henderson, Robinson Ventilating Co., Zelienople; secretary, J. Williams, Bossert company, New Castle Division; treasurer, R. McCoy Cooper-Bessemer Corp., Bessemer.

The local chapter has a lot of enthusiasm and expects to go places. Any purchasing agent interested in affiliating with the organization is invited to attend Wednesday's meeting.

The origin of the red-and-white striped pole in front of a barber shop dates back to the times when barbers also practiced surgery. The stripes of the pole symbolized the bandage with which the barber wrapped the patient after bloodletting.

Polish Consul To Seek To Remain In United States

PITTSBURGH, March 6.—(INS)—Josef Patyk, 39-ear-old consul of Poland in Pittsburgh, said today he would ask the United States government permission to stay in this country and make a living for his wife and ten-year-old daughter.

He resigned as consul for the Polish government yesterday because "I came to the conclusion that Poland becomes more and more the victim of Russian imperialism and the government of Poland is subject to that submission."

Patyk had been consul in Pittsburgh since last October. Prior to that he served the Polish government in New York and Chicago for three years.

REPORT QUAKES

Arbitration Board To Draft Agreement To Settle Dispute

TRENTON, N. J., March 6.—(INS)—An arbitration board was charged today with drafting a settlement of the contract dispute between the New Jersey Bell Telephone Co. and 12,000 operators.

Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll seized the company's facilities last Wednesday following a breakdown of negotiations. The operators seek a seven-dollar weekly pay incraese and other benefits.

The arbitration board is expected to hold its first meeting Monday at the offices of the state mediation board at Newark.

GOVERNOR TO SPEAK

BETHLEHEM, Pa., March 6.—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff will be the principal speaker at the fourth annual production conference of the Pennsylvania Manufacturing Confectioner's association on April 27 and 29 at Lehigh university.

The conference, especially designed for plant superintendents and foremen of candy-making firms, is sponsored by the confectioners and the Lehigh University Institute of Research. More than 200 delegates are expected.

GAS MISERY
Takes Joy Out of Life

Recently a New Castle man said he used to feel like a swollen balloon after every meal. His food turned right into gas; he had gas pains almost constantly.

Now this man is praising CERTA-VIN. He said this new medicine moved inches of bloat from his stomach and now he can eat what he pleases, without gas misery.

CERTA-VIN is taken before meals and works with your food; thus you get the fullest good out of your meals. It contains Ten Great Herbs with vitamin B and Iron, so it not only relieves gas; it also makes the nerves stronger with vitamin B and enriches the blood with iron. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get CERTA-VIN—at any drug store in New Castle, or nearby towns.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Harold Ross, editor of "The Stars and Stripes," the doughboy's newspaper in World War I, came home from Paris after the Armistice, with the basic plan for the "New Yorker Magazine" churning in his not-to-well-ordered but ever-active mind. Scarcely off the transport, he encountered Secretary of War Newton D. Baker at a party, and listened in grave silence while Mr. Baker outlined the strategy that had brought the Allies victory.

When Mr. Baker had concluded, Ross conceded, "Well, Mr. Secretary, you've cleared up everything except how Joe Higgins was ever made corporal of my squad."

When Editor Harry Maule returned from his Colorado angling expedition he was asked, "Well, how were the fish in those parts?" Maule sighed, "I can't really say. For three weeks I dropped them a line twice a day—but I had no reply."

Statewide Radar Air Spotting To Be Started

PHILADELPHIA, March 6.—(INS)—A statewide radar air raid spotting system manned by 13,000 civilian volunteers will begin functioning in Pennsylvania by May 1.

Judge Vincent Carroll, chairman of the Committee of Defense for Pennsylvania, said the air force will install the radar apparatus in various locations throughout the state.

Pittsburgh, Harrisburg and Philadelphia will be regional headquarters for the state radar net, Carroll said.

The civilian volunteers will be trained for their jobs by regular and reserve air force officers.

How Important Is This Man's "YES"?

J. J. ALEXANDER

He's the man whose "yes" helped to put an ambitious boy through medical school.

Another occasion, his friendly "yes" started a man in business and today that man's business is a growing, paying proposition.

And then there was the time his "yes" enabled a worried family to get from under a stack of unpaid bills and his friendly advice put that family's budget on a sound, secure basis.

This man whose "yes" has brought peace of mind to thousands of people by helping them get a fresh start is the manager of the Personal Finance Co. office in this city.

Report Made On Contest

Warmer weather brought out the largest attendance of the year at Highland Bible school last Sunday, when 492 were inattendance. There was a general increase in eight of the nine classes and in four departments.

The Mercer class with an attendance of 44 topped all classes with 211 points earned. Second place was taken for the day by the Smith class with 203 points. The Mercer class now has a lead of 36 points for the permanent class banner.

Again the Junior department, with Mrs. J. A. Sommer as department head, came to the front and scored 166 points to top the other departments. The department race is very closely contested.

The Baldwin class went into the lead for the Class Church Attendance banner with an average percentage of 99%, and the Young People's department gained first place in church attendance when they raised their average church attendance percentage to 65%.

The standings follow:

Polish Consul To Seek To Remain In United States

PITTSBURGH, March 6.—(INS)—Josef Patyk, 39-ear-old consul of Poland in Pittsburgh, said today he would ask the United States government permission to stay in this country and make a living for his wife and ten-year-old daughter.

He resigned as consul for the Polish government yesterday because "I came to the conclusion that Poland becomes more and more the victim of Russian imperialism and the government of Poland is subject to that submission."

Patyk had been consul in Pittsburgh since last October. Prior to that he served the Polish government in New York and Chicago for three years.

Arbitration Board To Draft Agreement To Settle Dispute

TRENTON, N. J., March 6.—(INS)—An arbitration board was charged today with drafting a settlement of the contract dispute between the New Jersey Bell Telephone Co. and 12,000 operators.

Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll seized the company's facilities last Wednesday following a breakdown of negotiations. The operators seek a seven-dollar weekly pay incraese and other benefits.

The arbitration board is expected to hold its first meeting Monday at the offices of the state mediation board at Newark.

GOVERNOR TO SPEAK

BETHLEHEM, Pa., March 6.—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff will be the principal speaker at the fourth annual production conference of the Pennsylvania Manufacturing Confectioner's association on April 27 and 29 at Lehigh university.

The conference, especially designed for plant superintendents and foremen of candy-making firms, is sponsored by the confectioners and the Lehigh University Institute of Research. More than 200 delegates are expected.

GAS MISERY

Takes Joy Out of Life

Recently a New Castle man said he used to feel like a swollen balloon after every meal. His food turned right into gas; he had gas pains almost constantly.

Now this man is praising CERTA-VIN. He said this new medicine moved inches of bloat from his stomach and now he can eat what he pleases, without gas misery.

CERTA-VIN is taken before meals and works with your food; thus you get the fullest good out of your meals. It contains Ten Great Herbs with vitamin B and Iron, so it not only relieves gas; it also makes the nerves stronger with vitamin B and enriches the blood with iron. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get CERTA-VIN—at any drug store in New Castle, or nearby towns.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Harold Ross, editor of "The Stars and Stripes," the doughboy's newspaper in World War I, came home from Paris after the Armistice, with the basic plan for the "New Yorker Magazine" churning in his not-to-well-ordered but ever-active mind. Scarcely off the transport, he encountered Secretary of War Newton D. Baker at a party, and listened in grave silence while Mr. Baker outlined the strategy that had brought the Allies victory.

When Mr. Baker had concluded, Ross conceded, "Well, Mr. Secretary, you've cleared up everything except how Joe Higgins was ever made corporal of my squad."

When Editor Harry Maule returned from his Colorado angling expedition he was asked, "Well, how were the fish in those parts?" Maule sighed, "I can't really say. For three weeks I dropped them a line twice a day—but I had no reply."

Statewide Radar Air Spotting To Be Started

PHILADELPHIA, March 6.—(INS)—A statewide radar air raid spotting system manned by 13,000 civilian volunteers will begin functioning in Pennsylvania by May 1.

Judge Vincent Carroll, chairman of the Committee of Defense for Pennsylvania, said the air force will install the radar apparatus in various locations throughout the state.

Pittsburgh, Harrisburg and Philadelphia will be regional headquarters for the state radar net, Carroll said.

The civilian volunteers will be trained for their jobs by regular and reserve air force officers.

How Important Is This Man's "YES"?

J. J. ALEXANDER

He's the man whose "yes" helped to put an ambitious boy through medical school.

Another occasion, his friendly "yes" started a man in business and today that man's business is a growing, paying proposition.

And then there was the time his "yes" enabled a worried family to get from under a stack of unpaid bills and his friendly advice put that family's budget on a sound, secure basis.

This man whose "yes" has brought peace of mind to thousands of people by helping them get a fresh start is the manager of the Personal Finance Co. office in this city.

His job is to make personal loans, and to keep the transactions on a business-like basis. His years of experience with Personal have taught him to respect the honesty of local people—friends, relatives, or employer are not brought into the picture.

Don't borrow unnecessarily. But if a loan—for a month or a year, or longer—is the sensible thing for you (and you're the judge) the YES MAN will appreciate the chance to say "yes."

You can telephone him . . . or drop in to see him at the Personal Finance Company office. He says "yes" to 4 out of 5.

Battlegrounds In Elections For Congress

(Special to Central Press)

WASHINGTON, March 6—President Truman and the Democratic high command are concentrating on three senatorial campaigns, the results of which may have an all-important bearing on the 1952 White House campaign.

These battlegrounds are Ohio, Illinois and Pennsylvania.

Politicos believe that the results in these three states may have a bearing on the President's eventual decision on whether to seek a third term, in the Roosevelt tradition.

In Ohio, the Democrats privately are conceding that Senate GOP policy leader Robert A. Taft probably retain his seat and again become a front contender for the 1952 Presidential nomination on the GOP ticket.

Nevertheless, the President is determined to try to defeat Taft on his home grounds this year

In Illinois, Senate Democratic leader Scott Lucas is fighting for his political life. Former Rep. Everett M. Dirksen, a powerful speaker and vote getter, is expected to give Lucas a terrific race. The administration feels, however, that it can beat Dirksen with Mr. Truman's help.

In Pennsylvania, Senator Francis J. Myers faces tough sledding from whomever the GOP nominates. Myers was elected in the 1944 Roosevelt landslide. The Keystone State went for Dewey in 1948.

Social Security Expansion

Congressional sources say an expansion of the present Social Security program is certain to be voted in another three or four months. This would extend social security to an additional eleven million persons.

The Senate finance committee is expected to finish its hearings on an extension bill in about a month. A check of committee members indicates that the committee-approved bill will follow the measure approved by the House last year.

The bill would expand social security coverage by extending such benefits to self-employed persons, local government workers, employes of many non-profit groups, more food-industry workers and more salesmen.

Changes in the program are expected to become effective by next January 1. That means a payroll tax increase for employers, and for employes making more than $3,000 a year. The tax now stops at that level.

It's Getting Late

Reports that Russia began working on a hydrogen "hell" bomb last September fell with a sickening thud in Washington. President Truman did not order work on the H-bomb to get underway until January 31.

That means, if the reports are true, that Russia, has a four-month start on construction of the world's deadliest weapon. Further, these reports say that Russia expects to test its first H-bomb this summer.

United States H-bomb production plans are so much in the theoretical stage that it seems doubtful that a test bomb can be exploded in America in this short space of time.

The Russians, who are said to be building their "hell" bomb in vast underground laboratories, anticipate that by next fall they'll be stockpiling these lethal weapons—reported to be up to 1,000 times stronger than the original atomic bombs.

Know Too Many Prolific Authors

MANCHESTER, N. H., March 6. (INS)—I've said—it before—and I say it again: When I was a kid in Idaho I didn't know a single, solitary author and I never had it so good.

Now I know all the most prolific authors in the world. Not terrific. The lady said "prolific." I wish to heaven there was something in the literary world akin to "planned parenthood," something that would keep the rate of production down to a slow walk.

When I came to Manchester several years ago to cover the Sander murder trial, I bowed my back beneath the weight of several books hot from the hands (and presses) of loved ones.

Just to give you some idea of the range of my acquaintance in the world of Belle Lettres, my traveling library included Ruth Teague's "Cooking for Company," Bob Considine's "Innocents at Home" and "Chicago Confidential" by Jack Lait and Lee Mortimer.

Can Hardly Wait

As an impassioned amateur cook, I can hardly wait to get home and try Ruths chicken supreme on the four burner and give myself a work-out over a hot stove with her French friend shrimp. This is the first time, in my literary experience, that I have ever stayed in nights to curl up with a good meal.

The Considine book is fine, and I certainly enjoyed all the cute sayings of the parents of the three Considine boys, one of whom is my godson.

I have always felt that Mr. Considine, the well-flavored harp, would skin his kids for a book, and dont think he hasnt in "Innocents at Home."

As a matter of fact, I have not been able to read a book of my own choice since meeting up with Mr. Considine some years ago. When I was young, it was regarded as quite remarkable that a large group of authors, living and dead, had collaborated on something called "The Five Foot Shelf" or Harvard classics.

But Mr. C. alone and unaided is now represented by a six foot shelf in Chez Robb, and is going strong.

Got My Dander

But the book which has really got my dander up is "Chicago Confidential." I had gotten clear over to page 215 without accidents, although honest citizens, gangsters, molls, cops, rats (informers), and innocent by-standers bit the dust of every page. I found myself automatically dodging machine gun bullets by the time I got well into page three.

I was filled with good will toward the Messrs. Lait and Mortimer and awe at their easy authority on life Chicagoan for 214 pages.

But on page 215, these two sometime literary acquaintances blew a beautiful friendship right out the window. Bluntly and without any attempt to cushion the blow, the gents tell me I am still a yokel, a hick and a square from Bellaire despite 23 years in New York devoted to shaking the hay outta my hair.

"The most highly publicized feed emporium in town" says the authors, "Is The pump room in the Hotel Ambassador East, a favorite stopping-over place for the so-called glamour set. The sophisticate who patronizes it is a peasant who overdresses himself and his blonde and shoots the roll in the place."

So I'm a peasant, yet! Not only a hick, yokel and square, but, perish forbid! A Peasant!

Sure, I love the waiters at the Pump Room in their white satin knee britiches, their white wigs and their red coats. They slay me every time they bring in a steak or a chicken liver or a hot pastrami on a flaming sword. And I thought I loved it simply because I love nice things. But no. I love them because I am a Peasant.

Once upon a dreamy time during a political convention in Chicago I went to the Pump Room with a Peasant type named Bugs Baer.

And Bugs told the waiters he wished them to bring him in—on their flaming swords—an order of soft scrambled eggs. Gad, how we yokels loved it!

But now my lit'ry friends have cased the joint and found it just another sucker-trap.

Please, please, boys, you are speaking of the cafeteria I love!

Liquor License Fund Refunds Are Ordered

HARRISBURG, March 6.—(INS)—Payments totaling $3,149,225 to cities, boroughs and townships in the commonwealth have been approved by Auditor General Weldon B. Heyburn.

He said that the money represents a refund from the license fund of the liquor control board, for licenses issued in the respective municipalities.

The amount distributed is based on number and value of licenses in the communities involved, ranging from $1,659,725 in Philadelphia to $50 in small communities.

Local Doctors On Conference Two-Day Program

Several local physicians have returned from attending the 38th annual conference of secretaries and editors of component societies of the Medical Societies of the State of Pennsylvania. The Thursday and Friday two-day conference was held in Harrisburg.

Those who attended were: President, Dr. Mary Baker Davis; secretary, Dr. Wilbur E. Flannery, and Dr. Charles H. Whalen, representative of public relations of Lawrence county, and Dr. D. C. Young, representative of the Medical Economic committee of Lawrence county.

Dr. Mary Baker Davis was scheduled on Thursday's program, and spoke on "A Critical Consideration of the Medical Society Public Relations Program."

Dr. Charles H. Whalen was on the program Friday. He reported on the progress of Lawrence County Medical society's emergency medical call service.

Dr. Wilbur E. Flannery was again elected to serve on the program to arrange the annual conference in 1951 to be in Harrisburg. Dr. Flannery was the chairman of this year's program committee on arrangements.

Traffic Conference Set For March 29-31

STATE COLLEGE, March 6.—Aware of the problems created by an increased number of vehicles on the highways, traffic engineers today moved ahead with plans for a conference to be held at the Pennsylvania State college March 29 to 31.

The program is designed especially for traffic engineers, municipal engineers, police officers and others interested in safe, efficient traffic flow.

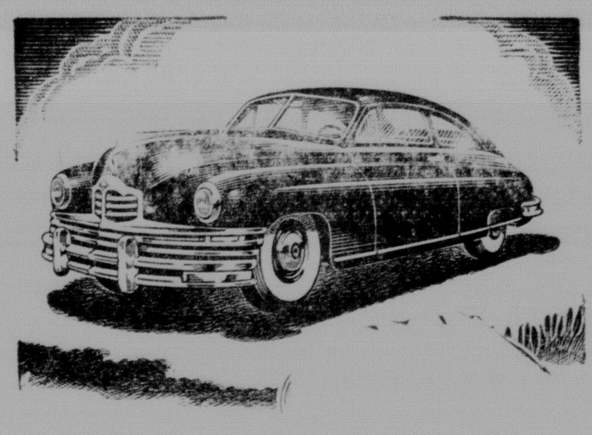

Practical approaches to common traffic problems will be outlined during the sessions which also will include discussions on traffic regulations, traffic studies and traffic design and planning.

Prominent traffic engineers, including members of the Institute of Traffic Engineers and the Yale Bureau of Traffic, will head the list of speakers.

Departments of the college participating include civil engineering, institute of local government, and institute of public safety.

Battlegrounds In Elections For Congress

(Special to Central Press)

WASHINGTON, March 6—President Truman and the Democratic high command are concentrating on three senatorial campaigns, the results of which may have an all-important bearing on the 1952 White House campaign.

These battlegrounds are Ohio, Illinois and Pennsylvania.

Politicos believe that the results in these three states may have a bearing on the President's eventual decision on whether to seek a third term, in the Roosevelt tradition.

In Ohio, the Democrats privately are conceding that Senate GOP policy leader Robert A. Taft probably retain his seat and again become a front contender for the 1952 Presidential nomination on the GOP ticket.

Nevertheless, the President is determined to try to defeat Taft on his home grounds this year

In Illinois, Senate Democratic leader Scott Lucas is fighting for his political life. Former Rep. Everett M. Dirksen, a powerful speaker and vote getter, is expected to give Lucas a terrific race. The administration feels, however, that it can beat Dirksen with Mr. Truman's help.

In Pennsylvania, Senator Francis J. Myers faces tough sledding from whomever the GOP nominates. Myers was elected in the 1944 Roosevelt landslide. The Keystone State went for Dewey in 1948.

Social Security Expansion

Congressional sources say an expansion of the present Social Security program is certain to be voted in another three or four months. This would extend social security to an additional eleven million persons.

The Senate finance committee is expected to finish its hearings on an extension bill in about a month. A check of committee members indicates that the committee-approved bill will follow the measure approved by the House last year.

The bill would expand social security coverage by extending such benefits to self-employed persons, local government workers, employes of many non-profit groups, more food-industry workers and more salesmen.

Changes in the program are expected to become effective by next January 1. That means a payroll tax increase for employers, and for employes making more than $3,000 a year. The tax now stops at that level.

It's Getting Late

Reports that Russia began working on a hydrogen "hell" bomb last September fell with a sickening thud in Washington. President Truman did not order work on the H-bomb to get underway until January 31.

That means, if the reports are true, that Russia, has a four-month start on construction of the world's deadliest weapon. Further, these reports say that Russia expects to test its first H-bomb this summer.

United States H-bomb production plans are so much in the theoretical stage that it seems doubtful that a test bomb can be exploded in America in this short space of time.

The Russians, who are said to be building their "hell" bomb in vast underground laboratories, anticipate that by next fall they'll be stockpiling these lethal weapons—reported to be up to 1,000 times stronger than the original atomic bombs.

Know Too Many Prolific Authors

MANCHESTER, N. H., March 6. (INS)—I've said—it before and I say it again: When I was a kid in Idaho I didn't know a single, solitary author and I never had it so good.

Now I know all the most prolific authors in the world. Not terrific. The lady said "prolific." I wish to heaven there was something in the literary world akin to "planned parenthood," something that would keep the rate of production down to a slow walk.

When I came to Manchester several years ago to cover the Sander murder trial, I bowed my back beneath the weight of several books hot from the hands (and presses) of loved ones.

Just to give you some idea of the range of my acquaintance in the world of Belle Lettres, my traveling library included Ruth Teague's "Cooking for Company," Bob Considine's "Innocents at Home" and "Chicago Confidential" by Jack Lait and Lee Mortimer.

Can Hardly Wait

As an impassioned amateur cook, I can hardly wait to get home and try Ruths chicken supreme on the four burner and give myself a work-out over a hot stove with her French friend shrimp. This is the first time, in my literary experience, that I have ever stayed in nights to curl up with a good meal.

The Considine book is fine, and I certainly enjoyed all the cute sayings of the parents of the three Considine boys, one of whom is my godson.

I have always felt that Mr. Considine, the well-flavored harp, would skin his kids for a book, and dont think he hasnt in "Innocents at Home."

As a matter of fact, I have not been able to read a book of my own choice since meeting up with Mr. Considine some years ago. When I was young, it was regarded as quite remarkable that a large group of authors, living and dead, had collaborated on something called "The Five Foot Shelf" or Harvard classics.

But Mr. C. alone and unaided is now represented by a six foot shelf in Chez Robb, and is going strong.

Got My Dander

But the book which has really got my dander up is "Chicago Confidential." I had gotten clear over to page 215 without accidents, although honest citizens, gangsters, molls, cops, rats (informers), and innocent by-standers bit the dust of every page. I found myself automatically dodging machine gun bullets by the time I got well into page three.

I was filled with good will toward the Messrs. Lait and Mortimer and awe at their easy authority on life Chicagoan for 214 pages.

But on page 215, these two sometime literary acquaintances blew a beautiful friendship right out the window. Bluntly and without any attempt to cushion the blow, the gents tell me I am still a yokel, a hick and a square from Bellaire despite 23 years in New York devoted to shaking the hay outta my hair.

"The most highly publicized feed emporium in town" says the authors, "Is The pump room in the Hotel Ambassador East, a favorite stopping-over place for the so-called glamour set. The sophisticate who patronizes it is a peasant who overdresses himself and his blonde and shoots the roll in the place."

So I'm a peasant, yet! Not only a hick, yokel and square, but, perish forbid! A Peasant!

Sure, I love the waiters at the Pump Room in their white satin knee britiches, their white wigs and their red coats. They slay me every time they bring in a steak or a chicken liver or a hot pastrami on a flaming sword. And I thought I loved it simply because I love nice things. But no. I love them because I am a Peasant.

Once upon a dreamy time during a political convention in Chicago I went to the Pump Room with a Peasant type named Bugs Baer.

And Bugs told the waiters he wished them to bring him in—on their flaming swords—an order of soft scrambled eggs. Gad, how we yokels loved it!

But now my lit'ry friends have cased the joint and found it just another sucker-trap.

Please, please, boys, you are speaking of the cafeteria I love!

Liquor License Fund Refunds Are Ordered

HARRISBURG, March 6.—(INS)—Payments totaling $3,149,225 to cities, boroughs and townships in the commonwealth have been approved by Auditor General Weldon B. Heyburn.

He said that the money represents a refund from the license fund of the liquor control board, for licenses issued in the respective municipalities.

The amount distributed is based on number and value of licenses in the communities involved, ranging from $1,659,725 in Philadelphia to $50 in small communities.

The poppy has been known since the days of the Sumerians, some five or six thousand years before the birth of Christ.

Local Doctors On Conference Two-Day Program

Several local physicians have returned from attending the 38th annual conference of secretaries and editors of component societies of the Medical Societies of the State of Pennsylvania. The Thursday and Friday two-day conference was held in Harrisburg.

Those who attended were: President, Dr. Mary Baker Davis; secretary, Dr. Wilbur E. Flannery, and Dr. Charles H. Whalen, representative of public relations of Lawrence county, and Dr. D. C. Young, representative of the Medical Economic committee of Lawrence county.

Dr. Mary Baker Davis was scheduled on Thursday's program, and spoke on "A Critical Consideration of the Medical Society' Public Relations Program".

Dr. Charles H Whalen was on the program Friday. He reported on the progress of Lawrence County Medical society's emergency medical call service.

Dr. Wilbur E. Flannery was again elected to serve on the program to arrange the annual conference in 1951 to be in Harrisburg. Dr. Flannery was the chairman of this year's program committee on arrangements.

Traffic Conference Set For March 29-31

STATE COLLEGE, March 6.—Aware of the problems created by an increased number of vehicles on the highways, traffic engineers today moved ahead with plans for a conference to be held at the Pennsylvania State college March 29 to 31.

The program is designed especially for traffic engineers, municipal engineers, police officers and others interested in safe, efficient traffic flow.

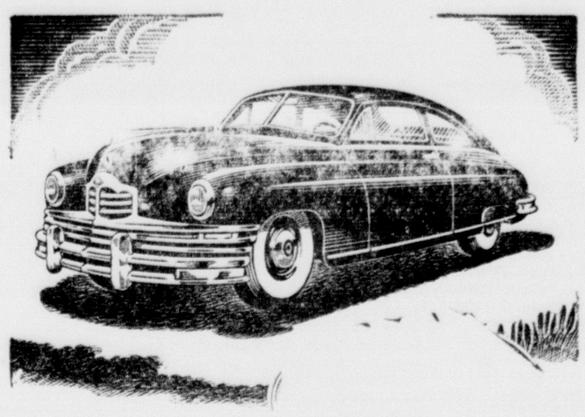

Practical approaches to common traffic problems will be outlined during the sessions which also will include discussions on traffic regulations, traffic studies and traffic design and planning.

Prominent traffic engineers, including members of the Institute of Traffic Engineers and the Yale Bureau of Traffic, will head the list of speakers.

Departments of the college participating include civil engineering, institute of local government, and institute of public safety.

Madison Avenue Christian. Tuesday evening, the Berean Bible class will gather in the home of Mrs. Harvey Gillespie of West Clayton street, at eight o'clock. Wednesday afternoon, the Ladies Aid society will have their sewing period and business session in the church. Thursday evening there will be the annual Brotherhood Dinner, in the dining room, at 6:30 o'clock. Special guest speaker of the evening will be Rev. James N. Rainey, of Central Christian church. All are welcome. An offering will be taken for the needy of Europe and Asia, in connection with World Service.

Girl Scout Troop Sponsors Hobo Party

Members of Girl Scout Troop 30, entertained Boy Scout Troop 20, on Friday evening, in the firehouse on the Mt. Jackson-Bessemer road. Gathering took the form of a "Hobo" party.

Prof. S. G. McCullough accompanied the Boy Scouts. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. John D. McCord, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Shaffer, and the troop committee, Mrs. William Gleghorn, Mrs. Sam McCullough and Mrs. Wendell Bell were guests. Mrs. Ed Ball was ill and unable to be present.

Various games were enjoyed during the evening. The scouts were attired in humorous fashion causing much merriment. The girls brought the lunches tied in handkedchiefs, carried hobo style.

The troop leaders and committee served cake, ice cream, and chocolate milk. There was splendid cooperation from all, which included the parents.

Next meeting of troop 30, Wednesday afternoon, at 3:45, at Mt. Jackson school after sessions.

Leon Sullivan At Mahoning Methodist

There was a large attendance on Sunday evening, at Mahoning Methodist church, for a meeting of the Union Evangelistic Crusade with churches of the Methodist New Castle Sub-district in attendance.

Dr. Robert F Galbreath of First Presbyterian church, gave the invocation, and James Rugh of First Presbyterian, gave the Scripture reading. Rev. J. A. Gaiser of First Methodist church, presided over the meeting.

Rev. Merle Weaver, of Pulaski Methodist, directed the assembly singing, and an inspiring song service, with Mrs. Alice McClure at the organ, and Mrs. Weaver at the piano. The local choir was augments with singers from other churches of the district.

Two solos were sung by Lawrence C. Godwin of Mahoning church, and a solo by James McQuiston of Croton church.

An inspirational address was given by Leon Sullivan of Philadelphia, businessman attached to the Christian Businessmen's Comitiee International, and widely known speaker. He gave his life story, likening himself to "The Prodigal Son" recorded in the Bible.

Boy Scout Troop Will Meet Tuesday

On Tuesday evening, there will be an assembly of the Boy Scout Troop 4, at seven o'clock, in the basement of Mahoning school, with scoutmaster Bill Weitz in charge.

The troop has now reached a full membership. The troop had been recently opened for additional members, and sixteen new boys were added to the troop.

Handbooks will be available for those scouts desiring to purchase them.

At the meeting, it is planned to show two technicolor motion pictures, which should prove of great interest.

Military Funeral Planned Wednesday For S-S Steve Busin

Military funeral exercises will be held Wednesday, March 8 at Arlington National cemetery, Arlington, Va., for the late Staff Sergeant Steven J. Busin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Busin of R. D. 2, who was reported missing in action, July 5, 1944 by the War department.

Sergt. Busin

Sgt. Busin was a crew member of a B-24 (Liberator) aircraft which failed to return from a weather reconnaissance mission to the Banda Islands, Dutch East Indies which was attacked by a Japanese convoy off the northern coast of Ceram Islands and subsequently crashed in the mountains of that island south of Paoni.

Due to the manner in which the crew members met their deaths, the War department states that it would be impossible to send the remains of each individual to his respective home, therefore a mass burial will be held. A requiem high mass is also being held at 8 a. m. Wednesday, March 8 at St. Joseph's church.

Surviving in addition to his parents are the following brothers and sisters: Joe and Tom of R. D. 2, Mrs. Roy Miller, Mrs. Ann Mastroputro, of R. D. 2, and Mrs. Edward D. Leahy of Panama City, Fla.

Noble Grands With Mrs. Lillian Sumner

At the home of Mrs. Lillian Sumner, Pearson street, members of the Past Noble Grands of Rachel Rebekah lodge No. 40 were entertained during the weekend.

After the business session, games of contest and cards were the evening's diversion. Mrs. Jane Smith, Mrs. Viola Nelson, Mrs. Mildred Campbell and Mrs. Charlotte Phipps captured prizes.

The hostess, assisted by her cohostess, Mrs. Tribby, served a delicious lunch.

PERSONALS

Word has been received of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Speed, of Houston, Tex. on February 20. Both Mr. and Mrs. Speed are former residents of this city. Mrs. Speed having been Miss Elizabeth Yoho.

Robert Wilkins of 709 North Mercer street, who has been confined to his home for the past six weeks, is showing some improvement.

Lita Marino, aged 14, of 609 Sennett street, has been able to return to her studies after suffering a badly sprained wrist. She fell last Wednesday and has been absent from school since that time.

SMALL FIRE TODAY

City firemen were called to the Office Machines & Equipment Co., 21 N. Mill street, at 10:45 a. m. today when dust, which had accumulated around the top of a pipeless furnace, caught fire. Employes called firemen and then used a small hand extinguisher, having the fire out when the departments arrived at the scene. There was no loss, Fire Chief H. F. Steinbrink stated.

Madison Avenue Christian. Tuesday evening, the Berean Bible class will gather in the home of Mrs. Harvey Gillespie of West Clayton street, at eight o'clock. Wednesday afternoon, the Ladies Aid society will have their sewing period and business session in the church. Thursday evening there will be the annual Brotherhood Dinner, in the dining room, at 6:30 o'clock. Special guest speaker of the evening will be Rev. James N. Rainey, of Central Christian church. All are welcome. An offering will be taken for the needy of Europe and Asia, in connection with World Service.

Girl Scout Troop Sponsors Hobo Party

Members of Girl Scout Troop 30, entertained Boy Scout Troop 20, on Friday evening, in the firehouse on the Mt. Jackson-Bessemer road. Gathering took the form of a "Hobo" party.

Prof. S. G. McCullough accompanied the Boy Scouts. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. John D. McCord, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Shaffer, and the troop committee, Mrs. William Gleghorn, Mrs. Sam McCullough and Mrs. Wendell Bell were guests. Mrs. Ed Ball was ill and unable to be present.

Various games were enjoyed during the evening. The scouts were attired in humorous fashion, causing much merriment. The girls brought the lunches tied in handkedchiefs, carried hobo style.

The troop leaders and committee served cake, ice cream, and chocolate milk. There was splendid cooperation from all, which included the parents.

Next meeting of troop 30, Wednesday afternoon, at 3:45, at Mt. Jackson school after sessions.

Leon Sullivan At Mahoning Methodist

There was a large attendance on Sunday evening, at Mahoning Methodist church, for a meeting of the Union Evangelistic Crusade, with churches of the Methodist New Castle Sub-district in attendance.

Dr. Robert F Galbreath of First Presbyterian church, gave the invocation, and James Rugh of First Presbyterian, gave the Scripture reading. Rev. J. A. Gaiser of First Methodist church, presided over the meeting.

Rev. Merle Weaver, of Pulaski Methodist, directed the assembly singing, and an inspiring song service, with Mrs. Alice McClure at the organ, and Mrs. Weaver at the piano. The local choir was augments with singers from other churches of the district.

Two solos were sung by Lawrence C. Godwin of Mahoning church, and a solo by James McQuiston of Croton church.

An inspirational address was given by Leon Sullivan of Philadelphia, businessman attached to the Christian Businessmen's Committee International, and widely known speaker. He gave his life story, likening himself to "The Prodigal Son" recorded in the Bible.

Boy Scout Troop Will Meet Tuesday

On Tuesday evening, there will be an assembly of the Boy Scout Troop 4, at seven o'clock, in the basement of Mahoning school, with scoutmaster Bill Weitz in charge.

The troop has now reached a full membership. The troop had been recently opened for additional members, and sixteen new boys were added to the troop.

Handbooks will be available for those scouts desiring to purchase them.

At the meeting, it is planned to show two technicolor motion pictures, which should prove of great interest.

Favor Higher Social Security Benefits, But Oppose Tax Hike

HARRISBURG, March 6.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Chamber of Commerce board of directors today favors higher social security benefits but is opposed to hiking payroll taxes on employer and worker.

The board said funds necessary to boost benefits could be obtained through government efficiency and urged Congress to spike President Truman's proposed corporate tax increases and to end deficit-spending policies.

Generally, the board approves the higher benefit payments proposed in a bill before Congress but is opposed to the method set up to make them possible.

The legislation would boost minimum benefits from $10 a month to $25 and raise the ceiling from $85 a month to $150. The board's only opposition is to the maximum and proposes a $125 ceiling.

The board also supports a provision in the bill which would raise from $15 a month to $50 the amount of money retired workers could earn without forefiting social security benefits for the month.

The proposal to allow permanent and total disability payments is opposed by the board because it not only would put the federal government in the insurance business but could cause "serious drains" on social security funds.

The board favors social ecurity taxes only on the first $3,000 of each workers annual pay instead of the $3,600 proposed in the legislation before Congress.

Oak Street Board Plans Activities

Members of the Oak Street Parent-Teacher executive board met on a recent afternoon in the school building. Mrs. John Susko presided at business.

Reports were given of the recent meeting of the new City P. T. A. Council. Delegates who attended the last meeting will represent the unit at the Council organization meeting tonight at the high school.

A letter was read from Mrs. Shirley Kerr concerning radio announcements to be made. Clubs and other activities of importance may be announced on the Woman's calendar, a new feature of the local station. Oak Street P. T. A. has been invited to use this program.

Mrs. Herbert Ridgley, brownie scout leader, reminded the group of the candy sale to be held by the two brownie troops at the next P. T. A. meeting. The money will be used for the Overseas Schoolbag project.

An organization meeting for the cub scouts will be held at the Second United Presbyterian church on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Any boy from 8 to 11 years of age interested in cub scouts are asked to attend, accompanied by at least one parent. Pictures will be shown, giving the boys and parents some idea of scouting. Three committee women that represent the Oak street scouts are asked to attend this meeting.

At the regular meeting of March 14, the P.T.A. will have Mrs. Marjorie Nelson as guest speaker. Her topic will be "Guidance in the New Castle Public Schools". A hobby and doll show will be featured at the meeting, with children and parents to bring their displays. Prizes will be awarded for the best arrangements.

PITTSBURGH, March 6.—(INS)—The official flag of Eire accompanied by a cargo of genuine Irish shamrocks will be used to celebrate St. Patrick's day in Pittsburgh March 17.

The flag will be presented to Allegheny county commissioners. Shamrocks will be distributed to attendants at the annual Knights of Equity banquet.

Labor Commissioner May Be Named By Soft Coal Industry

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The soft coal industry is seriously considering appointment of a full-time, permanent labor relations commissioner to avert another mine strike.

The commissioner's job would be to deal on a day-to-day basis with John L. Lewis and to try to prevent a national emergency every time the coal wage contract expires.

The job of putting the industry's labor relations on a stable basis may go to Harry M. Moses, president of U. S. Steel's coal mining subsidiary, or to some other individual of equally great stature in the coal industry.

When questioned about the plan, Moses told International News Service:

"It has been discussed but there is no immediate possibility of it happening."

Study Plans For School Rebuilding

LISBON, O., March 6.—Churches, war veterans' post homes and city hall were offered for use as temporary classrooms today while Lisbon board of education members studied plans for replacement of the 53-year-old McKinley school which was destroyed in a $200,000 fire Friday.

Temporary classrooms will be established to avoid half-day sessions for 695 pupils at the 94-year-old Lincoln school.

Six Hurt In Crash Near Salem, Ohio

SALEM, O., March 6.—A man is in critical condition and five other persons were hospitalized, as result of a collision involving a tractor-trailer and three automobiles on a steep hill along state Highway 14.

William B. Chain, Jr., 34, of Youngstown, one of the car drivers, may die. He suffered a skull fracture, head injuries and a leg fracture.

Others injured were Mary Farcus, 44, of Salem, a passenger in Chain's automobile; Ray McIntyre, 27, of Berea; Daniel Petrick 53, of Detroit; Joseph Palsiney, Jr., 21, and John Fagg, 30, both of Chicago.

Mt. Jackson Indies, Hank A. C., Morellas Advance To Semi-Finals

Favorites Win Saturday Games

Mt. Jackson Tops Wampum, Hanks And Morellas Also Win

Mt. Jackson Indies defeated Wampum, 53-41, Hank A. C. knocked off Princeton 67-36, and Morellas topped the Ecclesians 50-43, in second round games of the Optimist tournament Saturday night.

Mt. Jackson, led Bill Emery, 1949 high school star, and his high school coach, Franny Webster, knocked the Wampum Merchants out of the running in a fast game.

The Indies got off to an early lead and managed to hold on to it all the way. Wampum closed the gap to within several points near the end of the third period, but a Mt. Jackson rally in the final put the game on ice.

Hank's Have Easy Time

Hank A. C. had an easy time with Princeton and used its reserves for a good part of the game.

Morellas came from behind to defeat a stubborn Ecclesian club five. The Ecclesians held a slight lead throughout the game until a few seconds before the third quarter ended. Dick Hamilton's fielder put Morellas out in front and they stayed there the rest of the game.

Ecclesians led 27-24 at the half, but with the addition of Kenny Cathcart to the Morella lineup early in the third period Morellas started pulling out.

Titans Trounce Tech, Become Top District Team

Westminster Runs Home Skein To 68, Leave On Eastern Trip

Westminster's Titan's spotted Carnegie Tech a 15 point first period lead and then came back to whip the Tartans 91-78 before a capacity crowd in New Wilmington Saturday.

The victory gave the tournament-bound Westminster quintet a record of 22 wins against two losses for the season.

Top District Team

It was their 68th straight home victory.

The victory also placed the Titans in the number 1 spot in the tri-state district. The Blue and White took over the lead from the Duquesne Dukes (22-3) who last week lost on two consecutive nights to Akron and Baldwin-Wallace.

Tech Leads First Period

The Titans were in trouble for the first 10 minutes of play Saturday. An enthused Tech quintet took an 8-7 lead with three minutes gone in the first period. They held the Titans to three points for the remaining seven minutes and proceeded to build up a 25-10 first period score.

The Titans spent the second quarter whittling down the Tech lead. With one minute remaining in the period John Abraham sank a field goal to pull the Titans up even with the Tartans at a 35-35 count. Con Hamman gave the Tartans a momentary one-point lead seconds later on a free throw. Jackie Jones whipped one through the basket with eight seconds left and gave Westminster a 37-36 halftime lead.

Titans Take Lead

The lead rocked back and forth throughout most of the third period. Then with less than four minutes left in the quarter big Allen McCullough racked up 12 points on four field goals and four foul shots to give the Titans a 65-56 three-quarter mark lead.

Midway of the final period Westminster built up a 20-point lead and Washabaugh began to shove reserves into the game. Twelve men saw action for the Titans and nine hit the scoring column.

McCullough High

McCullough was high scorer for the Blue and White and leading scorer of the night with 22 points. Jack Jones had 21 and Bruce Wagner 20. All three were seniors who were making their last appearance on the Titan home floor.

Jack Riehl tossed in 13 points to lead the Tartan attack. Bob McCullough had 12 points for Tech and Tom Craig had 10.

Start Eastern Tour

Tonight the Titans take on Franklin and Marshall at Lancaster in the first of three games to be played on an eastern tour that ends regular season play. Tuesday night the Titans play Millersville State at Millersville and Wednesday take on Bucknell at Lewisburg.

Joe Bedenk Resigns Job As Penn State Grid Coach

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., March 6.—(INS)—The Nittany Lions are on the lookout today for a new coach to succeed Joe Bedenk who surrendered his gridiron duties at Pennsylvania State College without warning.

Bedenk will continue as a faculty members and coach of the college baseball team.

Freshman Coach Earl Bruce will handle spring training opening March 13.

In a letter to the Athletic Advisory board, a spokesman said, Bedenk pointed out that he coached both major sports since succeeding oldtime football wizard Bob Higgins March 12, 1947 and is convinced that the dual burden is "too much for one man."

Seek New Coach

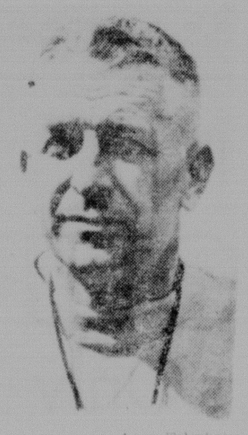

The athletic board will scour the nation's gridirons for a new football tutor to take charge of the Lion's squad prior to the opening of the 1950 campaign, the spokesman said.

Bedeny, who turned in five victories against four defeats last season, was Higgins' line coach for 20 years before succeeding the old master in the top spot. He has been baseball coach at Penn State since 1931.

The 52-year-old Bedeny was named to the 1923 All American squad after a brilliant season's work at guard, he captained the squad that year.

SHARON JUNIORS WIN

Sharon Junior High, Section 17 WPIAL champions, defeated Aliquippa, 40-30, in its first round playoff game at Aliquippa. Jerry King led the Little Tigers in scoring with 16 points.

Wampum Juniors In Championship Game At Struthers

Wampum junior high school meets Youngstown Hayes junior high tonight at 8:30 in the finals of the Fifth Annual Struthers Junior High tournament.

The Wampum Juniors have eliminated Leetonia, Mahoning, Niles, Washington and Salem in the tournament. Hayes dropped East Palestine, Salem "B", Farrell and East on its way to the finals.

Hayes has a team that averages about six feet tall and has had no trouble at all in any of its other tournament games.

Boosters To Meet Twin City Elks

East Brook Boosters have booked what appears to be another outstanding cage attraction for Wednesday night on the East Brook High floor.

Twin City Elks will tangle with the Boosters in the feature basketball game. This Sharon-Farrell combine is a district leader.

The Sharon "Whiz Kids" will also stage a demonstration. This is a group of under 70-pound youths who are very adept with the basketball and have staged short game demonstrations thruout the Shenango valley this winter.

A uni-cycle act will also be presented.

Gyspy Joe And Pierre Matched

Two Other Bouts On Friday's Card

City and county fans who, having seen a fistic carnival at Ellwood City last Friday night, now look forward to a pro grappling show next Friday night in The Arena which will be featured by Gypsy Joe, a star of television, and durable Pierre LaBelle. They are to wrestle to one fall, or a 60 minutes decision.

The tag match will find Bobby Ford, good prospect of Youngstown and Bull Montana, opposed to Walter Palmer, former light-heavyweight champion and Benito Gardini, the latter a televized performer.

The Jeff[illegible]on A.C. is promoting the matches.

Gustine Contends He Is No Holdout

PITTSBURGH, March 6.—(INS)—Third Baseman Frankie Gustine said today he was "just taking a rest after that tough basketball season" and wasn't a true holdout from the St. Louis Browns training camp.

"There's no serious financial difference in my contract with the Browns," Gustine said at his home in nearby Greentree. "I haven't returned the original offer yet."

Gustine, who coaches the Waynesburg college basketball team, added his "big ambition" is to put in 34 more days in the major leagues and become a ten-year man.

Phils May Trade Catcher Seminick

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 6.—(INS)—Could be it is just bargaining talk, but rumor in the Phillies' camp today has it that Andy Seminick, the recalcitrant backstop, is on the trading block.

The popular catcher with the home run bat has failed to come to terms in two meetings with President Robert R. M. Carpenter, who said "we are far apart".

They have scheduled another meeting today, and if Seminick fails to sign, he may leave for home, paving the way for a trade with the Cardinals, Giants or Dodgers, who are seeking his services. Carpenter would like "another experienced hurler".

No Practice For Local Rifle Club

New Castle Rifle club has no match scheduled for this evening, and no practice will be held at the armory range.

Regular weekly practice shoot will be held on Friday, March 10 at 8 o'clock.

LIONS VS STEELERS

Stockholders Plan Session

Cronin Will Be Introduced At Hotel Meeting Wednesday

New Castle Citizen's Baseball Inc., stockholders will have an important meeting at the Hotel New Penn at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, it was announced today by President Al Scarazzo.

The purpose of the meeting will be for the taking in of additional sales of stock and to introduce the newly appointed Playing-Manager Charles "Chuck" Cronin to the stockholders.

The Mid-Atlantic League season will get under way in just two months, on Friday, May 5th.

Number Of Rookies

Washington has assigned a number of young pitchers to report here—and one young man a third baseman—Patrick Vastano has already signed his contract. Vastano hails from Brooklyn and is reputed to be a cracker-jack infielder at either third or short.

Contracts were sent to Frank Wagner, Herb Churchill, Mike Giardullo, Eugene Bilo, and Paul Congemi from the 1949 team but so far no word has been heard from any of these boys. The only player from last year already signed is Bob Cook the Warren, Ohio, the right-handed, speedball artist.

Washington has promised to send Herm Yiel and Timmy Milich here after Charlotte has completed spring training.

Pulaskis Take Polish Title

Hand Falcons Second Defeat Sunday, 63-59; Ed Nevotne Stars

After trailing 37 to 22 at half time the Polish Falcons suddenly came to life in the third and fourth stanza to come within four points of defeating a highly vaunted K. Pulaski Five 63 to 59 at the Falcons court, on Sunday afternoon.

The Falcons fighting an uphill battle throughout the entire game counted for 37 markers in the second half.

Nevotne, Palmgren and Korab led the Big Five to its second win over the Falcons, netting 57 points between them. For the "Cash" Koszela Falcons, A. Koszela, R. Koszela and Owoc took scoring honors with 49 of the Falcons 59 points.

Falcon Reserves Win

The Polish Falcon Reserves pulled the upset of the year by defeating the K. Pulaski Cubs 38 to 34. The "Mussy" Sniezek coached Reserves led at half time 23 to 17 and were never headed throughout the entire contest.

"Mandates" Ordak with 19 points led his mates, and Nevotne with 15 was high for the Cubs.

RIFLE TEAM TO MEET

The Colonel Young rifle team will have a practice shoot at the Armory tonight at 8 o'clock, with an intra-club meet following, at which time Ray McHenry will defend his title of club champion.

Observers close to the university claim Hamilton wanted Milligan out because of the poor Pitt box office. The Panthers, despite a winning season and a gang of fine ball players, failed to lure many fans to the spacious Pitt stadium which seats just over 60,000.

One man's meat is another's poison, as the saying goes.

Indians Stage Workout On Dormont High Court

Wampum High school basketball team staged a practice session on the Dormont High court Saturday in preparation for tomorrow night's quarter-final game in the W.P.I.A.L. playoffs.

Coach Butler Hennon's Indians are entitled to the one practice session as they did not play a game on the Dormont court this year. Avalon, the Tuesday opponent, defeated Bethel township there last Monday, 49 to 35.

Avalon Tough

Avalon has been classed as a pre-tourney favorite to cop Class B honors. The Section 13 winners have won 23 straight ball games this season and have yet to taste defeat. Beside winning 14-straight in sectional competition, the Avalon crew has vanquished several Class A foes in exhibition matches. A common Class A foe of Wampum and Avalon was New Brighton. The Indians lost 58 to 52, and Avalon beat the same team rather decisively.

Nusz, 6-4, is the biggest man on the Avalon squad. He holds down the center slot and is the ace rebounder. A pair of 6-2 boys, Stewart and Shrewberry, hold forth at forward. These are a pair of good shots who lead the fast break.

Tobin and Mayer, at 5-9, are the guards. Mayer is the best shot on the team and is reputedly able to hit on any kind from anywhere.

Indians Have Support

Avalon's main claim to fame is its depth. Coach Harry Dennison has three good teams which he uses. The coach employs a close-pressing man-to-man all the time no matter what the size of the floor. If one team starts tiring, the second five is substituted and the pressing continues.

Hennon is looking for one of the toughest ball games his boys have played all year but said today that his team would not be beaten until after the final whistle had sounded and the score against them.

Apparently the Redmen will have lots of hometown support. Already five bus loads of tickets have been sold for Wampum followers to make the Dormont trek. The team and many other supporters will go in private cars.

Kid Gavilan Meets Graham

PHILADELPHIA, March 6.—(INS)—Kid Gavilan, rebounding from a surprise defeat in his last outing, takes on Philadelphia's Otis Graham tonight in the Quaker City arena 10-round final as an overwhelming choice.

The Cuban welter, who looked sluggish in his recent upset by New York's Billy Graham, will be out for a win tonight over the Philadelphian of the same name—but unrelated—as a prelude to a second shot at Ray Robinson's title.

The local Graham, however, is no setup, and can throw harder punches—although not as many—as Gavilan.

Jack Burke Wins St. Pete Open

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 6.—(INS)—Jack Burke, Jr., 27-year-old White Plains, N. Y., pro golfer, was $2,000 richer today by virtue of his first place triumph in the St. Petersburg open tournament.

Burke, a native of Houston, Tex., shot a 69 yesterday in the final 18 holes of the 72-hole tournament to wind up with a 12-under-par total of 272.

Baseball's chronic AWOL—Jerry Scala—will get his third chance to become a major league player this spring.

Harvard Coach

AZA Tops Sampson In Junior Church

AZA defeated Sampson Street Alliance, 27 to 24, Saturday in the top attraction in the Junior Church league.

Both these clubs had won and lost two in the first two rounds of league play and had identical records of three and one for the current series.

The winners led, 13 to 12, at half time and forged a 23-to-18 lead at the end of the third period. Ace Phil Greenberg fouled out and the Sampson street crew was still in the ball game but couldn't overcome the deficit.

Greenberg, D. Nixon and Krakover led the AZA scorers. The Phillips brothers connected for 23 of Alliance's 24 points.

Other results Saturday: First Presby 32, Central Presby 10; First Baptist 33, Croton 12; Second U. P. 37, First Christian 24; First Methodist 32, Epworth 18; Third U. P. 15, St. George 14.

Two Exciting Games Tonight

Hank A.C. Battles Morellas, Mt. Jackson Vs. East Brook

East Brook Boosters meet the Mt. Jackson Indies at 7:30, and the Hank A.C. meets Morellas at 8:30 in semi-final games of the Optimist tournament at the George Washington junior high school floor tonight.

The Boosters have defeated the Shenango Y and K. Pulaskis in the tournament to earn their way into the semi-finals. The Indies have knocked off the New Castle Business college and the Wampum Merchants.

Hank A.C. has defeated the Bessemer and Princeton to gain a place in the semi-finals, while the Morellas have topped the Polish Falcons and the Ecclesians.

Winners of these two games will meet Tuesday night for the championship. Losers will meet Tuesday night in a consolation game.

TOURNAMENT NOTES

Frannie Webster, Mt. Jackson high school coach, played a great game for the Mt. Jackson Indies against the Wampum Merchants Saturday night . . . Webster scored most of his 16 points during the first half. During the second half Wampum put Frank Procopio on Fran and the ex-Wampum high school ace guarded the Mounty coach like a leach . . . This Hank A.C.-Morella clash tonight looks like one of the games of the year . . . Both teams boast terrific records . . . The Mt. Jackson-East Brook game might even be better.

Shenango Y Tops Pittsburgh Team

Shenango Y defeated the Grace Memorial team of Pittsburgh 67-41 Saturday night at the Central YMCA.

Joe Lane, George Washington junior high school star, led both teams in scoring with 20 points. Taylor was next high for the "Y" with 11.

HERE and THERE • • • IN SPORTS LAND

FORTY-SIX THOUSAND six hundred and two 'bucks' were legally shot, surpassing all pre-season estimates by the Pennsylvania Game Commission, according to Carl A. Rogan, I.N.S. outdoors scribe. He reports the commission says that 84,121 antlerless deer were killed. Here are some other facts:

In the last 10 seasons, 624,343 deer have been legally killed in the state, or almost half the number slain since 1915. The only buck kill surpassing the one last season was the 49,106 in 1939.

More than 171,000 antlerless deer were shot in 1938, a record take.

Black bears killed in 1949 were 411; 388 were killed in 1948.

The small and upland game seasons last year equalled the 1948 season, more than 3,400,000 game animals being listed as slain.

Other game kill estimates by the Game Commission are:

Snowshoe Hares 5,948; Hungarian Partridges 92; Squirrels 578,267; Raccoons 81,007; Wild Turkeys 6,885; Quail 5,181; Woodcock 26,748; Rails, Gallinules and Coots 6,041; Wild Waterfowl 59,103; Woodchucks 265,135 and Doves 10,840.

The account says that "there was a slight increase in the number of rabbits that went into the game bags, when about '1,860' were killed. Apparently it should have read 1,380,000.

Pugilistic endeavor of the Lions club at Ellwood City, was an abbreviated whirl, only 34 minutes actual 'fighting time' being required for the five bouts. Billy Pozza's terrific attack, as soon as the first bell sounded, finished Johnny Clements in two minutes . . . Fresh water fishing license sales broke all records for a 12-months period during the fiscal year ending in June when 15,478,570 were sold. Gross revenue of $32,657,940, also is in an all-time high. According to hunting and fishing enthusiasts more money is expended for those sports than any other sport. . . . Forty-seventh annual American Bowling Congress championship tournament opens April 15, at Columbus, O. A total of 5,109 teams have entered the meet. Of this number 3,524 are regular teams and the remainder are boosters. There are 11,155 two-man teams and 22,393 singles, entered. In the All-Events division, 17,982 bowlers will participate.

Mt. Jackson Indies, Hank A. C., Morellas Advance To Semi-Finals

Favorites Win Saturday Games

Mt. Jackson Tops Wampum, Hanks And Morellas Also Win

Mt. Jackson Indies defeated Wampum, 53-41, Hank A. C. knocked off Princeton 67-36, and Morellas topped the Ecclesians 50-43, in second round games of the Optimist tournament Saturday night.

Mt. Jackson, led Bill Emery, 1949 high school star, and his high school coach, Franny Webster, knocked the Wampum Merchants out of the running in a fast game.

The Indies got off to an early lead and managed to hold on to it all the way. Wampum closed the gap to within several points near the end of the third period, but a Mt. Jackson rally in the final put the game on ice.

Hank's Have Easy Time

Hank A. C. had an easy time with Princeton and used its reserves for a good part of the game.

Morellas came from behind to defeat a stubborn Ecclesian club five. The Ecclesians held a slight lead throughout the game until a few seconds before the third quarter ended. Dick Hamilton's fielder put Morellas out in front and they stayed there the rest of the game.

Ecclesians led 27-24 at the half, but with the addition of Kenny Cathcart to the Morella lineup early in the third period Morellas started pulling out.

Titans Trounce Tech, Become Top District Team

Westminster Runs Home Skein To 68, Leave On Eastern Trip

Westminster's Titan's spotted Carnegie Tech a 15 point first period lead and then came back to whip the Tartans 91-78 before a capacity crowd in New Wilmington Saturday.

The victory gave the tournament-bound Westminster quintet a record of 22 wins against two losses for the season.

Top District Team

It was their 68th straight home victory.

The victory also placed the Titans in the number 1 spot in the tri-state district. The Blue and White took over the lead from the Duquesne Dukes (22-3) who last week lost on two consecutive nights to Akron and Baldwin-Wallace.

Tech Leads First Period

The Titans were in trouble for the first 10 minutes of play Saturday. An enthused Tech quintet took an 8-7 lead with three minutes gone in the first period. They held the Titans to three points for the remaining seven minutes and proceeded to build up a 25-10 first period score.

The Titans spent the second quarter whittling down the Tech lead. With one minute remaining in the period John Abraham sank a field goal to pull the Titans up even with the Tartans at a 35-35 count. Con Hamman gave the Tartans a momentary one-point lead seconds later on a free throw. Jackie Jones whipped one through the basket with eight seconds left and gave Westminster a 37-36 halftime lead.

Titans Take Lead

The lead rocked back and forth throughout most of the third period. Then with less than four minutes left in the quarter big Allen McCullough racked up 12 points on four field goals and four foul shots to give the Titans a 65-56 three-quarter mark lead.

Midway of the final period Westminster built up a 20-point lead and Washabaugh began to shove reserves into the game. Twelve men saw action for the Titans and nine hit the scoring column.

McCullough High

McCullough was high scorer for the Blue and White and leading scorer of the night with 22 points. Jack Jones had 21 and Bruce Wagner 20. All three were seniors who were making their last appearance on the Titan home floor.

Jack Riehl tossed in 13 points to lead the Tartan attack. Bob McCullough had 12 points for Tech and Tom Craig had 10.

Start Eastern Tour

Tonight the Titans take on Franklin and Marshall at Lancaster in the first of three games to be played on an eastern tour that ends regular season play. Tuesday night the Titans play Millersville State at Millersville and Wednesday take on Bucknell at Lewisburg.

Joe Bedenk Resigns Job As Penn State Grid Coach

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., March 6.—(INS)—The Nittany Lions are on the lookout today for a new coach to succeed Joe Bedenk who surrendered his gridiron duties at Pennsylvania State College without warning.

Bedenk will continue as a faculty members and coach of the college baseball team.

In a letter to the Athletic Advisory board, a spokesman said, Bedenk pointed out that he coached both major sports since succeeding oldtime football wizard Bob Higgins March 12, 1947 and is convinced that the dual burden is "too much for one man."

Seek New Coach

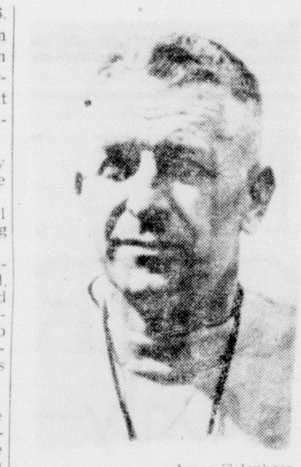

The athletic board will scour the nation's gridirons for a new football tutor to take charge of the Lion's squad prior to the opening of the 1950 campaign, the spokesman said.

Bedeny, who turned in five victories against four defeats last season, was Higgins' line coach for 20 years before succeeding the old master in the top spot. He has been baseball coach at Penn State since 1931.

The 52-year-old Bedeny was named to the 1923 All American squad after a brilliant season's work at guard, he captained the squad that year.

SHARON JUNIORS WIN

Wampum Juniors In Championship Game At Struthers

Wampum junior high school meets Youngstown Hayes junior high tonight at 8:30 in the finals of the Fifth Annual Struthers Junior High tournament.

The Wampum Juniors have eliminated Leetonia, Mahoning, Niles, Washington and Salem in the tournament. Hayes dropped East Palestine, Salem "B", Farrell and East on its way to the finals.

Hayes has a team that averages about six feet tall and has had no trouble at all in any of its other tournament games.

Boosters To Meet Twin City Elks

East Brook Boosters have booked what appears to be another outstanding cage attraction for Wednesday night on the East Brook High floor.

Twin City Elks will tangle with the Boosters in the feature basketball game. This Sharon-Farrell combine is a district leader.

The Sharon "Whiz Kids" will also stage a demonstration. This is a group of under 70-pound youths who are very adept with the basketball and have staged short game demonstrations thruout the Shenango valley this winter.

A uni-cycle act will also be presented.

Two Other Bouts On Friday's Card

City and county fans who, having seen a fistic carnival at Ellwood City last Friday night, now look forward to a pro grappling show next Friday night in The Arena which will be featured by Gypsy Joe, a star of television, and durable Pierre LaBelle. They are to wrestle to one fall, or a 60 minutes decision.

The tag match will find Bobby Ford, good prospect of Youngstown and Bull Montana, opposed to Walter Palmer, former light-heavyweight champion and Benito Gardini, the latter a televized performer.

Pancho Valentino the "bad boy" of the mat, will take on Tom Bradley in the 30-minutes opening match.

The Jeff[illegible]n A.C. is promoting the matches.

Gustine Contends He Is No Holdout

PITTSBURGH, March 6.—(INS)—Third Baseman Frankie Gustine said today he was "just taking a rest after that tough basketball season" and wasn't a true holdout from the St. Louis Browns training camp.

"There's no serious financial difference in my contract with the Browns," Gustine said at his home in nearby Greentree. "I haven't returned the original offer yet."

Gustine, who coaches the Waynesburg college basketball team, added his "big ambition" is to put in 34 more days in the major leagues and become a ten-year man.

Phils May Trade Catcher Seminick

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 6.—(INS)—Could be it is just bargaining talk, but rumor in the Phillies' camp today has it that Andy Seminick, the recalcitrant backstop, is on the trading block.

The popular catcher with the home run bat has failed to come to terms in two meetings with President Robert R. M. Carpenter, who said "we are far apart".

They have scheduled another meeting today, and if Seminick fails to sign, he may leave for home, paving the way for a trade with the Cardinals, Giants or Dodgers, who are seeking his services. Carpenter would like "another experienced hurler".

No Practice For Local Rifle Club

New Castle Rifle club has no match scheduled for this evening, and no practice will be held at the armory range.

Regular weekly practice shoot will be held on Friday, March 10 at 8 o'clock.

LIONS VS STEELERS

Stockholders Plan Session

Cronin Will Be Introduced At Hotel Meeting Wednesday

New Castle Citizen's Baseball Inc., stockholders will have an important meeting at the Hotel New Penn at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, it was announced today by President Al Scarazzo.

The purpose of the meeting will be for the taking in of additional sales of stock and to introduce the newly appointed Playing-Manager Charles "Chuck" Cronin to the stockholders.

The Mid-Atlantic League season will get under way in just two months, on Friday, May 5th.

Number Of Rookies

Washington has assigned a number of young pitchers to report here—and one young man a third baseman—Patrick Vastano has already signed his contract. Vastano hails from Brooklyn and is reputed to be a cracker-jack infielder at either third or short.

Contracts were sent to Frank Wagner, Herb Churchill, Mike Girardullo, Eugene Bilo, and Paul Congemi from the 1949 team but so far no word has been heard from any of these boys. The only player from last year already signed is Bob Cook the Warren, Ohio, the right-handed, speedball artist.

Washington has promised to send Herm Yiel and Timmy Milich here after Charlotte has completed spring training.

Pulaskis Take Polish Title

Hand Falcons Second Defeat Sunday, 63-59; Ed Nevotne Stars

After trailing 37 to 22 at half time the Polish Falcons suddenly came to life in the third and fourth stanza to come within four points of defeating a highly vaunted K. Pulaski Five 63 to 59 at the Falcons court, on Sunday afternoon.

The Falcons fighting an uphill battle throughout the entire game counted for 37 markers in the second half.

Nevotne, Palmgren and Korab led the Big Five to its second win over the Falcons, netting 57 points between them. For the "Cash" Koszela Falcons, A. Koszela, R. Koszela and Owoc took scoring honors with 49 of the Falcons 59 points.

Falcon Reserves Win

The Polish Falcon Reserves pulled the upset of the year by defeating the K. Pulaski Cubs 38 to 34. The "Mussy" Sniezek coached Reserves led at half time 23 to 17 and were never headed throughout the entire contest.

"Mandates" Ordak with 19 points led his mates, and Nevotne with 15 was high for the Cubs.

RIFLE TEAM TO MEET

The Colonel Young rifle team will have a practice shoot at the Armory tonight at 8 o'clock, with an intra-club meet following, at which time Ray McHenry will defend his title of club champion.

Observers close to the university claim Hamilton wanted Milligan out because of the poor Pitt box office. The Panthers, despite a winning season and a gang of fine ball players, failed to lure many fans to the spacious Pitt stadium which seats just over 60,000.

One man's meat is another's poison, as the saying goes.

Indians Stage Workout On Dormont High Court

Wampum High school basketball team staged a practice session on the Dormont High court Saturday in preparation for tomorrow night's quarter-final game in the W.P.I.A.L. playoffs.

Coach Butler Hennon's Indians are entitled to the one practice session as they did not play a game on the Dormont court this year. Avalon, the Tuesday opponent, defeated Bethel township there last Monday, 49 to 35.

Avalon Tough

Avalon has been classed as a pretourney favorite to cop Class B honors. The Section 13 winners have won 23 straight ball games this season and have yet to taste defeat. Beside winning 14-straight in sectional competition, the Avalon crew has vanquished several Class A foes in exhibition matches. A common Class A foe of Wampum and Avalon was New Brighton. The Indians lost 58 to 52, and Avalon beat the same team rather decisively.

Nusz, 6-4, is the biggest man on the Avalon squad. He holds down the center slot and is the ace rebounder. A pair of 6-2 boys, Stewart and Shrewberry, hold forth at forward. These are a pair of good shots who lead the fast break.

Tobin and Mayer, at 5-9, are the guards. Mayer is the best shot on the team and is reputedly able to hit on any kind from anywhere.

Indians Have Support

Avalon's main claim to fame is its depth. Coach Harry Dennison has three good teams which he uses. The coach employs a close-pressing man-to-man all the time no matter what the size of the floor. If one team starts tiring, the second five is substituted and the pressing continues.

Hennon is looking for one of the toughest ball games his boys have played all year but said today that his team would not be beaten until after the final whistle had sounded and the score against them.

Apparently the Redmen will have lots of hometown support. Already five bus loads of tickets have been sold for Wampum followers to make the Dormont trek. The team and many other supporters will go in private cars.

Kid Gavilan Meets Graham

PHILADELPHIA, March 6.—(INS)—Kid Gavilan, rebounding from a surprise defeat in his last outing, takes on Philadelphia's Otis Graham tonight in the Quaker City arena 10-round final as an overwhelming choice.

The Cuban welter, who looked sluggish in his recent upset by New York's Billy Graham, will be out for a win tonight over the Philadelphian of the same name—but unrelated—as a prelude to a second shot at Ray Robinson's title.

The local Graham, however, is no setup, and can throw harder punches—although not as many—as Gavilan.

Jack Burke Wins St. Pete Open

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 6.—(INS)—Jack Burke, Jr., 27-year-old White Plains, N. Y., pro golfer, was $2,000 richer today by virtue of his first place triumph in the St. Petersburg open tournament.

Burke, a native of Houston, Tex., shot a 69 yesterday in the final 18 holes of the 72-hole tournament to wind up with a 12-under-par total of 272.

Baseball's chronic AWOL—Jerry Scala—will get his third chance to become a major league player this spring.

Harvard Coach

LLOYD P. JORDAN, former Amherst college gridiron mentor, has been named head football coach of Harvard university, succeeding Art Valpey, resigned to take the Connecticut college coaching job.

AZA Tops Sampson In Junior Church

AZA defeated Sampson Street Alliance, 27 to 24, Saturday in the top attraction in the Junior Church league.

Both these clubs had won and lost two in the first two rounds of league play and had identical records of three and one for the current series.

The winners led, 13 to 12, at half time and forged a 23-to-18 lead at the end of the third period. Ace Phil Greenberg fouled out and the Sampson street crew was still in the ball game but couldn't overcome the deficit.

Greenberg, D. Nixon and Krakover led the AZA scorers. The Phillips brothers connected for 23 of Alliance's 24 points.

Other results Saturday: First Presby 32, Central Presby 10; First Baptist 33, Croton 12; Second U. P., 37, First Christian 24; First Methodist 32, Epworth 18; Third U. P. 15, St. George 14.

Two Exciting Games Tonight

Hank A.C. Battles Morellas, Mt. Jackson Vs. East Brook

East Brook Boosters meet the Mt. Jackson Indies at 7:30, and the Hank A.C. meets Morellas at 8:30 in semi-final games of the Optimist tournament at the George Washington junior high school floor tonight.

The Boosters have defeated the Shenango Y and K. Pulaskis in the tournament to earn their way into the semi-finals. The Indies have knocked off the New Castle Business college and the Wampum Merchants.

Hank A.C. has defeated the Bessemer and Princeton to gain a place in the semi-finals, while the Morellas have topped the Polish Falcons and the Ecclesians.

Winners of these two games will meet Tuesday night for the championship. Losers will meet Tuesday night in a consolation game.

TOURNAMENT NOTES

Frannie Webster, Mt. Jackson high school coach, played a great game for the Mt. Jackson Indies against the Wampum Merchants Saturday night . . . Webster scored most of his 16 points during the first half. During the second half Wampum put Frank Procopio on Fran and the ex-Wampum high school ace guarded the Mounty coach like a leach . . . This Hank A.C.-Morella clash tonight looks like one of the games of the year . . . Both teams boast terrific records . . . The Mt. Jackson-East Brook game might even be better.

Shenango Y Tops Pittsburgh Team

Shenango Y defeated the Grace Memorial team of Pittsburgh 67-41 Saturday night at the Central YMCA.

Joe Lane, George Washington junior high school star, led both teams in scoring with 20 points, Taylor was next high for the "Y" with 11.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

FORTY-SIX THOUSAND six hundred and two 'bucks' were legally shot, surpassing all pre-season estimates by the Pennsylvania Game Commission, according to Carl A. Rogan, I.N.S. outdoors scribe. He reports the commission says that 84,121 antlerless deer were killed. Here are some other facts:

In the last 10 seasons, 624,343 deer have been legally killed in the state, or almost half the number slain since 1915. The only buck kill surpassing the one last season was the 49,106 in 1939.

More than 171,000 antlerless deer were shot in 1938, a record take.

Black bears killed in 1949 were 411; 388 were killed in 1948.

The small and upland game seasons last year equalled the 1948 season, more than 3,400,000 game animals being listed as slain.

More than 342,000 Ringnecks were taken or 80,000 more than in 1948.

The Ruffed Grouse showed an increase of 12,000 over 1948, more than 36,300 being shot in 1949.

Other game kill estimates by the Game Commission are:

Snowshoe Hares 5,948; Hungarian Partridges 92; Squirrels 578,267; Raccoons 81,007; Wild Turkeys 6,885; Quail 5,181; Woodcock 26,748; Rails, Gallinules and Coots 6,041; Wild Waterfowl 59,103; Woodchucks 265,135 and Doves 10,840.

The account says that "there was a slight increase in the number of rabbits that went into the game bags, when about '1,860' were killed. Apparently it should have read 1,380,000.

Pugilistic endeavor of the Lions club at Ellwood City, was an abbreviated whirl, only 34 minutes actual 'fighting time' being required for the five bouts. Billy Pozza's terrific attack, as soon as the first bell sounded, finished Johnny Clements in two minutes. . . . Fresh water fishing license sales broke all records for a 12-months period during the fiscal year ending in June when 15,478,570 were sold. Gross revenue of $32,657,940, also is in an all-time high. According to hunting and fishing enthusiasts more money is expended for those sports than any other sport. . . . Forty-seventh annual American Bowling Congress championship tournament opens April 15, at Columbus, O. A total of 5,109 teams have entered the meet. Of this number 3,524 are regular teams and the remainder are boosters. There are 11,155 two-man teams and 22,393 singles, entered. In the All-Events division, 17,982 bowlers will participate.

Rochester Wins, Lakers Defeated

(By International News Service)

The Rochester Royals, in second place in the central division of the National Basketball Association, trail the Minneapolis Lakers by only one game today. This is the result of their 65 to 60 victory over Fort Wayne last night while the pace-setting Lakers were losing to Syracuse.

Syracuse, the eastern leader, stamped itself the classiest team in the enitre circuit by trouncing the Lakers 84 to 75.

Andersons Win

The sizzling race in the western division stayed hot when the leading Anderson Packers downed the Chicago Stags 89 to 73 and the second-place Indianapolis Olympians, only two points behind the Packers in the standings, topped the Sheboygan Redskins 92 to 87.

Big Alex Groza scored 31 points for Indianapolis.

Other results: St. Louis 71, Philadelphia 67, and Tri-City 91, Denver 80.

Doomed Man Is Baptized In River

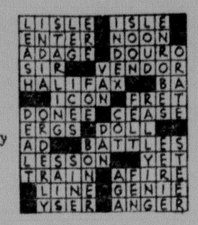

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 6. — (INS) — A 26-year-old prisoner who is scheduled to die April 14 said he is "fully prepared" and not "afraid of anything now," following baptismal ceremonies in the ic waters of a Charleston creek.

The Reverends Samuel C. Graley and Byrl Frye of the Free Salvation Baptist church immersed Harry Burdette before a crowd of about 500 people yesterday.

Burdette, the father of three children, received the death sentence after he was convictd of kicking to death soft drink salesman Edward C. O'Brien last July 30 in Charleston.

It took 21 years for Noah Webster to compile and publish his American Dictionary.

Rochester Wins, Lakers Defeated

(By International News Service)

The Rochester Royals, in second place in the central division of the National Basketball Association, trail the Minneapolis Lakers by only one game today. This is the result of their 65 to 60 victory over Fort Wayne last night while the pace-setting Lakers were losing to Syracuse.

Syracuse, the eastern leader, stamped itself the classiest team in the enitre circuit by trouncing the Lakers 84 to 75.

Andersons Win

The sizzling race in the western division stayed hot when the leading Anderson Packers downed the Chicago Stags 89 to 73 and the second-place Indianapolis Olympians, only two points behind the Packers in the standings, topped the Sheboygan Redskins 92 to 87.

Big Alex Groza scored 31 points for Indianapolis.

Other results: St. Louis 71, Philadelphia 67, and Tri-City 91, Denver 80.

Doomed Man Is Baptized In River

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 6. — (INS) — A 26-year-old prisoner who is scheduled to die April 14 said he is "fully prepared" and not "afraid of anything now," following baptismal ceremonies in the ic waters of a Charleston creek.

The Reverends Samuel C. Graley and Byrl Frye of the Free Salvation Baptist church immersed Harry Burdette before a crowd of about 500 people yesterday.

Burdette, the father of three children, received the death sentence after he was convictd of kicking to death soft drink salesman Edward C. O'Brien last July 30 in Charleston.

It took 21 years for Noah Webster to compile and publish his American Dictionary.

fore but they seemed to have no effect.

"As I entered her room on the morning of December 4, I passed Dr. (Albert) Snay, who was coming out," Dr. Sander related. "He shrugged his shoulders and said something to the effect, 'She's gone.' (Dr. Snay had examined the woman at the request of a nurse but could find no pulse beat.)

Appearance of Being Dead

Dr. Sander was asked what was Mrs. Borroto's appearance as he came into the room to see her for what proved to be the last time.

"She gave the appearance of being dead," testified Dr. Sander. "Her face was pale and drawn. Her eyes were open and directed to the ceiling.

"I took her wrist in my fingers to get a pulse. Her hand was cold. There was no pulse.

"I asked Miss (Elizabeth) Rose, (the nurse), for a stethoscope. I bared the patient's chest. I applied the stethoscope. I couldn't hear anything. There was no heart sound, no breath sound.

"In my opinion she was dead at that time."

The intellectual-looking, 41-year-old doctor then said "something snapped" in his mind. That he felt "impelled" to do something. So he called for a syringe, inserted a needle and gave the patient the air injections.

"I never had any intent to kill," he repeated.

"Did you ever make an agreement with anyone to kill Mrs. Borroto?" he was asked.

"I did not," he replied in a loud, clear voice.

The Bureau of the Budget was established by an act of Congress, passed June 10, 1921, under President Harding.

New York Stocks

Stock Prices Make Gains

NEW YORK, March 6.—(INS)—Stock prices pushed ahead fractionally in quiet trading today. Though the coal strike settlement was a bullish influence, it failed to attract any noteworthy buying.

First hour volume approximated 370,000 shares.

Issues of coal carrying railroads were higher in fairly active dealings. Pennsylvania and N. Y. Central competed for volume honors at slightly higher levels. Autos opened strong but tended to taper toward the close of the first hour. Oils, chemicals and utilities were firm. Consolidated Vultee was prominent on the downside, reacting nearly a point to 13.

Chicago grains and N. Y. cotton were reactionary in opening trades. Bonds and curb shares were steady.

Clen-Moore P.T.A. Plans Scout Event

Members of the Clen-Moore Parent-Teachers Association will meet Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the school building.

Mrs. Fred Jenkins, program chairman, has announced that the brownies, Girl Scouts, cubs and Boy Scouts will each have a separate part in the evening's program, showing what work is done in each group.

Asks When Retired City Employes Will Now Receive Checks

Mrs. Julia Wilson, representing Frank Connors, retired member of the garbage collection department of the city, today appeared before, and inquired of city council, in the municipal building when pensioners would receive their checks.

"I cannot tell you. The matter is now in court," Mayor John F. Haven replied.

NURSES CAPPED AT CEREMONIES HERE ON SUNDAY

cance of the capping ceremony, stated that it marks the first milestone in the career of the nurse and that it is an indication that the faculty of the school of nursing approves the promotion of the student from the pre-clinical phase of her nursing education to that of the clinical.

In preparing the students in the school of nursing every effort is made to have them recognize the need for the care of the patient as an individual and having that care embrace not only the physical and mental needs of the patients, but the spiritual needs as well.

The young woman who chooses nursing as a career must be imbued with the spirit of Christ-like charity in order that she may unfalteringly administer to the needs of her patients. It is important that the nurse spiritualize her nursing and in so doing she will see Christ in every patient, she will see her patient as one made according to the image and likeness of God. A nursing career based on the ideals of Christian charity will undoubtedly lead to ultimate success.

Candle Ceremony

The impressive candlelighting ceremony followed, with Miss Edna Buckley, R. N., a member of the graduating nursing staff, representing the Alumnae association, in charge of lighting the candles. A voice then recited "The Spirit of Nursing".

A brief musical intermission took place and John G. Calderbank sang two selections, "The Blind Plowman", by Robert Coningsby Clarke, and "Golden Days", by Sigmund Romberg. He was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Frances Colao.

Rev. Fr. John A. O'Rourke, chaplain of the New Castle hospital, delivered the principal address.

The subject of his talk was the problem of pain and the quality of mercy, two things closely associated with the nurse in her care of the sick. The problem of pain deserves attention since it is a contemporary subject of concern. "There are two extremes in the matter of pain, both of which are un-Christian. The first is the determination to avoid it at all costs as something evil and the other seeing pain as something good in itself, so that all attempts to alleviate it are considered wrong. Such extremes fail to see the value of pain and overlook the redemption of Christ. The Christian position is neither of these. It accepts pain as something that can be used as a means, the result of evil in the world, which can be turned into something valuable. The pain of the world is not the final thing just as Christ's sufferings were not final. After the Cross comes the revelations of God's love and mercy. In the problem of pain it is the duty of the nurse to see this herself and then pass it along to those who are suffering, turning perhaps a purgatory into a joy.

"The nurse is often an angel of mercy." Shakespeare calls mercy a quality "that is not strained, it falleth as a gentle rain from heaven," free from all bounds as reserves. It makes the earth fertile and causes it to bring forth the flowers and fruits. Christianity places mercy among the eight beatitudes. "Blessed are the merciful because they shall obtain mercy." A Christian nurse thinks and works with that in mind and makes her whole life as a nurse an expression and a channel for the practice of mercy. It is her special vocation and becomes her as a woman. It is woman, as the gentle sex, whose duty it is to let mercy rain on the ambitious and blind mind of man. For a nurse this means letting the gentle rain of mercy fall upon friends, family and even strangers. Her reward is mercy in return and more. Mercy enlarges the heart and where there is that there is joy and happiness. And if the doctors here present will excuse my saying so . . . this is what the world needs . . . an enlarged heart.

Reception Follows

"Thanks Be to God," by A'Reilly-Dickson, was the chorus selection of the class of 1952 sung at this time, and benediction by Father Hoppel and the recessional brought the ceremonies to a close.

A reception for 400 guests was held in the nurses' home parlor, with friends and relatives of the newly-capped student nurses attending.

tary aid to France, a program the Communists openly have avowed to oppose.

Reduces Services

The Paris subway and bus strike reduced public transit service to a snail's pace though 70 busses and numerous military and private vehicles operated to take care of the heavy passenger load.

The transport strike was reported spreading to Marseille, Clermont-Ferrand and Mulhouse.

Meanwhile, the Communist-led General Confederation of Labor ordered textile workers in Lyons to quit work today and observers said a strike of Paris gas and electricity workers may come Thursday.

French dock workers who staged a 24-hour work-stoppage Saturday in what was described as a "dress rehearsal" of the Communist blockade of U. S. arm shipments, returned to their jobs today except in Marseille where the stevedores voted to stay out indefinitely.

The assembly session, meanwhile, raged on throughout the night and shortly after 10 a. m. (4 a. m., EST), a recess was called until 12:01 a. m. Wednesday, the Communist deputies marched out of the assembly hall singing the Marseillaise.

The vote of confidence on Bidault's government is expected to take place in the early hours when the legislature reconvenes.

Several Reports Of Burglaries In City

Considerable damage was caused at the CIO hall, South Jefferson street, which was entered by burglars Saturday night. Cabinets and drawers were pried open with instruments found by the burglars in the building. The damage was discovered at 8:10 a. m. Sunday.

Several business places were also entered during the week end, according to reports made to city police.

Lew Deluria, Texaco station, 805 Moravia street, reported $20 was stolen from the station. The burglars broke a glass in a door to enter the structure. The burglary occurred Saturday night.

Lawrence County Farm Bureau Co-Operative association, 416 Sampson street, was entered. The burglars pried open a window to enter the warehouse. The entry was made March 5 night. So far as reported, nothing was found missing.

Greenville Dairy store, 33 South Jefferson street, was entered but so far as known nothing was stolen. A lock on a door was broken to permit the burglars to enter.

City P.T.A. Council Will Meet Tonight

City council of Parent-Teachers' Association will meet at the senior high school tonight at 8:30 o'clock.

All presidents, principals, and representatives who were present at the initial meeting at the Rose Avenue school are asked to be present. Several state P. T. A. officials will be present for the meeting. Council by-laws will be decided upon during the discussion.

Elmer H. Menger Given Promotion

Elmer H. Menger, 2507 North Mercer street, local representative of the General Tire and Rubber Co., Akron, O., has been named as the Buffalo branch manager of the tire company during recent company promotions it has been announced.

Menger has been with the company since 1922 and has served in virtually all phases of the sales from territory salesman to store manager. He previously operated out of Buffalo.

Holstein Breeders To Meet Tuesday

Holstein breeders of the local area will be interested in a meeting planned for Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the offices of the Beaver County Agricultural Extension Association, in the court house at Beaver, Pa.

The meeting will be addressed by Jack Fairchild, secretary of the Pennsylvania Holstein Association.

DRIVES WITHOUT LICENSE

Policeman Patsy Rozzi swore to an information before Alderman J. C. Brice Sunday against William Fleo, Huron avenue. He was charged with driving a car without having his operator's or owner's licenses. The arrest grew out of an accident in which Fleo's car was allegedly involved with a car driven by A. P. Laurel, East Reynolds street, at Long avenue and Moravia street at 10:10 p. m. Sunday.

FALLS DOWN STAIRS

William Delfosse, aged 23 years, of 124 N. Mulberry street, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital at 2:40 p. m., Sunday, for a laceration of the scalps, received in a fall down a flight of stairs at his home.

TWO-YEAR PACT SENDS MINERS BACK TO WORK

have followed the pattern set by the bituminous coal industry.

Surprise element in the final signing of the soft coal agreement late Sunday was the unexpected reappearance of the southern mine operators.

Although they had not taken part in previous negotiations, they did participate in the Sunday sessions and then signed the contract along with the western and northern operators.

This leaves only the 72,000 hard coal diggers in Pennsylvania on a three-day week.

Ends Long Controversy

The signing of the soft coal contract ends a month-long strike of the soft coal diggers and a 10-month wrangle over its structure by Lewis and the operators.

The new pact represents a compromise.

While the operators granted a 70-cent-a-day wage boost and increased their welfare royalty fund from 20 to 30 cents on each ton of coal mined, Lewis surrendered:

1. The controversial clause of the old contract under which the miners would work only when "willing and able".

2. The clause which permitted "memorial" holidays of unspecified length. The new contract limited holidays to five a year.

Runs To June 30, 1952

The new contract is effective at once and runs until June 30, 1952.

But it can be terminated on 30 days notice by either party on or after April 1, 1951. George H. Love, chief spokesman for the northern and western operators, said he hoped the new contract "will do away with coal strikes in the future," adding:

"This two and one-half year contract gives the industry its first real opportunity for stability in the last decade.

"After this battle, with all its hardships to everyone concerned, I don't believe anyone is going to be anxious for another one soon and I hope that from this contract will come such mutual understanding that we will do away with coal strikes in the future."

Settles Welfare Fund Controversy

Lewis has constantly battled with the operators over their choice of Charles I. Dawson, Louisville, Ky., attorney, as operators' trustees on the fund's board of trustees.

The new contract calls for this set-up.

Lewis to represent the miners, Charles A. Owens of the Imperial Coal company of New York as operators' trustees and Josephine Roche, who has been director of the fund, as neutral trustee.

Operators who have withheld welfare payments for the last month must make these contributions immediately.

Other terms of the contract retain the eight-hour-day, five-day week and the union shop.

and national wellbeing, my ministers will not hesitate to submit them to parliament even though they may seem likely to prove contentious."

His 1,000-word speech did nothing to alter the prospect for a new election which political observers said is a foregone conclusion within six months because of the slim majority held by the Laborites in Commons.

Almost Equally Matched

The ceremony, staged with prewar pomp and color, marked the seating of the almost equally matched Labor and Conesrvative parties in the new parliament elected in the February 25 balloting.

Scarlet-robed peers filled the Lords chamber in the House before the ceremony. Peeresses were attired in family jewels, recalling the splendor of pre-war openings in contrast to the drab opening in 1945 when the war still raged.

The king, apart from his oblique comment on the present parliamentary situation, delivered one of the mildest and shortest parliamentary speeches in years.

It clearly showed that the Socialists are dong everything possible to avoid any showdown on legislation which might jeopardize the tenure.

Survey of Foreign Affairs

The first half of the king's speech was devoted as usual to a survey of foreign affairs. He said:

"The government will continue to give full support to the United Nation, for it is only through this effective system that the security of world peace can be assured.

"In particular they will use their utmost endeavors through the United Nations to assist in finding a durable solution to the tremendous problem of atomic energy so that international agreement for adequate control and supervision of production of atomic energy may be secured."

The king spoke of the dollar shortage which has confronted Britain and "again has been eased by generous help from the United States and Canada".

He said the government will maintain the closest relations with the North Atlantic Pact nations and those who signed the Brussels treaty. He said the government will play "their due part in strengthening the common means of defense and will continue to take all necessary steps to ins fore but they seemed to have no effect.

DOCTOR GIVES TESTIMONY IN 'MERCY KILLING'

"As I entered her room on the morning of December 4, I passed Dr. (Albert) Snay, who was coming out," Dr. Sander related. "He shrugged his shoulders and said something to the effect, 'She's gone.' (Dr. Snay had examined the woman at the request of a nurse but could find no pulse beat.)

Appearance of Being Dead

Dr. Sander was asked what was Mrs. Borroto's appearance as he came into the room to see her for what proved to be the last time.

"She gave the appearance of being dead," testified Dr. Sander. "Her face was pale and drawn. Her eyes were open and directed to the ceiling.

"I took her wrist in my fingers to get a pulse. Her hand was cold. There was no pulse.

"I asked Miss (Elizabeth) Rose, (the nurse), for a stethoscope. I bared the patient's chest. I applied the stethoscope. I couldn't hear anything. There was no heart sound, no breath sound.

"In my opinion she was dead at that time."

The intellectual-looking, 41-year-old doctor then said "something snapped" in his mind. That he felt "impelled" to do something. So he called for a syringe, inserted a needle and gave the patient the air injections.

"I never had any intent to kill," he repeated.

"Did you ever make an agreement with anyone to kill Mrs. Borroto?" he was asked.

"I did not," he replied in a loud, clear voice.

The Bureau of the Budget was established by an act of Congress, passed June 10, 1921, under President Harding.

New York Stocks

Stock Prices Make Gains

NEW YORK, March 6.—(INS)—Stock prices pushed ahead fractionally in quiet trading today. Though the coal strike settlement was a bullish influence, it failed to attract any noteworthy buying.

First hour volume approximated 370,000 shares.

Issues of coal carrying railroads were higher in fairly active dealings. Pennsylvania and N. Y. Central competed for volume honors at slightly higher levels. Autos opened strong but tended to taper toward the close of the first hour. Oils, chemicals and utilities were firm. Consolidated Vultee was prominent on the downside, reacting nearly a point to 13.

Chicago grains and N. Y. cotton were reactionary in opening trades. Bonds and curb shares were steady.

Clen-Moore P.T.A. Plans Scout Event

Members of the Clen-Moore Parent-Teachers Association will meet Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the school building.

Mrs. Fred Jenkins, program chairman, has announced that the brownies, Girl Scouts, cubs and Boy Scouts will each have a separate part in the evening's program, showing what work is done in each group.

Asks When Retired City Employes Will Now Receive Checks

Mrs. Julia Wilson, representing Frank Connors, retired member of the garbage collection department of the city, today appeared before, and inquired of city council, in the municipal building when pensioners would receive their checks.

"I cannot tell you. The matter is now in court," Mayor John F. Haven replied.

cance of the capping ceremony, stated that it marks the first milestone in the career of the nurse and that it is an indication that the faculty of the school of nursing approves the promotion of the student from the pre-clinical phase of her nursing education to that of the clinical.

In preparing the students in the school of nursing every effort is made to have them recognize the need for the care of the patient as an individual and having that care embrace not only the physical and mental needs of the patients, but the spiritual needs as well.

The young woman who chooses nursing as a career must be imbued with the spirit of Christ-like charity in order that she may unfalteringly administer to the needs of her patients. It is important that the nurse spiritualize her nursing and in so doing she will see Christ in every patient, she will see her patient as one made according to the image and likeness of God. A nursing career based on the ideals of Christian charity will undoubtedly lead to ultimate success.

Candle Ceremony

The impressive candlelighting ceremony followed, with Miss Edna Buckley, R. N., a member of the graduating nursing staff, representing the Alumnae association, in charge of lighting the candles. A voice then recited "The Spirit of Nursing".

A brief musical intermission took place and John G. Calderbank sang two selections. "The Blind Plowman", by Robert Coningsby Clarke, and "Golden Days", by Sigmund Romberg. He was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Frances Colao.

Rev. Fr. John A. O'Rourke, chaplain of the New Castle hospital, delivered the principal address.

The subject of his talk was the problem of pain and the quality of mercy, two things closely associated with the nurse in her care of the sick. The problem of pain deserves attention since it is a contemporary subject of concern. "There are two extremes in the matter of pain, both of which are un-Christian. The first is the determination to avoid it at all costs as something evil and the other seeing pain as something good in itself so that all attempts to alleviate it are considered wrong. Such extremes fail to see the value of pain and overlook the redemption of Christ. The Christian position is neither of these. It accepts pain as something that can be used as a means, the result of evil in the world, but which can be turned into something valuable. The pain of the world is not the final thing just as Christ's sufferings were not final. After the Cross comes the revelations of God's love and mercy. In the problem of pain it is the duty of the nurse to see this herself and then pass it along to those who are suffering, turning perhaps a purgatory into a joy.

The nurse is often an angel of mercy. Shakespeare calls mercy a quality "that is not strained, it falleth as a gentle rain from heaven," i. e., it is free from all bounds as reserves. It makes the earth fertile and causes it to bring forth the flowers and fruits. It
